Ladies Gather In Style; Observe 54th Founder's Day

Some of the sorors who gathered at Martin's West on Sunday for the Zeta Phi Beta sorority's 54th Founder's Day celebration are (front row from left): Mesdames Nellie A. Buchanan, Mary E. Fields, Arizonia C. Stemmons, founder; Mary B. Hurt, Catherine C. Neal. Back row from left; Mesdames Bernice Shorter, Frances P. Johnson, Alice Hill, Emma Dudley, Doris J. Johnson, Patricyia Faulcon, Helen Patterson, Eva Dowd, Beatrice H. Hall, Jane Harrison, Nathalia M. Roberts, LaKeesa Smith and Naomi Jones.

In observance of their 54th Annual Founders Day the ladies of Alpha Zeta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. hosted an evening of delight at Martin's West.

Guests gathered on Sunday evening gowned in floral prints and sequins, and pantsuits of rainbow colors escorted by their male counterparts in tailored suits and tuxedos of velvet.

The affair was highlighted by a drawing for a pair of fur hot pants which went to a lucky ticket holder. Mitchel furs were modeled by sorors and their husbands and a special Zeta mini-exhibit displayed pictures from the Zeta Educational Center and pictures of meritorious Sorors Angie McClain, Eleanor Colvin, Althea Cornish, Alice Hall, Isolene Crowner, Elizabeth Demby and Patricia Mack.

Scrapbooks on exhibit came from the Nu Gamma and Gamma Chapters from Coppin and Morgan State Colleges, respectively and the I.Z. Youth Group of Zeta and Alpha Zeta Chapters, the graduate chapter of Baltimore whose scrapbook won first place in the Atlantic Regional Conference. The scrapebook was designed by Soror Naomi J. Jones, antapokritis.

The beautiful affair also included remarks from the Alpha Zeta Chapter Basileus, Mary E. Filedd, and chairlady of the affair, Soror Elizabeth F. Johnson and one of the sorority's five founders, Soror Arizona Cleaver Stemmons. She is also president emeritus of the sorority.

Other special guests from the national and regional areas were from Philadelphia, Soror Nellie Buchanan, past Grand Basileus, Soror Mary B. Hurt, Atlantic Regional Director, Soror Catherine Neal, Associate Regional Director.

Founders Day Committee members included: Sorors Eleanor Colvin, Althea Cornish, co-chairperson, Isolene Crowner, Sandra East, Mary Frazier, Goldia Ford, Alice Hall, Helen Patterson, Betsy Simon, LaRessa Smith and Elizabeth F. Johnson, chairlady.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority was organized at Howard University on January 16, 1920, as a result of the encouragement given five founders by two members of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, who felt that the campus would profit by the development of such an organization as sisters of the fraternity.

As a result, Sorors Arizoa Cleaver, Viola Tyler, Myrtle Tyler, Pearl Neal and Fannie Pettie became the founders of Zeta Phi Beta. All five founders are living.

It was the idea of the founders that the sorority would reach college women in all parts of the country who were sorority-minded and desired to follow the ideal of finer womanhood that Zeta Phi Beta had established.

There are now more than 300 undergraduate and graduate chapters divided into nine regions, with honorary members of renown, and the strength and means to contribute to the encouragement working for the betterment of communities and the world.

Zeta Phi Beta was the first Greek-letter college sorority organized in Africa. In 1948, Delta Iota Zeta Chapter, a graduate Chapter and Upsilon Beta Chapter, an undergraduate chapter established a group in Liberia. Since that time many Liberian women have joined the sorority and have spread to Sierra Leone and Nigeria, demanding the adding of a ninth region for West Africa.

Saturday Party Helps Lady

By Marie Murphy Phillips Cooke
AFRO Women's Editor

A week-long assignment in New York City prevented this writer from attending a function which will not hardly be forgotten. Some 100 young swingers say the party was "outta sight" and given for a worthy cause. It was a benefit for Ms. Sheila Irving (Carpenter) who is confined to Sinai Hospital following major surgery. Proceeds from the affair, hosted by her cousin, Miss Sandy Kess in the clubhouse at Town and Country Apartments on Saturday, will help pay her medical expenses.

Probably one of the most talked about parties held a few weeks back was hosted by Mesdames Gladys Roberts and Beulah Westcott in the beautifully decorated lounge of the Town and Country Club.

Guests feasted from a smorgasbord of succulent meats, seafood and salads complemented with continuous music. Gifts were exchanged and dancing went on into the wee hours of the morning. Next helping their wives that evening were hosts, Walter Wright and Eugene Westcott. Mrs. Carolyn Brown was here from New York City.

Guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Edward Brown, George Butler, Edward Peck, George Peck, William Tonkins and Alfred Williams.

Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Parker, William Dorsey, Douglas France, Delroy wright, William Smith, Ralph Johnson.

Mesdames Louise Edwards, Juanita Rogers, Margie Wilson, Connie Brent, Tony Brent, Catherine Beard, Elizabeth Roan.

Messrs. Robert Winder, Harry Hill, Robert Murdock, Clayton James, John Garret and Samuel Clamons.

Have a nice day!

A "Hello" Gathering

It was a jovial group that gathered at the Braddish Ave. home of the Charles Michaels (Emma) on the first day of the year.

Highlight of the day were the delicious soul food dishes for which Mrs. Michaels is famous.

About were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Samuel T. Daniels, Maurice Stokes, Drs. and Mesdames Maurice Adams, Simon Carter, Mesdames Ruth Jennifer, Stephen Harris and John Richardson;

Mrs. Delores Briscoe and her father, Nathaniel Woods, and Miss Juanita Miller.

Sunday Brunchers

The Sunday Brunchers met Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stokes (Marita).

Members about were Messrs. and Mesdames Howard Murphy, A. Paul Moss, Samuel T. Daniels, Raymond Carpenter and Dr. and Mrs. Simon Carter.

Guests who joined them for supper included Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Michael, Kenneth Wilson, Raymond Hayebert, Mrs. Alice Pinderhughes and Dr. Bernard Harris Jr.

Women

Evening with the Gardeners

The For-Win-Ash Gardeners recently spent a lovely evening at the Springdale Ave. home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Grost.

The lavishly catered affair began at 8 p.m. with cocktails and tasty finger foods. Striking indeed, were the colorful outfits members and guests wore that night adding splendor to the elegant decor of the home.

Following the social hour guests dined on a delectable meal preceeded by dancing and card playing.

About were:

Drs. and Mesdames Gilbert Banfield, Douglass Camper, and Messrs and Mesdames John Maguire, Albert Wright, Harold Kent, George Harding and Emmuel Lewis.

Also, Messrs. and Mesdames Avon Rawlings, Charles Robinson, Eddie Cunningham and Mesdames Wrenty Payne, Ethel Cox, James Crowner, Webster Kendrick and Frank Veney.

And, Mesdames Juanita Young, Myrtle Lee and Misses Carrie Johnson, Nellie Buchanan and Dr. Herbert Frisby and Leroy Lewis.

Star of the family when Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Shelton (Alice) entertained at a lovely party at their Cedric Rd. home was their 19 month old daughter, Stephanie Denise, shown here with her mother. The Sheltons also have a son, Darryl Stanley, 16. (AFRO Photo by Moss)

Columbia Capers

By Pinnie L. Ross

It was like a family reunion Saturday, as former members and newcomers met to attend an Urban League Guild interest meeting. The highly informative meeting was held in the Mondawmin Urban League office in Baltimore.

The charming hostess for the meeting was energetic Mrs. Edna DeC. Johnson, who for the past ten years has directed the Consumer Division for the local league and also is a staff advisor to the new guild. She was quite busy serving each person cocktails and passing the hasty hors d'oeuvre platters around before the meeting.

There were several former guild members at the meeting. One was the lovely Mrs. Esther S. Vines, a Columbia resident; another was handsome and talented Clegg Blackwell; also Mrs. Ophelia Bell, past president.

Special guest for the gathering was the Eastern regional coordinator of the Council of Urban League Guilds, Mrs. Ruth M. Johnson of Philadelphia. She told the attentive group how they should go about organizing the guild. She added, "The Guild is primarily a supporting arm of the local league, and you must have a desire to work first of all.

"Your job will be an easy one as long as you know who the hoss is." (She was speaking of Mr. Travis Vaula, who is the executive director of the Baltimore League). "But you must know his program and how you can work with him." She continued to say that the guild can be the sounding board and the projector, and you must know what's in your city. If you

MARTINQUES, INC. — Mrs. Irene Harris hosted the Jan. meeting at the Forest Manor, where she was most charming in an off the shoulder black gown with a beaded flower design on the side and split skirt.

The menu was lovely and served in buffet style, members and guests dined with a musical background.

Members present were: Mesdames Irene Harris, Victorine Adams, Myrtle Thompson, Helen Tucker, Susie Moore, Hester Greenway, Ruth Payzor, Dorothy Wicker, Pearl Bonner, Edna Weldon and Alma Perry.

Guests about were: Messrs. and Mesdames Jeffries Carey, Edward Britton, Jesse Stevenson, Shirley Diggs, Samuel Groves, William Conway, Richard Tyler, Robert Bynum, Pary Lewis, Luther Jackson, Samuel Smith, Theodore Johnson.

Mesdames Susie Graham, Rosebud Chilson, Rosa Oliver, Julie Brown, Miss Brenda Haywood and Messrs. Charles Damon, Fred Weldon, Asbury Rideout, John Tucker, Daniel T. Mason, N.M. Adams, John Johnson, James Bonner Sr., Sherwood Cooper, Kenneth Mason, Little Willie Adams, Harold Hughes, James Phelps.

SMART SET — Members of the club toasted the New Year and welcomed a transfer member when the club met on Saturday at the home of Mrs. Bertha Forte.

The group also made plans for its annual fund-raising drive to benefit a children's charity.

The transfer-member is Mrs. Phyllis Moore, formerly of Chicago, who is making her home in Baltimore. In addition, she is a former national president of the group.

Other members about were: Mesdames Sara Gray, Doris Cole, Alice Pinderhughes, Kay Carter, Theodosia Stokes, Ruth Jennifer, Dorothy Wood, Mabel Byrd, Marie Hicks, Iris Mapp, Carolyn Chisnell and Jackie Watts who was out for the first time, since being released from the hospital where she had been confined for over a month.

Unable to attend were Mesdames
