State correction of check system for aged, blind, disabled urged

The Maryland Conference of Social Concern is urging the state to act now to straighten out the breakdown in the changeover to the federal system of grants to the aged, blind and disabled.

The change was made Jan. 1 and conference spokesmen say that some persons have not been receiving their checks, either because they had not been converted to the new federal system or their checks have been sent to the wrong address.

They say that the replacement period by Social Security is a long one, from 10 to 20 days.

"It is too much to ask of the elderly, the blind and the infirm to wait that long before they receive any money, especially when there is no guarantee that even after waiting they will receive their checks," a conference spokesman said.

In communicating with department chief, David T. Mason, the conference emphasized that "it is the state's responsibility to see to it that these people have some money to live on, and not, as the state has seemed to have decided, to grant Emergency Assistance only in extreme situations, for example, when a house burns to the ground.

"We particularly wish to point out that Governor Mandel himself said, the spokesman went on, "that once the changeover to the federal system took place, no one moving to the federal categories will be any worse off than they are now.

"The fact of the matter is such that it is now up to the state of Maryland to show good faith in the governor's words by helping those people whose very lives may be endangered by the actual inefficiencies of the Social Security Administration and the potential unresponsiveness of the State Department," spokesmen said.

Workday losses in state hits 6 years low

Less than 300 thousand man-days, or .10 per cent of total working time, were lost in work stoppages in Maryland during 1972, the lowest totals in 6 years.

The number of workers involved in work stoppages, 21,000 was over 50 per cent less than the 46,300 idle in 1971, as 14 fewer stoppages began during this year according to Frederick W. Mueller, assistant regional director for the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Baltimore paced the state decrease with 220,400 man-days lost — down over 40 per cent from the previous year. A three month stoppage affecting 1,700 employees at Maryland Shipbuilding and Drydock Company accounted for half of Baltimore's work time lost.

Workers' involvement dropped to 10,800 — one-third of the 1971 total. The number of strikes dropped to 46 from 1971's total of 57.

Nationally 27 million man-days were lost, in strikes, the lowest figure since 1966 and 50 per cent below the 1971 level. The 5,000 stoppages involved 1.7 million workers with the per cent of estimated work time lost totalling .15 compared to .10 for Maryland.

Dr. Cobun named to Voc-Rehab

Dr. John M. Cobun has been appointed to the position of Maryland's assistant state superintendent in Vocational Rehabilitation.

In his new position, Dr. Cobun will be responsible for the administration of the total program of vocational rehabilitation services for the physically and mentally handicapped citizens of the state of Maryland.

Dr. Cobun succeeds J. Leo Delaney who retired at the end of 1973.

Morgan gets U.S. grant

Morgan State College has been awarded a grant of $1,800,000 by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to participate in the Advanced Institutional Development Program from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1978.

According to Cain Felder, director of Federal Relations and Special Projects at Morgan State College, the funds are allocated to provide assistance in the following areas: general institutional long-range planning; curriculum reform; resource development; improving management systems; strengthening student services; community outreach (strengthening the various components of adult basic education); and the continuation of Morgan-Penn (Morgan State College-University of Pennsylvania) Cooperative Project.
