Contraceptive vaccine

The All India Institute of Medical Sciences has developed a vaccine to prevent pregnancy.

Recent experiments had shown that a vaccine prepared from the placenta of one type of rats when given to another type of the same species prevented pregnancy.

Development of many other birth control devices have also been tried.

The latest among these is an oral contraceptive called "Centchromen" which is a non-steroidal pill.

The pill has been developed at the Central Drug Research Institute Lucknow. It has proved effective in preventing conception when taken within four days of coius in animals.

Human trials are now being carried out by the Institute.

Snitching gas by siphon may get you sick

Teenagers syphoning gasoline from other motorists' tanks are getting stomach aches from swallowing the liquid, and other unexpected illnesses from the energy crisis.

Because they are afraid to go get treatment they develop headaches, vertigo, vomiting, nausea, loss of coordination, mental confusion, convulsions and distress in breathing.

However 900 per cent increase in the number of people seeking medical care after swallowing gasoline while siphoning from automobile tanks has been reported.

Dr. Neil Solomon, Maryland Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene, warns of the risks involved in siphoning petroleum fuels.

This large jump in gasoline ingestion occurred Dec. 7, the first weekend that gasoline stations were closed by the new energy regulations.

Nine cases in Baltimore, mostly persons under 20 years of age, were reported by the Center alone, excluding other emergency room and private physician care throughout the State.

December data to date already indicates a 25 per cent increase over the November figures for gasoline poisoning.

Although no fatalities were reported, moderate to severe respiratory problems were treated, all of which were attributed to gas siphoning.

The Secretary advised anyone who must siphon gasoline to use a small mechanical pump, available in many stores, rather than risk fatal poisoning by swallowing only a few ounces of fuel.

He singled out young drivers, particularly, to avoid the risk involved in trying to siphon the last drop of gasoline, since even a small amount of gasoline can cause respiratory infection and pneumonia.

Dr. Solomon asks physicians throughout the State to be on the alert for medical problems associated with such symptoms.

If a mechanical pump is not available during an emergency, a clear plastic tube will allow a person to see the gasoline he is siphoning before it enters his mouth.

Maryland residents who swallow gasoline should seek immediate medical care.

YMCA Names Campaign chairman

Three Baltimore executives have been named district campaign chairmen for the Young Men's Christian Association of the Greater Baltimore area.

The announcement was made by John H. Somerville, general chairman of the 1974 campaign. The YMCA is seeking to enlist 2,797 sustaining members who will contribute $91,600 toward the association's youth work. Mr. Somerville a vice president of the association, and his division chairmen, will head a force of 500 volunteer workers who will solicit members.

The three executives are Albert M. Copp, Elmer L. Bayne and J. Russell Townshend.

Mr. Copp, an executive with Inner Harbor Management Inc., is a sustaining YMCA member.

Mr. Bayne, unit manager of Great West Life Assurance Co., is a former chairman of the board of managers of the North Baltimore YMCA program center.

Mr. Townshend, assistant manager for the Baltimore branch Fidelity and Deposit Co., of Maryland is a member of the YMCA board of directors and executive committee, and a graduate of Athens College in Alabama.

The association operates 12 branches and program centers in Baltimore city and Baltimore, Howard and Carroll counties. Last year, it served almost 50,000 people.

Mr. Somerville said the association's budget — $2-540,000 this year — requires substantial subsidy to keep dues and program fees at a level within reach of most of the community.

Sustaining members contribute at least $25 a year to the association for youth work. The 1974 campaign, which is underway, seeks a 25 per cent increase over last year to help meet rising costs and aid new program development.

B. of E. leaders visit new Ed. Center

Many of the Board of Education's avant-garde were on hand last week for the open house of the new Baltimore Parent-Infant Center for Education, located at Gwynns Falls Junior High School.

The affair, held last Thursday and Friday was attended by several public school officials, including Mrs. Alice Pinderhughes, executive director of Early Education and Dr. Roland N. Patterson, superintendent of Baltimore Public Schools, who was instrumental in the Center's inception.

The Center is designed to prevent intellectual shortages in culturally deprived children by providing early intervention with the help of the parent. The program is based on the assertion that the parent must always be available to the child to assure the child's maximum growth, according to Teacher-in-charge Mrs. Betty Chase.

"We are initiating a new concept in education. It includes not only the child but also the parent, said Mrs. Chase. "The object of the program is to develop the child with the parent present in order to build a better communication between the two," she added.

Dr. Patterson, who first got the idea from reading of a similar program in Milwaukee, says that the 24 member staff has revised the project to suit Baltimore's needs. "If we get results, we hope to set up other centers in the city," said Patterson.

Twenty mothers have been recruited for the program which begins Wed. Jan. 16, 1974. The program also has a bus which pick up the participants daily.

Blount named

Senator Clarence Blount (Dem. 5th) has been reelected to serve a third term as chairman of the Senate Baltimore City delegation.

Gov. Mandel for the first time, will give consideration to making the Martin Luther King birthday a state holiday. He says he will have a committee look into costs to make it a paid holiday for state employees.

DEATH NOTICES — When a loved one dies, you can have your funeral director let your friends know. Simply call AFRO Classified, 728-8200. Death notices accepted up until two hours before publication, noon on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Concert benefits Birthright

"Common Bon," a folk group from the Institute of Notre Dame, will give a Blue Grass concert for the benefit of Birthright of Maryland on Saturday, Jan. 26, from 9 p.m. to midnight at St. Francis Hall, Harford Rd. and Chesterfield Ave.

Birthright is an inter-denominational program that offers women an alternative to abortion.

A telephone counseling center is on N. Charles St. and walk-in and telephone counseling centers at 5602 Baltimore National Pike, the Suburbia Building in Catonsville, and 12 U Crane Highway in Glen Burnie. All the offices may be reached by dialing a hotline number, 323-7444.

A GOOD CITIZEN is registered and prepared to VOTE. Do so TODAY at Supervisors of Elections, People's Court Building, Fayette and Gay Sts. Next election is Sept., 1974. Register from — 8:30 to 4:30 p.m. Mo days through Fridays.
