KEEP A COOL SHOPPING HEAD

There Is Still Good Shopping at Pantry Pride

Last weeks truck strike was the latest in a series of events (wheat shortage, meat shortage, gas shortage) that has disturbed us all and driven food prices to unprecedented levels.

As a food chain built on its reputation for full shelves, and low prices, we are as upset as you by shortages and prices that we know are hard to take. This week meat prices are up again as a result of a supply problem. And there may be some meat shortages as well.

Our advice to you is to be cool. Shop wisely-and we'll see this thing thru together. We are doing every thing we can to bring things back to normal. In a week or so, we hope to see meat supplies go up and prices start down again.

In the mean time; use your ingenuity to plan menus to use lower price foods.

Sincerely:
Herb Carlis
