The full schedule of what's happening in Baltimore for sumer '74 is available from the council located at 102 St. Paul St. Call 727-5693 for more information or dial 752-4656 for a daily update of events.

Felipe flipped

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Felipe Alou, 38, the tldest of the three ball-playing Alou Brothers, has been placed on waivers by the Milwaukee Brewers for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

Morgan quint corrals Severna Park prospects

Morgan State College has announced its first two basketball recruits for 1974-75. Nat Frazier, the Bears' head coach, reveals that he has obtained letters of intent from Jim Gorman and Maurice Jennings, both of Severna Park (Md.) High School.

Gorman and Jennings, two-year regulars, led Severna Park to a 17 and 5 won-lost record this past season.

• • •

Gorman, a second-team All-County selection, averaged 16.1 points per game. Regarded as an outstanding prospect, the 6-4, 165-pounder figures in the Bears' plans both as a forward and a guard. Frazier feels he will be an outstanding backcourt performer because of his ball-handling skills.

Jennings, 6-3, 165, was Severna Park's top scorer the past season, tallying 405 points for 18.4 average. An All-State honorable mention choice, Jennings is considered an outstanding shooter. He fits in the Bears' plans as a "big" guard.

In announcing the signings of these two Severna Park high schoolers, Frazier, whose, whirlwind recruiting travel has taken him to North Carolina, Georgia, and Florida in the last two weeks, is expected to reveal several additional signings over the weekend.

The Morgan coach said that the acquisiiton of Gorman and Jennings, along with the later signings will strengthen the Bears for defense of their NCAA College Division basketball championship.

Bays battle WFL for Brockington

MILWAUKEE, Wisc. (UPI)—Fullback John Brockington said Monday he was "leaning toward" another contract with the Green Bay Packers and would probably come to a decision this weekend.

Brockington, who led the National Football conference in rushing last season with 1,144 yards, has been a prime target of the Chicago Fire of the New World Football League. He has negotiated with both teams but would not discus details of the talks except to say both offered him multi-year pacts.

"I've been doing a lot of hard bargaining," he said. "Right now I'm leaning toward Green Bay. It should be pretty well resolved this week sometime."

Fitness schedule begun at Druid Y

The Druid Hill Unit has begun its spring and summer program with emphasis on aquatic and physical fitness sessions for all ages.

Karate, women's self defense, slimnastics, adult beginning and advanced instructional swim, youth instructional swim, pee wee and pringes aquatic club (for youngsters 4-7 years of age), and the newly designed Lee's Fun Club for youths 8-14 years of age art just some of the activities offered.

Interested persons may call 523-4454 for additional information.

Optimistic Bears head for MEAC track meet

Cheered by success at the Penn Relays last weekend, coach Jesse Thomas and his Morgan State College thinclads are off to Orangeburg, S.C., today for the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) regionals.

The Bears won the IC4-A division of the 440-relay event at Franklin Field last Saturday in a record 40.9 clocking. They also scored a fourth in the featured mile relay, and a fifth in the 120-yard high hurdles in the person of Maurice Raeford.

Coach Thomas indicated early this week that he plans to seek MEAC honors with virtually the same contingent he had at Philadelphia.

The Cook twins—Donald and Ronald—will again team with Gary Hinton and Tony Dempsey as the 440 unit.

Hinton, a product of Edmondson High School, and Dempsey, from DC's Anacostia High, will join Don Cook and Greg Horne for the 880 relay test.

That tandem has been caught in 1:26.2 this season, and Thomas has reason to believe the anticipated better weather and track conditions will enable it to improve on that.

• • •

The mile quartet turned in one of its best efforts of the year, but was no match for the scoring 3:05.3 clicked off by victorious North Carolina Central.

NCC of course, is a MEAC member, but Morgan remains determined to be competitive.

Jimmy Kidd, another young Edmondson product, leads the mile foursome, with Horne, Ronald Cook and Dempsey following in that order.

• • •

Still another former Edmondson star, Robert Riddick, is expected to join William Walden, Jimmy May and Eugene Gumbs to represent the Bears in the sprint medley at S.C. State College.

Raeford could be favored in the fence event since no MEAC hurdler was ahead of him in the field at the Penn Relays.

Thomas and the Bears are slated to compete at Pittsburgh on May 10-11, and in the Terrapin Invitation at College Park, May 19.

Pro-Am Monday at Hobbits Glen

COLUMBIA, Md. — Two of the biggest names in professional golf will be on hand Monday at Hobbits Glen when the field tees off for a benefit pro-am tournament of one day.

Tom Weiskopf and Carol Mann are among the leading all-time money winners on hte PGA and LPGA tours, respectively. They will conduct a clinic at 1 p.m.

The event is being sponsored by the Randallstown (Md.) Jaycees Foundation, for the benefit of the Baltimore Association for Retarded Children.

ENGINEER
Corporate Staff Engineering (New England)

A career at ITT Grinnell means growing with the world's vital industries.

The growth picture at ITT Grinnell is as exciting, dynamic and diversified as the growth picture in power generation, petroleum products, gas transmission, the process industries, municipal and ecological systems, commercial and non-residential construction. These vital industries are set for explosive worldwide growth for decades to come. And, as a major $450 million corporation we play a key role—serving them with strong, innovative capabilities in piping systems engineering, fabrication and erection . . . standard, specialty and custom pipe fittings; advanced research and development.

And the demands continue to grow, not only in volume, but in complexity, performance level and challenge—in every area from design to production to testing.

We are actively seeking personnel for Corporate Staff Engineering positions to assume total project scheduling and budget responsibility for major automation, mechanization, pollution control and plant expansion programs—presently being undertaken at our key manufacturing locations.

Your assignments will be extensive and varied—you'll travel about one third of the time bringing your problem-solving expertise to our multiple plants. Your base location at our Providence, Rhode Island headquarters will bring you uncommonly rewarding living and recreation opportunities.

If your background is in one of the following disciplines, shouldn't we be getting together?

- Maintenance Engineering
- Environmental Engineering
- Product Development Engineering
- Manufacturing Engineering
- Industrial Engineering
- Material Handling
- Quality Control
- Foundry Design & Engineering
- Civil Engineering
- Cost Reduction

Positions are available at both the Junior and Senior levels. Requirements include a degree and from 5 to 10 years of related experience in the above mentioned disciplines. Experience in the metalworking industry is preferred.

LOCAL INTERVIEWS WILL BE ARRANGED.
Send resume, including salary requirements, and indicating specific area of experience, in strictest confidence, to: Mr. B. Jason, ITT Grinnell Co., Inc., 260 West Exchange Street, Providence, R.I. 02901.

Poets praised by national volunteer group

The Poet's Athletic Club Inc., "the unsung heroes of volunteer work," was recently awarded a national service citation for volunteer work with East Baltimore youths throughout the years.

The citation, one of 60 awarded nationally each year by the National Center for Voluntary Action, was presented to representatives last Friday during the Volunteer Recognition Day ceremonies at the Social Security Administration complex. Over 700 groups were considered for the award.

The Poets was founded in 1959 to assist and sponsor more recreation programs for youths in the east Baltimore area. As their name indicates, all of the 30 or so members are Dunbar High School alumni.

Since 1971, the Poets have sponsored the Model Cities/Community Action Agency funded Poets Athletic Clinic. Aside from conducting year-round sports activities, they sponsor Camp Alpha Omega, a summer sports development camp in Carroll County.

Mrs. Mary "Kitty" Smith, director of volunteer programs, Social Security, who nominated the Poets, said, "Most people don't think of blacks as giving but only as receiving. But these men have given their time and money and they are my kind of men."

Mrs. Saralee Farmer, Awards director, National Center for Voluntary Action, told the AFRO: "The Poets were selected from over 700 nominees as exemplifying what groups can do to improve the quality of life in their own community."

NAIA suspends Hawks a year

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) late this week informed Maryland-Eastern Shore athletic officials that the Hawks will not be permitted to compete in any post-season competition for one year.

Suspension of the Princess Anne school by the NAIA stems from the last-minute withdrawal of its basketball team from the association's region tournament in late March.

Maryland, which had been seeded No. 1 in the meet at Kansas City, passed up that event to accept a bid to play in the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) at Madison Square Garden.

• • •

As winners of the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conferenre (MEAC) tourney, the Hawks were assumed to be automatically committed to the NAIA. However, Eastern Shore officials supported head basketball coach John Bates' position that the opportunity to become the first team from a predominately-black college to make the NIT was too good to pass up.

Bates has since resigned the Maryland-Eastern Shore post to accept an offer from Coppin State College in Baltimore.

Eastern Shore athletic director Leon Coursey said the school would make no appeal of the NAIA action.

Cavaliers join Dixie colleges hiring blacks

Apparently won over by the if-you-can't-beat-them-join-them axiom, University of Virginia athletic officials hired a black as assistant basketball coach this week.

He is William C. Cofield, a former coach at Lincoln University, Prairie View and Kentucky State, before serving a year as athletic director and basketball coach at predominately white Racine (Wisc.) University.

• • •

Surrounded by Atlantic Coast Conference teams which have succeeded with black assistant — Maryland, Duke, Wake Forest, etc. — the Cavaliers elected to get one themselves.

Cofield was chosen by new Virginia cage coach Terry Holland, who joined his new aide in denying that the move is designed to focus on the recruitment of black high school stars.

"I view this as a necessary step to achieve my goal . . . to become a head coach at a major university," Cofield said. "I realize this is a calculated risk, that I might be putting my future on the line.

"If I can't get it done, then my future is shot," he said. Cofield disavowed any notion that he is "the great black hope" to end the Cavaliers' tradition of around the .500 mark or several seasons, but has not fared well in the ACC, which has several national powers.
