

Former convictions for violation of law.

county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and his, her or their license shall be revoked, and in default of payment of the fine and costs so imposed the bond herein provided for shall be put to suit for the recovery thereof, and it shall not be necessary in an indictment for said second offense to allege a former conviction under the provisions of this Act, but such former conviction may be proven in the trial for said second offense, or brought to the notice of the court before sentence without such allegation. Any person who shall knowingly procure for or give to an habitual drunkard or to any person of intemperate habits any spirituous or fermented liquors or lager beer in violation of the provisions of this Act shall be subject to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or to imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Any person not a licensee who shall procure for, sell, furnish or give to any person who is a minor or under twenty-one years of age any spirituous or fermented liquor or lager beer shall, upon indictment and conviction, be subject to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or to imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The license of any person who permits minors to frequent, loiter or loaf about his place of business, or disreputable or disorderly persons to make it a customary place of visitation or resort, may at any time on indictment and conviction be revoked by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, and the same person shall not again be granted license under this Act within two years of the time of such revocation. Remonstrances may be filed with the said clerk against any kind of a license at any time after such license has been granted under this act, or any other for the sale of liquor, and as soon thereafter as practicable the court shall set the same down for hearing, notice to which shall be given to the licensee by service of a copy of the order for hearing, and when upon such hearing the court shall, in its discretion, determine that the public welfare and the peace and good order of the community require it, revoke such license, and the person whose license is so revoked shall not again be granted license under this Act within two years from the date of such revocation if the court so orders; provided, however, that when a license is so revoked the licensee shall be entitled to a return of the unearned portion of the license fees paid, and a certified copy

Filing of remonstrances.