St. James celebrates 150th anniversary

For the last 10 months, the members of St. James Episcopal Church have been celebrating the 150th anniversary.

The celebration started on Homecoming Day in September, 1973 and continued with many outstanding services of worship, concerts, programs, church and community projects.

The anniversary celebration came to an end Sunday when 500 members and friends gathered for a banquet at the Alcazar.

Mrs. Anethia B. Williams presided and greetings were extended by Mrs. Barbara Dungee. The church choir under the diciopted on the program direction of A. Muriee Murphy provided music.

The Rt. Rev. Donald O. Wilson, pastor, introduced guest speaker, the Rt. Rev. Paul A. Kellog, retired bishop of Dominican Republic.

St. James Church was organized as an independent parish in 1824. The Rev. Mr. Levington founded St. James and was the first black priest to serve as a missionary of the church in the South.

Among others who participated on the program were Joseph Forrester and Quentin Lawson who represented Mayor Schaefer. Mr. Lawson presented the church with a silver plaque.

Mrs. Agnes Brown and Joseph Wiles acted as chairman of the anniversary celebration. Banquet committee members were Mesdames Jocelyn Baxton, Barbara Dungee, Alma Gray, Hilda Higgins, Elaine Howard, Bernice McDaniels, Constance Neal, Elaine Nickens, Elizabeth Ramsey, Ida Swanson, Carolyn Willis and James Laforest.

Hostesses were Mesdames Brenda Allen, Lynn Anderson, Carolyn Cole, Cherylann Cunningham, Teresa Cunningham, Linda Evans, Karen Forrester, Dianne Hutchins, Charlene McCargo, Lynn Robinson, Janice Sydnor, Juana Wilson, Melagros Wilson and Sylvia Wilson.

Thursday rites for Edgar Warren Lansey

By Betty Moss

Historic Trinity AME Church, Collington Ave. and Hoffman St. in East Baltimore was nearly filled to capacity for the 10 a.m. Thursday last rites for Edgar Warren Lansey Sr.

Mr. Lansey, 53, was principal of the Robert L. Coleman Elementary School, No. 142, at 2201 Walbrook Ave.

He died suddenly at his home on Saturday evening. Although he had been ailing, he had been at his post on Friday and had attended a community meeting at the school on Friday evening.

The Rev. W. K. Woods, minister, officiated at the half hour services. Charles A. Parker was at the organ. Mrs. Bertha Lyles was soloist.

* * *

Member of an old Baltimore family, Mr. Lansey was the son of the late Teackle Wallis Lansey Sr. and Josephine Gaines Lansey. His father, a pioneer Baltimore business man was for many years, owner and operator of the Druid Laundry, located at Druid Hill and Wilson, across the street from the family home.

His mother was the daughter of the late AME Bishop Abraham Lincoln Gaines and Mrs. Minnie Plant Gaines.

The grandfather was a pastor of the same Trinity Church where the funeral was held when he was elevated to the bishopric.

Mr. Lansey was married to the late Mary Gertrude Snowden. She died 5 years ago.

He was graduated with honors from Douglass High School in June, 1937, went on to what was then Coppin Normal School to earn a degree in 1940, received his bachelor's from Morgan State College in 1951.

He continued his graduate studies at Towson State College, Loyola College and the University of Maryland.

Before his promotion to principal of Schoool No. 142, 3 years ago, he had served as assistant principal, special assistant and teacher. His longest term was spent at the old John Hurst School, No. 120.

He had planned to retire July 1, this year when he would have completed 34 years service.

He served in the Army during World War II.

Survivors are seven children. They are, Mrs. Jacqueline Johnson, S/Sgt. Edgar W. Lansey Jr., with the Army in Germany; Miss Angela Lansey, N.Y., Thomas D. Lansey, Pfc. Joseph L. Lansey, Ft. Gordon, Ga., and twins, Frances and John Lansey. Also, three grandchildren, Tamatha, Kevin and Barry Johnson Jr.

Other survivors are four brothers and a sister. They are E. Gaines Lansey, president of Ideal Building and Loan Association; Patrolman J. Edward Lansey, Lincoln G. Lansey, Social Security employee; Alfred D. Lansey, Koppers Co. employee; and Miss Josephine G. Lansey, a city physical education teacher.

Two other brothers died in 1972. They were Teackle and Austin Lansey.

Active pallbearers were, Michael Valentine, Lester Wallace, Wilbur Merchant, James Owens, Frank Phillips Lansey, Wayne A. Lansey, Thomas Clark.

A police escort led the 45-car procession to Arbutus Memorial Park for burial. The Herbert Nutter Funeral Home was in charge.

BURIED — Edgar Warren Lansey Sr., 53, was buried Thursday, following services at Trinity AME Church. He was principal of the Robert W. Coleman Elementary School No. 142.

Summer band concert season program slated

The Bureau of Music announced its 114th season of free outdoor summer band concerts, to be presented in every section of the City, Monday through Friday and Sundays, from June through August. The first Sunday concert will be held on June 9, and will continue each Sunday (except July 28) until Aug. 25 with Baltimore's Big Band concert War Memorial Plaza from 7 to 9 p.m.

The program each Sunday not only will feature the Big Band Sound popularized by Count Basie and Stan Kenton but also will offer modern jazz and selections of contemporary music with a rock beat that run the spectrum from the soul sound to country blues.

The daily series of 18 concerts will begin Monday, June 17 at the Memorial Apartments, 301 McMechen St., 8 p.m. to 10 p.m., Gerald Eyth conducting the Park Concert Band.

Concert Band programs will encompass all musical categories and feature popular and semi-classics, marches and polkas, music from Brosdway shows and motion pictures, and currently popular tunes.

Featured nightly with each concert band will be a guest soloist and an audience participated "Sing Along" of old and current favorites.

After the first Festival of Music to be held at Baltimore Memorial Stadium on Wednesday, July 10, at ducted by Gene Walker in 8 p.m., the second half of the daily summer season will feature 18 concerts with the Municipal Concert Band, conducted by Dr. Leigh Martinet.

His series will culminate in the second Festival of Music to be held at Baltimore Memorial Stadium on Wednesday, Aug. 6, 7, at 8 p.m.

On Friday, Aug. 9, Baltimore's Big Band conducted by Gene Walker will begin a daily series of six contemporary jazz concerts in various locations.

On Monday, Aug. 19, the daily series will continue with nine concerts by the Monumental City Six Dixieland Jazz Band featuring traditional two-beat Dixieland Jazz born on Lower Basin Street.

Audience seating is provided at all of the concerts and full schedules can be obtained from the Bureau of Music by calling 523-4643.

Interfaith church ground breaking Sunday

Groundbreaking for the Oakland Mills Interfaith Center, the second building in Columbia, Md designed specifically to house Catholic, Jewish and Protestant religious groups under one roof, is scheduled for 7 p.m., Sunday, June 9.

Rev. John W. Woodall, Chairman of the House Committee for the Columbia Cooperative Ministry said the ceremony will be held at the building's 6.2 acre site across from the Oakland Mills Village Center.

The $1 million building is set for completion April 1, 1975 and is believed to be the first of its kind in the nation, and possibly, in the world.

The five congregations to share the facility include the Jewish Council of Howard County, the Columbia Baptist Fellowship, St. John's Roman Catholic Church, the Lutheran Church of the Living Word, and the Oakland Mills Uniting Church. A reception will follow the groundbreaking, the public is invited. For information, call 730-1770.

AIRMEN GRADS — Airmen who recently graduated from recruit traning are Ronnie Griffin, Mrs. Audrey Scott and Berlester M. Darden Jr., all of Baltimore. They have completed basic training in organization, customs, mission and human relations.

MCHPA gets $189,000 federal grant

Dr. Neil Solomon, secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene, has announced a $189,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to the Maryland Comprehensive Health Planning Agency.

The funds will be used to establish an additional review system that will determine whether or not proposed new health facilities and services are needed in Maryland communities.

Dr. Solomon said that Federal money will not be granted applicants unless their proposals meet community needs and offer comprehensive services.

3 win citizenship awards

Sharing the top Senior Citizenship Awards for men at the University of Maryland, College Park Campus, this year are Builets' No. 1 choice Leonard Elmore of Springfield Gardens, N.Y., and Theodore Laster, an outstanding student from Baltimore.

Joanne Palmisano of College Park won the women's senior citizenship award named for Sally Sterling Byrd. The men's award is made annually in the name of D. M. C. Byrd, late presiding of the University. His family provides the awards as memorials.

Both awards are granted on the basis of model citizenship and individual efforts towards the general advancement of the University.

Waters AME has nine new trustees

The new trustees of Waters AME Church, 427 Aisquith St. took communion Sunday as part of the installation services.

The Rev. Dr. Melvin Chester Swann, pastor introduced the trustees who are Joseph Berry, Charles Fleming, Mrs. Imogene Douglas, Mrs. Rose Simpson Wendell Wright, Theodore Colclough, Mrs. Nellie Aquilla, Mrs. Arnita Woodlon and Wilbert Smith.

The Rev. Dr. Swann's Sunday sermon was taken from 10th chapter of Mark, as he stated "And immediately he received his sight and followed Jesus.

The Rev. Dr. Swann told the worshippers, "Physical blindness is often used in the Bible as a symbol of spiritual blindness. Many people in the church are spiritually blind. They are not able to lean upon God. We have more faith in our doctors than we do our God.

The Rev. Dr. Swann continued, "You go to a palm reader and read your horoscope in the papers but no one can tell you anything about yourself you don't know. All things are possible if you have faith."

He explained, "A lot of us are still blind. We look at each other and see only what we want to see. We never try to see the good. As bad as we think Nixon is, he has some good in him.

"At least he is good to his wife. A lot of men are not good to their wives. He took care of his friends although he was wrong but, some of you will cut your friends down."

STUDENTS TO TOUR 25 STATES

Students participating in the summer geography field trip sponsored by Catonsville Community College in conjunction with Montgomery Community College will be able to see at least twenty-five of the country's states as they earn up to six credits in the Catonsville college's geography program. The intercollegiate summer field study program, limited to 20 participants, will cover approximately 12,000 miles in forty-four days, from June 11 through July 25.
