Wine and cheese party tasters did an indoor-outdoor thing

By Marie P. Cooke
AFRO Women's Editor

If there's one thing this town is known for it is its hot summers . . . and we already know what to look for . . . soaring temperatures and plenty of humidity.

Take for example last Sunday when the thermometer reached 90 by mid-morning . . . what a day. But this didn't stop members of the Black Communications Committee of Baltimore Neighborhoods, Inc. with their planned wine and cheese tasting party.

It was an indoor-outdoor sort of thing where the 50 or more guests mingled in the ultra-modern Bluffdale Rd. terrace apartment of Shrylye White.

Wine and cheese tasters began arriving around 6 in cool, cool summerwear like bare, bare halter pant suits, crisp white slacks and flowing patio ensembles. Brilliant hostess gowns were abound.

The Kay Wine and Liquor Co. provided the wine, a tremendous variety . . . the girls supplied the cheese and finger foods.

The affair was a benefit for Baltimore Neighborhoods, a non-profit organization specializing in housing problems.

The objective of the committee, organized four years ago, is to devise all sorts of contacts that will permit them to inform the black community of housing available in the city.

For example, the group recently took a tour of the exclusive Bolton Hill area. In the future they plan to visit homes in Seton Hill and Fells Point.

Chairwoman Lillian Dorsey invites interested persons to join the committee. Membership is open year-round.

In addition, the group welcomes invitations from other organizations to speak on the newest things in housing at meetings or social functions. For more information call Baltimore Neighborhoods at 243-6007 or Ms. Dorsey, 655-7658.

Members of the group are Gwendolyn Bell, Henri Daniels, Barbara Dorsey, Harriett Howard, essie Jones, Barbara Logan, Towanna Perry, Audrey Simmons, Francine Steele and Shrylye White.

(Editor's Note: You'll be hearing more good things about the committee in the future).

Alpha Wives Close Year

The final meeting of the season of Alpha Wives was held at the Alpha House with president, Sarah Elias presiding.

This time was used to end committee reports and evaluate the year's program.

Wife Vera Proctor who had been to Norfolk for several weeks at the bedside of an ailing aunt, who since passed, reported that the renovation of the room given to wives by husbands would be completed so that the dedication ceremony would take place in the fall. Atour of the room was made by the group and all appeared pleased with the progress.

Alpha Wife Marguerite Brown, Co-chairwoman of the Arena Players, reported that the Players project made a successful final report, a letter was read by Catherine Adams, chairwoman. After proper discussion, $600 was pledged to the Arena Players. A down payment of $300 was sent with the remainder to be paid in the fall.

Wife Ada R. Veney, wife of the late Frank R. Veney, a long-time loyal Alpha, told the women of the plaque presented to her by Alpha men for her continued service and devotion to Alpha Wives. Mrs. Veney, charmingly for the nomination of new officers presented the following slate:

Wife Sarah Elias, president; Erlwina Burke, vice president; Eleanor Anderson, recording secretary; Dorothy Harris, financial secretary; Ellen Johns, treasurer; Marguerite Brown, parliamentarian. The entire slate was accepted. The new officers will begin their duties in September.

Remember — cracked or soiled eggs can contain bacteria that can produce food poisoning. For your protection, use cracked or soiled eggs only when they are thoroughly cooked, warns U.S. Department of Agriculture egg specialists.

* * *

Poultry tastes best when broiled over hot coals, not in flame or smoke.

* * *

Thickening custards or puddings? Two egg yolks or two egg whites have the same thickening power as one whole egg.

* * *

Cook eggs at low temperatures, avoid overcooking and cool promptly. Don't forget about the easiest way to prepare eggs — the oven method. Put egg in custard cup in shallow baking dish with a tablespoon milk and dot of butter or margarine. Bake at 325 degrees until firm as desired.

Alernates for meat? Consider dry beans, eggs, dry peas or lentils — or peanut butter.
