Couples repeat vows in Monumental City

MR. AND MRS. EMBRESS HASKINS

Miss Anita Owen Lewis repeated vows on Saturday afternoon with Embress Lee Haskins Jr. at the Providence Baptist Church, where the Rev. Marcus Wood officiated.

The double ring ceremony was witnessed by some 300 guests.

The bride was attended by Miss Regina Leis, sister of the bride, who served as maid of honor. Other bridesmaids were Misses Shelia Lewis, sister-in-law of bride; Joan Washington sister-in-law of bride; Roslyn Burton and Donna Williamson.

Flower girl was little Dawn Washington.

Following ceremonies the couple was feted at the Garden Room, Towson Plaza and showered with well-wishes and gifts.

Both bride and bridegroom are students at Coppin State College.

Dukes-Speed

The New Refuge Deliverance Holiness Church, Inc., Aisquith and Eager Sts., was the site of the double wedding of Misses Roxanne Jackson and Robert Lee Dukes and Roberta Pugh and Keith L. Speed.

The Bishop Naomi Durant performed the ceremonies.

Miss Jackson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Yarrell. She was attended by Verna Jackson, her cousin, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Deborah Jackson, bride's cousin and Irene Cobb.

The bridegroom, Mr. Dukes, is the son of James Dukes and was attended by James Arvin best man. Ushers were Clinton Wilkins and Allan Dickey.

Flower girl and ringbearer were Teressa Meridith and Carlton Davis Jr.

Miss Roberta Pugh is the daughter of Ransom Pugh of Baltimore and was attended by Mrs. Gloria Williams, maid of honor and Pina Pugh, sister and Frances Jefferson, as bridesmaids.

Serving as Miss Pugh's flower girl was her daughter, Chanel Pugh and James Dukes Jr. as ringbearer.

The new brides and bridgrooms are all employed at The Sparrows Point Shipyard.

New trends in hair care

By Marie P. Cooke
AFRO Women's Editor

(Editor's Note. This is part of a series of articles intended to guide today's black women with proper hair care.)

We were all born with beautiful hair. . . .baby fine and oh so soft. But though the years those curly locks somehow disappeared.

Francis Johnson, manager of the Glemby Company's Hochschild Kohn beauty salon located in Columbia, Md. says almost any woman can have beautiful hair if she follows a few simple guidelines. And best of all, in most cases, she can do her hair at home.

What suits today's black woman is a far cry from yesterday. No more "monthly" hair washes, or the brush, brush, brush approach. Mr. Johnson recommends a clean head, a good cut and the right kind of conditioners and relaxers. He believes at starting the hair-do that best suits his customer.

"Wash your hair at least once a week (no more than twice a week to prevent dryness) with a non-alkinli shampoo," he suggests, 'messaging your scalp to keep it loose. Rinse well. Often if some of the shampoo is left on the hair it will leave a residue. . . so rinse till it is squeaky clean."

Conditioning

All types of hair needs conditioning says Mr. Johnson, long hair in particular. Because of its length, natural oils seldom reach the ends of the hair, therefore the natural oils must be replaced with the elements which have been removed.

A minimum of one treatment every four weeks is good. 'If the hair is damaged a series of weekly conditioning treatments is recommended.

"What type of conditioner should I use," ask many of his customers. 'I suggest that they try several types and then select the one that is best suited for them."

If you have oily hair pick a conditioner that contains a built-in setting lotion or one with extra body; dry hair needs a product with an oil base to restore natural oils.

Shaping

All types of hair regardless of its texture should be professionally shaped when needed. .usually every three to five weeks. "This is so because split ends constantly occur. By having them removed, hair will be healthy looking and easier to manage."

Remember, short hair needs to be shaped, too. Even if you are letting it grow into a longer style, it is important to have it shaped.

(Note: In coming weeks Mr. Johnson will tell about relaxers and how they can help or hurt the hair; how to keep your natural beautiful; new styles for fall, and the growing opportunities for black hair stylists.)

Seventies." The distinguished representative from Maryland will be sharing the Banquet Spotlight with the surviving charger members of Chi Eta Phi.

Chi Eta Phi Nursing Sorority was founded in 1932 at Freedmen's Hospital in Washington, D.C. by Aliene C. Ewell and 11 other dedicated nurses with a vision. The objectives of the sorority are to promote a higher educational background for the profession and to bring a closer more friendly feeling among all members in an effort to elevate the general plane of nursing.

Cozes Celebrate

"On June 25, 1949 Leonard Cox and Thelma Banks were united in holy wedlock. This year marks the twenty-fifth year of their marriage.

You are invited to join the Co couple and some of their friends for cocktails and dinner to celebrate this anniversary."

And so many will go to the gala celebration slated for Monday evening, July 8 at 7 p.m. The affair will be hosted by the couple at 6817 Dogwood Rd. Hall.

Brooks Reception

Guests assembled at the Douglass Memorial Community Church parlor recently to honor the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy B. Brooks who was presented in this year's Ma-De-So Cotillion.

The honoree, Miss Viviane Charlette Brooks chose the colors for the reception to be pink and white with decor and attire of hostesses beautifully coordinated.

In the receiving line with the honoree were Mrs. Aretha J. Mayo and Mrs. William Greene (Bryuye) who grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. introduced the guests, her maternal grandparents, Mr. and mrs. Alfred J. Brown Sr., her uncle, Alfred J. They will reside at the Terryhon Air Force Base, Madrid.

C.A.A. Anniversary

The Dolphin Street Advisory Board of the Community Action Agency recently held its eighth anniversary at Union Baptist Church. Mrs. Elmira E. Harris was mistress of ceremonies. The speaker, the Rev. Vernon Dobson was introduced by Mrs. Alma Walker. He addressed himself to the black community and their struggle for dignity and pride. Great praise was given to Congressman Parren Mitchell for the outstanding job he has done in the past as the leader of the anti-poverty program and is presently doing.

Union Baptist Church has played an outstanding part in the community as the first day care center in the city that actually functioned with a unified curriculum. Experts from this program are being used to set up federal guidelinss for other day care centers, since Union Baptist was the first one in the city of Baltimore.

The Rev. Mr. Dobson stresssed the fact that black people must work together and insist on strong leadership so that the followers can be made stronger. He felt that this isn't President Nixon's strategy. He further stated that the president prefers to see weak black people in leadership positions so that the programs won't be too successful. Communities are slowly being robbed of the wealth that we have demonstrated in the power of our hearts. However, he thanked the people for all of the work that they have done in the community to make it a viable one.

Awards were presented for outstanding service to: Mrs. Dorothy Bishop, C.A.A. Center No. 19 Neighborhood Community Developer; Mrs. Elmira E. Harris, School Crossing Guard at Pennsylvania Ave. and Dolphin Street;

Mr. Murray Hyman, Coordinator for Housing and Community Development.

Officers of the advisory board are: Mrs. Lee Ann Dixon, president; Mrs. Bettie Tatum, vice president; Mrs. Alma Walker, recording secretary; Mrs. Elmira E. Harris, treasurer; Brian Crockett is the counselor of the center.

Graduation Surprise

Miss Deborah Vaughn was pleasantly surprised last week by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Branch (Lil), to find a host of friends and well-wishers there to congratulate her on her graduation from Western High School.

The house was decorated for the occasion with yellow daisies and colorful spring flowers, and the buffet table, arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hillen (Rae), was literally full of tasty refreshments.

Assisting the hosts were Mesdames Edna W. Thomas and Mable Alleyne Deborah, who plans to attend Coppin or Morgan State College in the fall, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Vaughn.

marvelous job towards making the successful fund-rasing affair the most talked about social event of th season.

Surprise of the evening was the presentation of identical silver bowls to K.L.W. president, Mamie Jones and fund raising chairman, Majorie Green. The presentations were made by Alonzo P. Moss, director of YMCA camp program.

This concerned group of women were recently presented the Red Triangle Award Plaque by the YMCA of Greater Baltimore at their 1974 Service to Youth Banquet. This was the first year the award was given. The KLW club was choosen because it is an organization that closely follows the guidelines and programs of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The proceeds from Phase 1 fund-raising affair which total over $1400 will be used to improve conditions and/or buy extra equipment to enhance the summer program at King's Landing Camp.

Other club members helping to raise funds and planning Phase II of the club entertainment program are: Vivian Bailey, vice pres.; Louise Braxton, Gwendolyn Clarke, Colles Corprew, Myrtle Harrod, Blanche Hughes, Roberta Keets, Betty Lindsay.

Big brothers, sisters have outing for 500

By Bettye Moss

John McDonogh, philanthropist, (December, 1799-October 1850), never dreamed the school which bears his name in McDonogh, near Pikesville, Md., would have looked like it did on saturday afternoon.

Everywhere the eye could see there were young people and adults enjoying a day's outing.

It was the annual Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Central Maryland annual affair, which attracted some 500 persons.

Youngsters of all ages had a real ball enjoying the great outdoors on a beautiful Saturday afternoon.

There were volleyball, soccer, basketball, baseball, tug-o-war, swings and even dancing to the music of a group, which calld itself, "The Power."

The teenage musicians were: Donnie Brown on bass guitar; Kirby Brunson, announcer; David Gold, the assistant manager; David Anderson, Congos; Abraham Golden, lead guitar; and Clifton Johnson, drummer.

How much food do this many people consume in an afternoon's outing?

Walter Pasciah, who served on the board of directors of the sponsoring group along with George Boone, S. Lee Martin and Chuck Richards among others, told this writer there were 50 lbs. of potato salad, 30 cases of soda; snow cones with 5 gallons of syrup; 200 lb. block of ice for snowballs; and 200 lbs. of fried chicken; and 40 lbs. of hot dogs. Whew!

Guests of the Big Brothers and Big Sisters of central Maryland, Inc. included the Big-brothers and little brothers and their families and the Big Sisters and little sisters and their families.

This organization matches men and women with boys and grils, ages 8-16 who need influence and guidance.

The boys are from broken homes or the father is deceased and the youngsters need someone to take them under their arms.

The girls may have parents in the home but there may be a need for guidance.

Boys can only be accepted if there is no male in the home. John A. Fahrman is the president of the board.

Members of the board of directors are, Mesdames Regina Deanehan, Frances Murphy; Mary Cary Smith; Lillie Seward; Mercedes Rankin; Naomi Finch; Joyce Langhans.

Also, Louis C. Smith, Ray Unger, Jack Pastore, Father O'Hara; Bruce McCleary; Henry Koellein; Laurence Kaufman, Tom Bowyer; Paul I. Howard; Norman Hovermale; James Glenn; Joseph Kaplan; James E. Nix; David Gibson.

Music teachers' course

A special workshop for teachers of string instruments in Maryland will be offered during the week of July 29 to Aug. 3 at the Maryland Regional Center for the Arts at Emmitsburg, Md.

The workshop is jointly sponsored by Maryland String Teacher's Association (ASTA), Towson State College and the Maryland State Department of Education.

Qualified participants in the workshop will be able to earn in-service training credits or graduate credit at Towson State College. An opportunity to participate on a non-credit basis is also offered.

For further information write to Dr. James L. Frisner, Consultant in Music, Maryland State Department of Education, P.O. Box 8717 — BWI Airport, Baltimore, Md. 21240.
