How relaxers can help or hurt your hair

(Editor's Note: This is part of a series of articles designed to help black women with proper hair care. These stories, exclusive to the AFRO, were developed from interviews with Frances Johnson, manager of the Glemby Co.'s Columbia, Md. salon. Herewith, Mr. Johnson answers questions women ask about permanent hair relaxers.)

1. Q: What are relaxers?

A: Relaxers are chemical treatments designed to stretch the natural wave or curl pattern in hair.

2. Q: What types or textures of hair should they be used on?

A: They can be used on all types of hair.

3. Q: Do people with straight hair (white) also get relaxers?

A: Those persons with naturally straight hair do not need relaxers.

4. Q: What is the difference between a relaxer and a permanent.

A: Relaxers take out the curl while permanents (wave) puts curl into the hair.

5. How often should I relax my hair?

A: Whenever it is needed depending on the texture of the hair. If you tend to have a tight curl, you should have your hair relaxed every four to eight weeks.

6. Q: Can I do it at home?

A: No. It is not recommended.

7. Q: Why are there different strengths?

A: There are different strengths for various textures of hair, namely fine, medium and course.

8. Q Can a relaxer damage my hair?

A: Yes, if applied incorrectly.

9: Q: Should my hair be tested before giving a relaxer?

A: It is not necessary. A professional hair stylist should be able to determine the type of relaxer to use by sight and touch.

10. Q: Is it necessary to use a special shampoo or conditioner with a rleaxer?

A: Yes. You should use a non-alkali shampoo. It is wise to shop for a reputable name-brand since the less expensive products sometimes contain alkali which tend to damage the hair. Conditioners should be used regularly.

11. Q: How often should I wash my hair if I have a relaxer?

A: At least once a week.

12. Q: Can relaxers be used on children's hair?

A: Yes. They should be at least 10-years-old.

13. Q: Does salt or chlorine hurt my hair when you have a relaxer?

A: Yes, if not shampooed immediately.

14. Q: Is it necessary to set my hair everyday if I have a relaxer?

A: Can I use electric rollers or hot irons?

A: Yes, you can use both.

16. Q: Do relaxers tend to lengten the hair, sometimes causing it to appear brassy?

A: Yes. The chemicals in the treatment often strip the natural color of the hair.

17. Q: Do relaxers make the scalp dry, causing dandruff?

A: No. Relaxers will not cause dandruff.

18. Q: Can a relaxer actually HELP my hair?

A: Yes. If properly applied and maintained.

Here, Francis Johnson, manager of Glemby Co.'s Columbia, Md. salon, demonstrates how easy the hair is to style after applying a chemical relaxer.

At left, Ms. Elois Broswell shows the finished product — a pretty hair style she can maintain simply by following a few guidelines.

First Lady Hines has birthday; Three retire from T. G. Hayes

By Marie M. Cooke
AFRO Woman's Editor

The First Lady of the Charles Hines, III household was guest of honor at an informal birthday party held a couple of Sundays back. The setting was the spacious backyard lawn of the couple's Valentine Ave. home located in Glen Burnie.

An outsider would have never known it was Rose Hine's special day because she was busy as ever waiting hand over foot on folks, just as she usually does. She said she wanted to make her guests feel at home. And she did.

So she began by serving cool sippables and later brought out a kettle of homemade crab soup she had prepared especially for her friends. Finally, her hubby asked her to settle down and then the celebration began.

The Elmer Carters and daughter, Toni Harker, neighbors from across the road brought over a lighted birthday cake and all sang "Happy Birthday". Rose then opened her many gifts which came from the Hines children, Patricia and Charles, IV, and friends.

Seen that day were William Porter, Mrs. Sandra Faust, Theodore Wilson, Bernard Overton and this writer.

"Beautiful Retirees

Three faculty members of the Thomas G. Hayes School No. 102, were honored recently at a unique retirement dinner party held at Meushaw's Restaurant. The honorees were Mrs. Mary Gordon, Mrs. Ellen Fisher, and Mrs. Delores Stokes.

The atmosphere was warm and filled with love as many former faculty members were present to join in the festivities. The theme for the evening was "Three Beautiful People." The entire program exemplified beauty and love. The PTA presented the honorees with white orchards.

An original poem entitled, "Three Beautiful People" was read by Geraldine Baker. As the poem was read, teachers held up caricutures which represented the character of each honoree which were drawn by the art teacher, Thomas Miller.

An original poem, "Isn't It Nice" was also written by Delores Burgess, another teacher and read by Leona Lee.

Music teacher, Karen Rader serenaded the trio by singing the theme from "Love Story" and "What the World Needs Now Is Love." She also led group singing with an original song, "Goodbye Ladies."

Miss Almira Miller, former music teacher at the school, also participated. She led group singing with her original songs, "Happy Retirement Days" and "Strike Up the Band." Shirley Robinson dedicated a poem, "My Best Friend" to Delores Stokes.

James McDonald, principal, was delightful master of ceremonies with his jokes and quips. Thomas Boone, former vice-principal gave the invocation. Anne L. Payne, former principal, reminisced as she talked about "Times to Remember." John (Beau) Rawlings was toastmaster. Geraldine Baker, toastmistress, directed the lighting of the candies for the three honorees, who were presented a cake. The first candle stood for peace, the second for happiness, and the third was a private wish.

The gifts were presented by Marian Bordley. In addition, the honorees received a cash gift. They were also given copies of the poems, songs, and caricatures.

Virginia Backmon, another teacher, assisted everyone to make things enjoyable. And last bouquets should have been given to Delores Funn, the chairman, whose efforts made the affair a reality.

Those who attended were:

Walter Fisher, Mrs. Rosa Lee Johnson, Mrs. Bernice Chatman, Mrs. Marian Randolph, Mrs. Faye Boone, Wallace Gray, Mrs. Maizie Hill, Mrs. Mildred Rawlings, Mrs. Bessie Goynes, Mrs. Perry Jones,

Mrs. Camilla Williams, Roosevelt Hobbs, Mrs. Ida Conaway, Mrs. Shirley Cooper, Mrs. Barbara Johnson, Mrs. Vernice Howard, Mrs. Etna Blackwell, Mrs. Pauline Bruce, Mrs. Ethel Smith,

Mrs. Pamela Moulden, Mrs. Gwendolyn Reed, Mrs. Monterey Bynum, Mrs. Catherine Norman, Mrs. Sadie Givens, Mrs. Ida Ashley, Mrs. Carolyn Duncan, Mrs. Pauline Butler, Joseph Cook, Mrs. Ruth Lee,

Mrs. Carolyn Harris, Mrs. Margaret Lassiter, Mrs. May Cook, Mrs. Louise Blackwell, Mrs. Rosa Jefferson, Mrs. Ruth Gilbert, Mrs. Mary Patterson, Mrs. Isla Murrill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Finch, Mrs. Margaret Pritchard,

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campher, Mrs. Rosie Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. James Stovall, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ford, Mrs. Rosalie Gresham, Miss Beverly Butler, Mrs. Ruth Pratt, Mrs. Lillian Fuller, Mrs. Irene Joell,

Mrs. Ernestine Hill, Mrs. Dolores Cornick, Mrs. Shirley Lyles, [illegible] Herbert Sturdivant, Mrs. Karen Gatling, Mrs. Joan [illegible] Dolores Rice.

"We'll Do More"

"We will do more in '74" is the new theme for the Women's Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society.

INTERDENOMINATIONAL MINISTERS WIVES — The Alliance of Baltimore and Vicinity recently held a "Salute to former Presidents Banquet" at the Sheraton Inn. The theme "They Served Well" was perfect for the event.

The presidents looked like spring flowers dressed in their lovely gowns of rainbow colors. They were each given an orchid by Mrs. Mary L. Brown, 1st vice-president.

Following the invocation given by the Bishop Ivery H. Fancher, Mrs. Louise Smith introduced the speaker by saying, "In selecting the speaker, we looked for someone precious, earnest, able, real, loving ... looked for a jewel ... found a pearl ... proud and pleased with our pearl. Mrs Pearl Williams of New Unity Baptist Church.

Mrs. Williams spoke on the theme and stated, "I think of the presidents as threads in fine fabric which was interwoven at the center with all denominations . . . they had to trust in God if they expected to get anywhere."

Honorees were Mrs. Myrtle L. Lofton, Mrs. Estella I. Dobson, the late Mrs. Antoinette Davis, Edith Bryant, the late Mrs. Felecia Adams, Mrs. Hary Harrington, Mrs. Esther L. Edwards, Mrs. Emma L. Daniels, Mrs. Goldie E. Kitchen, Mr. Doretha D. Jordan and Mr. Mary K. Revels.

DEMOCRATIC LADIES GUILD — Members will host a reception in honor of Governor Marvin Mandel on Sunday, July 28 at the home of Mrs. Catherie (Kitty) Muellen, Callaway Ave. Admission by invitation only.

Beauty on a budget

What does summer have going for it in the way of your hair?

Unfortunately, not much! Your skin might look glowing and beautiful in the warm months ahead, but your hair is likely to suffer in the long run.

Chlorinated and salt water are bad enough when it comes to making your hair dry and frazzled, but perspiration and repeated exposures to the sun certainly do nothing to help.

How to beat this deadly foursome? Your best bet is to switch to a shampoo that is gentle to hair, no matter how frequently you wash. Baby shampoo is a good idea because you can even use it daily without making hair dry and brittle. It helps hair to retain its natural shine and bounce and that's important.

Usea penetrating hair conditioner at least once a week and leave it on for twenty minutes or longer. This will help by restoring natural moisture which is vital to beautiful hair.

Miss U. S. Teen Md.

TERRI HILL
Miss Black Maryland

Terri Lynn Hill, 15, of Columbia, Md., leaves this weekend for a week-long stay in New York City.

The Wilde Lake High School coed won the title of Miss U.S. Teen Maryland pageant held in Baltimore a week ago. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Ethel) Hill.

Terri will represent the state at the national teen pageant which will be held in New York City's Town Hall on Sat., July 27. During the week she will be rehearsing with the other girls, ages 13-18, who will be there from other parts of the country.

Hal and Alice Jackson of New York City are the national sponsors of the contest. Master of "Hot Rod" Hulbert, state director, Pinnie L. Ross, county directress.

Dan Henson and Ms. Erma Perry, candidates for the Democratic State Central Committee, are co-hosting a theatre party on Tuesday, July 23 at 6:45 p.m.

Henson-Perry Affair

Dinner at the Charcoal Hearth will be followed by the Md. premier of the Broadway award-winning family musical, "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope". For further information, call Mr. Henson at 466-2749 or Alice Press, 383-0383.

Woodlawn Highlights

By Marjorie R. Green

One of the most recent retirement messages was the one received in a memorandum dated June 25, from Bernard Popick, director of the Bureau of Disability Insurance.

Looking back over his 35 years in Federal service, Mr. Popick spoke of the satisfying program experience he has had. He also mentioned that "No other governmental activity I know of provides more challenge and stimulation than a career in Social Security."

Mr. Popick informed bureau employees that he has agreed to work in an advisory capacity pending appointment of a new Director. Samuel E. Crouch, Deputy Director will be Acting Director of the Bureau of Disability Insurance effective July 1. A retirement reception was given in his honor last week at Blue Crest North.

Joining the Avalons Pleasure Club on a sunny vacation trip to the West Coast will be six of the Social Security Administration's most popular women. They are: Mrs. Marguerite Thornton, Mrs. Estelle Flowers, Mrs. Velma Bailey, Mrs. Betty Musgrove, Mrs. Betty Lindsay and Mrs. Margaret Dixon. The group will leave from Friendship Airport Friday, July 26, enroute to Las Vegas where they will have three days of fun and games before flying to Los Angeles for seven days of shopping and sight-seeing tours.

Co-workers of Mrs. Bernice Kearney recently treated her to a noontime promotional party at Meushaw's Hilton Restaurant. She will assume the responsibilities of a GS-11 Technical Assistant in the Bureau of Disability Insurance on July 22.

Celebrating the happy occasion with her were Hattie Mae Brown, Margaret Loud and Ada Bailey, Irene Terry, Cecelia Manley, Diane Butler, Patricia Pinkey, Deborah Morrison, Christine Ringrose, Doris Davis, Christine Shipley also, Cecil Black, James Jennings, Anthony Doyle, Anthony Traglia, Allen Martyn, Christopher Howe, Ronald Doughty, Patrick Brady, Richard Abramowitz, and Joseph Erdos.

Saturday afternoon while browsing around in a Route 40 shopping center, it was surprising to find Mrs. Mary Smith and members of her Downtown Charity Club sponsoring a fashion show for the benefit of "The Glover-Tilghman" School and Crownsville Hospital Center Clients.

Sitting at a table near the door watching the fashions modeled by the Pinnie Ross models was recent retiree, Mrs. Sadie Milburn. She was all smiles as she shared all the activities that keep her busy during the week. She also wanted her friends to know that she is looking forward to seeing many of them on July 31 at Restaurant 3900 when the Woodlawn Toastmistress Club holds its Installation Banquet.
