Concerned Black Citizens hit city's role in rejection of school desegregation plan

"The Baltimore City school desegregation plan was so obviously false in design that it was rejected by HEW officials.

"We see this as another step designed to destroy the integrity of the educational system and its first black superintendent, Dr. Roland N. Patterson.

In a way, it seems, Mayor Schaefer is deliberately forming a crisis in the public school system of Baltimore."

This statement was issued Tuesday evening by the Concerned Black Citizens following their weekly meeting at the AFRO office.

The group took to task city fathers for risking millions of federal dollars rather than submit a satisfactory plan.

Dr. Oakley Saunders and Mrs. Grace Hines are co-chairman, of the citizens' group, composed of a cross section of the black community.

They charged that City Hall's failure to provide necessary funds to implement a desegregation plan would assure a racial confrontation of major proportions."

In addition, the co-chairpersons said, "Pairing of elementary schools within the city by consistently putting together lower socio-economic groups, black and white, increases the risk of conflict."

During the meeting the group discussed the alternative of requesting the legal defense fund of the NAACP to intervene on behalf of the citizens of Baltimore by asning the courts to help in arriving at a satisfactory desegregation plan by the opening of schools this fall.

Subcommittees were appointed to pursue this option.

In addition, the group appointed a subcommittee to concern itself with appointments on boards and commissions, contending that the Schaefer administration hasshown "continued insensitivity" to equal representation on public bodies.

The statement said, "We can no longer tolerate this" and called on "all like minded citizens to join us in letting him (the Mayor) know that this is our community and not his private playground."

Mrs. Helen Smith, chairman of the Voter Registration Subcommittee, announced the continuation of the Register to Vote Drive this coming Saturday, (Aug. 3), beginning with the 10 a.m. meeting at Sharp Street Community House, Dolphin and Eittings Sts.

This will be followed by a large voter registration promotion at Brown's Supermarket in the 1400 block of N. Monroe St.

There, members of the Baltimore Chapter of Links, Inc. will join with the group in registering voters, and giving instructions in how to register by mail in postage free envelopes.

The next meeting of the group is 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, August 6, in the AFRO office at 625 N. Eutaw St.

Robbers murder victim

Police are looking for five youths, aged 18-25, in connection with the shooting death of Larry Lee Pitts, 24, Tuesday.

Mr. Pitts was making a delivery in a juice company truck in the 3600 block of Lucille Ave. in Northwest Baltimore when he was approached by the young hold-up men.

Police responded to the call at approximately 1:40 p.m., and found Mr. Pitts bleeding on the rear steps of 3601 Lucille Ave. An ambulance was called and the victim rushed to Sinai Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival of gunshot wounds in the neck and right side.

James Perry, 32, of the 100 block N. Broadway, was found slain in his apartment by his roommate, James E. Thomas, 40, Monday.

Mr. Thomas told police that he found Mr. Perry lying on the couch badly beaten. His attempts to arouse him failed and he called the police.

The police report states that the victim was found lying on the couch with numerous lacerations about the head and facial area. They also report that a substantial amount of blood was found on the adjacent wall.

A 2x2 piece of wood which was found covered with blood behind the couch is suspected to be the murder weapon.

Army cook remains in stockade

Spec. 4 McMurray Wilson, a 22-year-old Army cook who has been charged with killing his wife and two of his co-workers last month in Frederick, Md. remains in stockade at Fort Meade.

Spec. 4 Wilson is scheduled to be arraigned in Circuit Court this month. He is being held without bond on charges of murdering Mrs. Cynthia Bell Wilson, 18; Sgt. Raymond L. LeBelle, 35, and Spec. 5 John W. Hanna.

Spec. 4 Wilson allegedly shot his wife on June 4 in their Detrick Plaza apartment, and then drove to the Army post kitchen where he allegedly shot the two men.

Police find body in Leakin Park

Information from a confidential source led to the discovery of an unidentified body in the Gwynns Falls-Leakin Park area police report.

Police investigators canvassing the area identified by the informant found, according to police statements, the body of what appeared to be a black man approximately 35-years-old.

Police report finding the body about 20-feet south of the 3800 block of Chesholm Rd.; over an approximately 45 degree slope.

The body was found in a partially decomposed state which would indicate the body had been dead for more than one or two days, police state.

Where the body was found, police state, was an area of heavy underbrush "that could not be seen by anyone driving an auto and possibly by a person on foot."

A search of the area with a metal detector borrowed from the Winchester Street Armory produced no results, police further state.

Police report that a ".38 cal. copper jacket projectile" was recovered some two and one-half feet from the roadway and 18-feet from the body.

Personal papers found in the deceased's affects are being held for "comparison to positive identification," according to the reporting officer's account.

The dead man was reportedly wearing light blue pants with red stripes and a black wool pull over sweater.

Partial drought foreseen

The drought which has taken its toll on Maryland's Eastern Shore crops continues in that area, and is expected to spread.

The official crop loss is not presently available but the University of Maryland research farm reports a loss of almost two inches of rainfall. This amount is the lowest in 20 years.

The rain-starved fields are characterized by shriveled watermelons, small tomatoes and an almost complete deterioration of the corn and soy bean crops.

The National Weather Service has forecasted that the entire Maryland area will receive less than the medium amounts of rainfall in August.

Citizens report monster on 'Sho

The AFRO received a call this week from a woman who reports that a monster-like creature has been spotted on the Eastern Shore.

The newstipster who had just returned from the 'sho' to her Baltimore home says that several citizens in the rural area around Trappe, Md. claim the "monster" has been seen at night in the woods.

Trappe is a small rural community near Easton.

The caller said the "monster" has been described as "big, tall, fat, furry, skinny, with teeth without teeth, growling and whinning" plus all sorts of other adjectives.

However, the AFRO was able to ascertain from her that the creature stands more than seven-and-one-half feet tall and is "extremely hairy, especially around the face.

"It makes this strange hissing type of sound and when it runs it sort of waddles from side to side," she added.

Not only is the "monster" tall, but according to the informant, "its shoulders are much broader than those of one of them grizzly bears."

EASTERN SHORE MONSTER is reported as being mean-looking, furry and seen after dark in wooded areas around Trappe, a section near Easton.

A call to the police in the area and the state police was in vain. No one in authority claims to have heard or seen the Eastern Shore Monster.

"He only comes out at night," the AFRO's informant states.

The appearance of the Eastern Shore Monster recalls the now famous "Sykesville Monster" who received nationwide attention the summer of 1973.

Several Sykesville citizens reported chasing the furry manlike creature through the woods. A Gas and Electric Co. workman screamed as he climbed down from a telephone pole, "I saw him. I saw him" and ran into town.

The monster's huge footprints were cast in cement by the police. Scientists and zoo authorities swarmed the small town to check out the facts.

* * *

When the AFRO visited several times in a month's period, the stree's were found deserted as the whole town hid from sight after dark, afraid of the creature.

* * *

AFRO readers from across the nation reported the Sykesville Monster as travelling by dark in their cities and along roadsides. "Then, just suddenly as the Sykesville Monster appeared, he vanished from the TV and news front pages. Sykesvillians were happy he left their community.

Everyone loves a monster, it seems. If anyone has seen an Eastern Shore Monster or one from anywhere else, let the AFRO hear from you, by letter or by phone. It's monster time again.
