Dr. Patterson have shown such an extreme disregard for the civil rights of myself and other School Board members that any objective observer should entirely discount their assertions that we have ignored Dr. Patterson's civil rights.

Enough has already been said about the questionable kangaroo court of their resort to the State Commission on Human Relations and the extraction and wide publication of charges which purport to represent findings by that Commission.

Attorney Elbert Guillory, the Commission's executive director, replied, "Schaefer has not been involved in any public hearing held by this Commission.

NOTHING FURTHER FROM THE TRUTH

Schaefer charges that members of this Commission made public information regarding the processing of a complaint filed with the Commission. Nothing could be further from the truth and it is unfortunate that a public servant would use this cheap shot of accusing hard working fighters of discrimination with violating the law."

Further, he said "We are here to protect the rights of all parties. And any person who have been or will be charged by this Commission will receive due process of the law."

MITCHELL CALLS FOR WAR

State Senator Clarence M. Mitchell III (D. 38th Balto.) called for "an all out war bythe black community on those forces in the city which still persist in efforts to destroy our superintendent and our school system."

Having read Schaefer's statement, Sen. Mitchell responded, "Mr. Schaefer's Aug. 22 statement really demonstrates what a snake he is. It shows he could care less whether black children will be able to start school on time this fall or at all."

He further added, "Mr. Schaefer, in his statement, has made the case for the Mayor requesting his resignation. If he and his henchmen continue on the School board, quality education for the students of Baltimore will be set back so far, that it will take years to revive it."

holders in a white stronghold.

"My strongest plea is for my black brothers to withhold judgment until we find the answer to such questions as the great liberal Mr. Lapides.

"We also want to know why another man named Chester is running at this time in history. We want to know why a matter like this is headline at this time. The main thing is that blacks aren't just supposed to come into jobs period."

Mr. Chester's opponent who has been endorsed by Sen. Lapides club is Patrick McDonough.

Mr. Chester claims, "It was a deliberate, malicious attempt to damage my chances for re-election just three weeks before the primary.

"I have never demanded, solicited or invited campaign contributions from any of my employees, and in fact I issued to each of them a written statement making it clear that they were not expected to contribute to my campaign."

Excerpts from the November 27, 1973 memorandum from Mr. Chester to his employees says, "Some you may have learned that I am having a campaign fund raiser on December 11, 1973. I have delayed making my announcement in this office until its financial success appeared assured.

"The reason being that, in today's political atmosphere, it is necessary that there not be even a scintilla of suspicion of any impropriety."

Mr. Chester emphasizes in the memo that some of his employees have expressed—desire to support him. "I do not want to deny you the opportunity, and, there are some tickets available, said, 62-year-old Mr. Chester.

The AFRO cleared the States Attorney's office started interrogating the court clerks in Mr. Chester's office and will complete their interviews today (Friday).

CLEAN COURTHOUSE

Del. Frank Conaway sent a letter to States Attorney Milton B. Allen announcing that, "We've had enough political payoffs. It's time to Courthouse clean."

A copy of Del. Conaway's letter was also sent to Governor Marvin Mandel and Francis Burch.

Del. Conaway has requested that a complete "investigation of each court clerk and the Registrar of Wills" be conducted. He is asking that the matter be explored and make findings public before election day Sept. 10.

Mrs. Kitty Mueller president of the Democratic Ladies Guild, expressed, "It is another one of Jack Pollock's dirty tricks."

Morgan student shot on campus after concert

Larry Rogers, 23, 2200 block E. Biddle St., a Morgan State College student was shot in the neck during an argument with an unidentified man near Morgan State College Tuesday night.

Police said the 10:15 p.m. shooting occured after a concert at the college. Hospital authorities report the victim remains in a stable condition at the Union Memorial Hospital.

Detectives report they are looking for a suspect in his mid-20's who, together with three other persons was seen arguing with the victim shortly before the shooting.

He was described as about 5 ft. 4 ins., medium built, and was wearing a blue cap and green and blue flowered shorts.

Police quote Miss Diane Mack, 18, a friend of Mr. Rogers as stating the victim became involved with four or five men after the concert attended by over 8,000 to 10,000 people.

Miss Hall said she persuaded Mr. Rogers to leave and as the pair started to walk away a shot was fired and the victim fell.

BUMPER STICKERS on Patterson supporters' cars are seen across town. AFRO photographer Fletcher Roberts snapped one passing by.

three years ago," Cong. Mitchell said.

"At least there was a willingness on the part of President Ford to listen, to ask questions of us, and to make some firm commitments and some not-so-firm commitments," Mitchell added.

A document spelling out 15 areas of concern was left with the President for further study and, hopefully, for implementation of the recommendations contained in the document.

CONVERS: SAME LAUNDRY LIST

Rep. John Conyers (D-Mich.) said, "Ford committed himself to not one thing. Nothing new to talk about. It is the same laundry list as we had in our meeting three years ago with President Nixon." He called Ford, "a very flexible person."

Used as an example the mass transit bill, (which Ford) cut back $11 billion. He feels Ford "would cite inflation as a reason to cut money for legislation affecting blacks and the cities."

Talking about meeting Conyers said, "Very pragmatic attempt to reverse the terrible influge of Ford 25 years in Congress. It was tremendous public relations for the President."

He suggested that the President had more to gain from that meeting than the Caucus did. He would have preferred that the meeting had taken place at later time.

Conyers said it is important for the black community to distinguish gatherings like this from this one which he characterized to be a friendly gathering, from political reality.

This is to say because the Caucus met with Ford it didn't mean that there was going to be any substantive chunge in his philosophy.

Quote from previous articles:

He called Ford previously "an enemy of black people."

Rep. Barbara Jordan, D-Tex., was more cautious in her characterization of the meeting. "The nature of the meeting today was let's talk, to each other. That, we did," she said.

Rangel said the group left Ford a document listing their long term concerns.

He said it was not a "shopping list" but covered a range of subjects including minority housing, economic development, inclusion of Africa in a meaningful way in foreign policy, the military budget, health, narcotics, crime, voting rights, improving the status of all minorities including black women, amnesty and transportation.

Raymond E. Mitchell was school engineer

Raymond Ellsworth Mitchell, 69, 4412 Ivanhoe Ave., died suddenly at home Tuesday. He was an engineer for the public school system for 30 years, before he retired last June.

Funeral services will be held 10 a.m. Saturday at Douglas Memorial Church, where he was a member of the usher board. The Rev. Marion C. Bascom will officiate.

Born in Baltimore Mr. Mitchell attended Baltimore city public schools. He played the piano and banjo well.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Daisy Mitchell, who told the AFRO that 'He was very active and prior to his death, friends that greeted him on the street commented that he still had that pleasant smile on his face'. March, 1973 would have marked their 30th year of marriage.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by an uncle, Harry Mitchell; three nieces, Mrs. Bernice McDaniels, Mrs. Palestine W. Anderson, and Mrs. Elaine W. Smith all of Baltimore; and a nephew, Calvin Westley, Philadelphia.

Funeral arrangements were handled by Herbert E. Nutter.

Dorsey, Williams on list for two court vacancies

Charles H. Dorsey Jr., 44, deputy director of the Legal Aid Bureau, was one of five persons recommended by the judicial selections commission to fill the vacancy on the Supreme Bench caused by the retirement of Judge Joseph Carter.

At the same time, the commission selected Archie D. Williams and six others to assume the judgeship open in the District Court since Judge John R. Hargrove was elevated to the Supreme Bench.

The recommendations were forwarded to Governor Mandel by Marshall M. Meyer, chairman of the 11-member commission which had received recommendations from various bar associations.

A third black attorney, DeHaven Smith was recommended by the Baltimore City Bar Association but not selected by the commission as a candidate for the District Court vacancy.

Still, the Governor may choose a name not on the commission's list.

Mr. Dorsey was the first black member of the state Board of Law Examiners. He was recommended by the Monumental, state and city bar associations.

Mr. Williams is an attorney in private practice.

IN HOSPITAL—Charles G. Hillen, certified public accountant at Social Security, underwent emergency surgery at Greater Baltimore medical Center. He is reported in satisfactory condition.

Man acquitted of robbing credit union

Tyronne Jack Allsberry, 32, was acquitted on Wednesday, after being charged with robbing Inner City Federal Credit Union, 800 block Harlem Ave. last Nov. 12 1973.

A Federal Court jury deliberated 40 minutes before they reached their not guilty verdict, William H. Murphy Jr. represented Allsberry in the three day jury trial where Judge Joseph Young presided.

Court records state Miss Bernadette Harris a student at Bay College, told the jury she informed her boyfriend Allsberry that around the first of November, the credit union would have $5,000.

Miss Harris testified that she told Allsberry he could come to the credit union and ask for change for $20. If it was safe for him to get the money, she would nod her head.

However, Miss Harris testified if it was not the right time for the holdup, she would turn her back. On the day of the robbery, Miss Harris nodded her head to indicate Allsberry to rob the credit union.

Allsberry returned to the credit union with Leroy Gibson and performed the holdup. Gibson testified when he was arrested he confessed to participating in the robbery.

Defense attorney Murphy stated none of the employees could identify the alleged men charged with robbing the credit union.

Federal prosecutors promised to place Miss Harris on probation and drop all charges except conspiracy charges since she testified.

trapped in a bedroom.

Their screams drew the attention of the two men who climbed upon an air-conditioning unit and rescued the children through a second story window.

According to reports, the children's mother, Mrs. Jenelle Simms told police that the baby-sitter was late so she left them by themselves and went to work.

The children were taken to Union Memorial Hospital with burns on the arms, neck, back and thighs. Richardson and Owens were treated for minor burns at St. Joseph Hospital.
