500 cars in funeral procession

A long line of dignitaries including Governor Marvin Mandel, Mayor Schaefer and Commissioner Donald Pomerleau attended the Wednesday funeral services for office Milton Spell, 26, at Emmanuel Christian Community Church.

Officer Spell was shot in the chest last Thursday as he attempted to investigate a "possible drunken driver" in the 1600 block N. Bradford St.

More than 1,500 policemen including officers from five other states attended the services.

Rev. Sidney Daniels, pastor of Emmanuel Christian Community Church stated, "Brother Milton Spell was a good police officer. When he walked his beat, he saw people as individuals and people who needed him."

Police estimate there were 500 cars in the funeral procession. Police had orginally charged Avon Mason Simmons, 32, 1700 block W. Mosher St. with the murder.

However police report through further investigation, charges have been dropped against Simmons and he was released on Tuesday.

Police have now arrested and charged Hardy Herring, 29, 2100 block Park Ave. with the murder.

Ford signs $26 billion stiffest antibusing bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Ford Thursday signed a $26.4 billion, four year extension of the basic Federal Aid to Education Program, a bill containing the stiffest antibusing provisions yet enacted.

Legislators concerned mostly with aiding education were forced to compromise with opponents of court-ordered busing, resulting in a ban on busing students past the next closest school, unless a court rules such a ban denies a child's constitutional rights.

The measure also bans use of federal education aid for busing and ends court-ordered busing if a school district proves it is in compliance with integration orders.

Southern lawmakers and some northern congressmen said the busing language did not go far enough.

Southern members, especially, attacked the conference committee for dropping a House-passed provision that would have allowed reconsideration of all past court orders on busing to make them conform with the next closest school ban.

For the first time since the landmark measure was first enacted in 1965 as a great society program, the bill revamps the formula for distributing billions of dollars of aid to poverty area schools.

The new formula favors rural poverty areas at the expense of big city school systems because it does not count all of the students whose families are on welfare.

The formula includes the number of students with family incomes below the official poverty level, the average per pupil cost of educating a child and only two-thirds, rather than the old 100 per cent, of the students whose families get welfare aid.

Rawlings files job bias suit against UM

STILL MISSING—13-year-old Rowlette Brown, a 7th grade student at Lombard Junior High School has been missing from home since June 23. If you have seen this teenager, contact Sgt. Daniel Peterson at 396-2334 or her mother, Mrs. Sarah Brown, 732-2904.

Howard P. Rawlings, a former assistant mathematics professor at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, has filed a federal discrimination suit against the institution.

The suit alleges that Mr. Rawlings "has been denied equal employment opportunities" by the university "because of his race or color."

The suit was filed Aug. 1 in the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland.

The suit indicates that Mr. Rawlings was employed at UMBC on June 3, 1969. On October 23, 1973 the university, the suit further alleges, notified him that his employment there had been terminated.

Mr. Rawlings, through the suit, charges that his termination "was done willfully and solely because of the Plaintiff's race and . . . a policy and practice of discrimination against black persons in general."

The U.S. Equal Employment Commission notified Mr. Rawlings June 3, of his right to institute a civil action against UMBC within 90 days of his receipt of that notice.

Mr. Rawlings had previously filed a charge with EEOC alleging racial discrimination in employment.

The suit lists the following acts and practices maintained as discriminatory:

Failing and refusing to recruit and hire black faculty on an equal basis.

Establishing educational requirements for black faculty that differ from those applied to white faculty and staff.

Denying black faculty members promotional opportunities on an equal basis.

Terminating black faculty and staff members on grounds different from those applied to whites.

Assigning black faculty to predominantly black schools and requiring them to teach only black oriented courses.

The suit asks that the defendant, UMBC, be enjoined from the acts and practices complained by Mr. Rawlings.

The suit further requests that Mr. Rawlings be reemployed and reimbursed for back pay and damages by the defendants.

The suit names the State of Maryland, Governor Marvin Mandel in addition to University of Maryland Board of Regents: Dr. Louis L. Kaplan, chairman; B. Herbert Brown, secretary; Harry H. Nuttle, assistant secretary; F. Grove Miller Jr., assistant treasurer; Honorable Joseph D. Tydings; Mrs. Michael J. Deegan Jr.; George C. Fry; Samuel H. Hoover, D.D.S.; Edward V. Hurley; Hugh A. McMullen, L. Mercer Smith, and Emerson C. Walden, M.D. as defendants.

Mr. Rawlings is represented by Kenneth L. Johnson.

Allen assails empty oratory

"It has become fashionable in our time for political candidates to engage in much oratory concerning law and order. All of us want to be free from violence and able to walk our streets in safety and without fear."

Taking this hard-line stance against such political muckraking is Milton B. Allen who is seeking second-term re-election as the State's Attorney for Baltimore City.

Mr. Allen is currently engaged in a bitter campaign against Democratic challenger William Swisher. Mr. Swisher is reportedly backed by Northwest Baltimore machine boss John (Jack) Pollack.

In a brief position paper released Wednesday, Mr. Allen further complains: "Our community does not need the empty rhetoric of political candidates who distort facts, manipulate statistics and speak half truths in order to appeal to the anxieties and fears of our citizens."

The paper goes on to canvass the "substantial progress" made in prosecuting crimes of violence and the innovative programs initiated by his three and one-half year old administration.

"Our Felony Complaint and Violent Crimes Units are models which other offices in the country are emulating," he boasts adding, "Our conviction rates in violent crimes are among the highest in the nation."

In summary, he says, "I believe that my office in the past three and one-half years has practiced the highest precepts of law, order and equal justice and not the lip service and rhetoric of a political campaign."

Police seek gunman in Exeter St. slaying

Homicide detectives are hunting for a gunman who shot and killed a 27-year-old man and near-fatally wounded another as the two sat in the deceased's car in the 100 block S. Exeter St. Tuesday evening.

Police state George Jeffery Boyce, 1200 block Waldo Ct., was pronounced dead of chest wounds five minutes after the 7:17 p.m. shooting.

His companion, James E. Green, 31, 4000 Belvedere Ave., remains in good condition at the Johns Hospital with a gunwound of the left arm.

Detectives told the AFRO they are looking for a young man, about 22 years old identified only as "Skip."

Police said Boyce and Green were sitting in a car in the 100 block S. Exeter St. when they saw the suspect with a gun approaching. He was wearing a beige body suit and green trousers.

Boyce put the car in reverse, but the gunman shot though the window and the car crashed into a nearby building.

Southeastern District Officer Michael Hood reports while he was patrolling the area he heard three shots and later observed the car, a 1973 Pontiac Lemans reversing. He said he ran after it to see the tag. As the car crashed he saw the two men lying in the front seat in a pool of blood.

At AFRO press time Thursday evening, Mr. Boyce's body remained at the city morgue.

Improvement Association head asks Mayor Schaefer to quit

William Donald Schaefer has been called upon to resign immediately as the mayor of Baltimore for his lack of commitment to quality education for the city's children.

Mr. Schaefer is further accused of promoting racism by dividing citizens of Baltimore into polarized camps of black and white and arbitrarily removing black officials from city posts.

These charges are contained in a letter by West Arlington Improvement Association president, Charles W. Griffin, to Mr. Schaefer last week.

Deploring what he termed the mayor's collusion with white majority members of the School Board to remove Mr. Patterson as the superintendent of Public Schools, Mr. Griffin said:

"It is my considered opinion that you have lost credibility to lead this city because of your lack of integrity and honesty.

"Further, as an educator and as a resident of this city, I cannot bring myself to believe that you are committed to quality education for our city's children, black and white, when you completely disregarded the accomplishments that Dr. Patterson has made during his short tenure.

"Therefore, you should give every consideration to resigning as Mayor of Baltimore City."

Dr. Patterson is being removed, Mr. Griffin charges, because he has refused to be a "yes" man and that he is a capable administrator and the highest paid city official.

Mr. Griffin likened the actions of the members of the School Board and the "coup de grace" of Mr. Schaefer to remove the school superintendent as ineptness that "surpasses the plumbers in the Watergate fiasco."

Alleging the mayor removed Mrs. Elizabeth Moss from the School Board and City Solicitor George Russell from their public offices without notice, the community president said, the mayor's action was an insult to the black community and arbitrary.

The letter also accused Mr. Schaefer of defiling HEW directives to desegregate public schools and bowing to "white bigots who use busing as the issue when less than ten per cent of busing is used for desegregation in the United States."

Drug patients will have records burned

The director of the State Drug Abuse Administration announced this week that the records identifying drug users by name will be destroyed.

Dr. Samuel L. Fox said that the decision was based on recent pleas from drug crisis centers and benevolent agencies to protect the rights of patients.

He further said that new name recording regulations are being proposed but have not been printed yet.

Brothers plead guilty to bank robbery charge

Two brothers pleaded guilty on Tuesday in Criminal Court to the Feb. 4 holdup of a First National Bank in the Charles Plaza where they escaped with $9,200.

Gilbert Perry, 26, 4000 block Edgewood Rd. and Arthur G. Perry, 29, entered their guilty pleas minutes before their trial was scheduled to start before Judge John R. Hargrove.

Judge Hargrove will impose sentence after he receives a pre-sentence report on the brothers.

According to court records, the Perry brothers ordered a bank teller to fill their bags with money.

As they attempted to leave the bank, they were stopped by a policeman from the traffic division.

Sgt. Robert W. Plaine told the court Gilbert Perry pushed a woman out of the way and fired four shots at him. The brothers ran out of a rear exit and police later apprehended them as they caught a cab at Liberty and Clay Sts.

Capt. Mello files for indictment to be dropped

Captain Dennis P. Mello, the 61-year-old retired policeman has filed through his attorney the dismissal of a gambling-conspiracy case pending against him.

The indictment charges Capt. Mello with being part of a conspiracy with intent to facilitate an illegal gambling business.

Capt. Mello was acquitted in June for similar charges. Capt. Mello was allegedly charged with accepting pay-offs from a $1 million illegal gambling business operated by Donald Harrington and John Dobbins.

Through his attorney Russell White, Capt. Mello claims that federal prosecutors are placing him in double jeopardy by scheduling the second case.

Federal prosecutors stated following the not guilty verdict that Capt. Mello would be tried on another gambling conspiracy indictment charging him with participating in the alleged lottery operation at facilities of the Diamond Cab Company.

Capt. Mello testified in his own defense in the Harrington case and denied receiving pay-off money from anyone.

However, Dobbins was found guilty of conspiracy. Capt. Mello's attorney, Mr. White, was indicted in July on charges of false pretense and larceny after trust by a grand jury in Towson.
