Joseph Rash remembered for his devotion, service

By Bettye Moss

"I was very much impressed with the direction he showed as president of the Park Board. He blended in a good business sense with compassion, understanding and empathy for the citizens of Baltimore, black and white.

"I sat beside him for seven years. He always expressed his viewpoint with candor and tempered his actions with understanding.

"If an irate group of citizens appeared, he discussed the matter openly and frankly and with the help of other board members and the staff, let them understand why the board had to establish priorities to meet the needs of the total city.

"He unselfishly offered his time to serve in this non-paying job."

Dr. Uthman Ray, a west Baltimore physician and member of the Park Board, was speaking of Joseph H. (for Harry) Rash, the Baltimore businessman and civic leader, who died suddenly on Tuesday. He was 65.

For the past 9 years, Mr. Rash has served on the Baltimore City Board of Recreation and Parks and its president since 1968.

Park Board director, Douglas S. Tawney, told the AFRO: "He was probably the most tireless president of the board we ever had.

"In all those years, he never missed a meeting-board or committee. He served on all of them, finance, stadium, real estate. He was always here, and was always willing to give his time and energy. We are going to miss him very much."

* * *

In the business world, Mr. Rash was known for his development of the Food Fair chain, of which he was corporate vice president. He joined the firm as a management-trainer in 1939.

When he came to Baltimore from his native Philadelphia in 1941, he was an assistant grocery buyer. By 1961 he was a corporate officer.

Kenneth O. Wilson, AFRO vice president, advertising, recalled Mr. Rash has been 'a real friend in developing more opportunities for economic development in Baltimore City. He will be missed.'

Baltimore City Mayor William Donald Schaefer said of Mr. Rash: "He was a great guy and a real friend to me. His interests were many and wide-ranging, not only in recreation and parks, as president of the Park Board, but in many other areas as well.

"As vice president of Food Fair Stores, he was an influential voice in the proposed revitalization of the York-Woodbourne area, in which reconstruction of a Food Fair supermarket was the vital aspect.

"Mr. Rash was genuinely interested in the progress of the city. He will be greatly missed."

* * *

Mr. Rash was affiliated with an economic development group formed to help develop inner city businesses.

He was active with the board of the United Negro College Fund and with numerous Jewish organizations.

He was vice president of the Jewish National Fund. This past February, he was cited for his contributions to this organization at a testimonial attended by over 2,000 at the Civic Center.

Announcement was made at the time that a forest of trees was planted for him in Jerusalem.

Mr. Rash also served on the boards of Goodwill Industries, Kidney Foundation, Better Business Bureau, CICHA, Levindale Home, and Jewish Welfare.

* * *

He was vice chairman of the Md. State Parks Advisory Commission and chairman of the Food Task Force for Civil Defense of the State Emergency Priorities Board.

For 17 years, he was on the State Board of Correction by appointment of Governors McKeldin and Tawes.

President Kennedy named him to the Board of Overseers of the U.S. Naval Academy. He was a 1960 delegate to the Democratic Mini Convention.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at Har Sinai Congregation. Burial followed in the church cemetery.

During the half-hour rites Rabbi Herbert S. Rutman called the deceased, "our beloved Joe who touched the lives of many in all walks of life."

* * *

He described him as, "a responsible American and a responsible Jew who had to be involved in the general community" . . . he was a "thoughtfully considerate" person and "a good husband, father and good citizen as well."

There was organ music preceding the service, but no singing save a funeral chant by the cantor, Henry Cooper.

Honorary and active pallbearers were business associates, federal and state and city public officials, led by Senator Charles MacMathias, Governor Mandel and Mayor Schaefer. The funeral procession to the cemetery was five blocks long.

AFRO Chairman of the Board John H. Murphy 3rd, AFRO Vice President Wilson, mentioned above, businessman Allen Quille and Mrs. Anne Schuper, a Park Board member, were among black citizens this writer saw at the services.

Survivors are his wife, the former Dorothy Koffman of Mass., three sons, Stephen J., Herbert A. and Marc D., who is with the Food Fair real estate division; a grandson, Robert Rash; and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Feinberg, all of Baltimore.

Mrs. Love—'a dear person to know'

By Bettye Moss

"She believed that to live together with our neighbors there must be mutual understanding; we must know more about them and they must know more about us. To live together in peace with our neighbors, these must be the conditions for peace.

"She was a dear wife, dear mother, a dear aunt, a dear friend, and always a dear person to know."

This was the family tribute paid Mrs. Virginia Ross Love at Friday morning funeral services.

Mrs. Love, 78, died Tuesday at her Morgan Park home. She was the widow of the Rt. Rev. Edgar A. Love, long bishop of the United Methodist Church, a civil rights leader and first grand basileus of the national fraternity, Omega Psi Phi, organized at Howard University in 1911.

* * *

Bishop Love died this past May at the age of 82. At his funeral services Bishop Roy C. Nichols of Pittsburgh read a letter Bishop Love wrote the week before his death telling of his happy life in retirement with his wife of 51 years.

In the letter he offered a prayer that he might outlive 'my most remarkable companion so I can give her the proper care.'

The Rev. Richard L. Clifford, who officiated at services for Bishop Love, conducted the Friday rites for Mrs. Love at Sharp St. Methodist Church.

* * *

Other ministers participating were the Rev. Howard L. Cornish, director, Morgan Christian Center; the Rev. James D. Foy, longtime Methodist minister; the Rev. L. Carroll Yingling Jr., superintendent, Northwest Baltimore District.

Also, the Rev. J. Lloyd Garrison, John Wesley Methodist; the Rev. Daniel L. Ridout, retired Methodist executive assistant to Bishop Love; and Mrs. Viola C. Jackson, Methodist Ministers' Wives.

Mrs. Gladys Davis was at the organ. Members of Mt. Jazreel Baptist Church Choir of D.C., sang. Soloist was Maurice C. Hill of D.C., the deceased's nephew-in-law.

Mrs. Love was buried beside her husband in Mt. Auburn Cemetery. The Joseph Russ Funeral Home was in charge.

* * *

Active pallbearers were the Revs. Richard A. Bell, Walter H. Cox, St. George Crosse, James L. Harris, Harold G. Johnson Sr., William H. Peters, James H. Smith and Alphonso A. Thompson.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Ministers Wives and Delta Sigma Theta, a national sorority which Mrs. Love joined in 1937.

Born in Charlottesville, Va., on Jan. 2, 1896, Virginia Ross Love attended the Teachers' Normal Course in the Morgan College annex then located in Lynchburg, Va.

She taught for several years in Staunton, Va., until her marriage to the young Methodist minister on June 16, 1923.

While her husband was serving as superintendent of the Washington District in addition to being active in the women's organizations of the church district, Mrs. Love enrolled in Miner Teachers College in Washington, D.C., where she earned a bachelor's degree in education.

After teaching for a year in the Maryland school system Mrs. Love enrolled in the Howard University School of Religion, graduating with a master's degree in religious education.

She later worked in the Religious Education Department of St. Marks Methodist Church in New York and taught in the neighborhood school of Jamaica, L.I.

* * *

After her husband was elected bishop in June of 1952, she accompanied him and lectured with him when he was assigned to visit missions stations in Malaysia, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Japan, Burma, India, Africa, England, France, Belgium, Switzerland, West Germany, Italy, Lebanon, and the Holy Land.

Mrs. Love was a member of the Gethsemane Chapter No. 3, Order of the Eastern Star, Prince Hall Affiliation, of Washington and many civic organizations in the Baltimore area.

She is survived by her son, Jon E. Love Sr., two grandchildren, Virginia and Jon Love Jr., two nieces, Ms. Vivienne H. Hill and Ms. Lovie Butler; a great-niece, Ms. Olivia S. Judkins, a nephew, Alphonso Smith, a great, great, nephew, Marc Judkins, all of D.C.; a daughter-in-law, Ms. Joyce Love.

In her declining years she was loved and cared for by a faithful companion, Miss Rose Hall.

Lt. Rudolph Wilkins, 51, dies of heart attack

Lieutenant Rudolph C.R. Wilkins, 51, Northwestern District Shift Commander, died of heart attack in his home at 6:45 p.m. Dec. 16.

Described as an "excellent" policeman, Lt. Wilkins was a member of the police force for 25 years.

Lt. Wilkins was promoted Sergeant in 1959 and the position he held until his death in 1965. He served in various capacities and various districts, including the western, northern, northwestern and police headquarters.

Police citations list him as an "excellent, dedicated and selfless policeman."

Larry Lesson, spokesman for the Police Department told the AFRO in all his career, Lt. Wilkins was never disciplined. He had sick leave for only one day during his 25-year career.

Agent Lesson said Lt. Wilkins, amiable, likeable and friendly, received eight official citations and 10 letters of commendations from citizens. He was injured five time in his career.

Commenting on his ability as a policeman Northwestern District Commander, Capt. Harry Alender said: "I have known him for 20 good years. We worked together as patrolmen in the old Southern District. He was one of the finest gentlemen I have had the honor to serve with. He was compassionate and an excellent policeman."

Agent Lesson stated, "I served under him. He was a hell of a guy, an excellent man."

According to his widow, Mrs. Vivian Wilkins, a Social Security worker, she came back from work to find him dead.

"I was at work when it happened. I came back from work and when I went into his room he was dead."

Relatives state Lt. Wilkins did not complain of any sickness. "He was always strong and hard-working," one unidentified junior officer stated.

Born in Elizabeth, N.C. He was a graduate of Dunbar High School.

LT. RUDOLPH WILKINS

Wake is set for Friday, 7-8 p.m. Funeral services are at 11 a.m. Saturday at the St. Mark Baptist Church on Benfalou and Lanvale Sts. Burial is in the Arbutus Memorial Park.

In addition to his widow, Lt. Wilkins is survived by his two sisters, Mrs. Doris Howard and Mrs. Annie McClary; and four brothers, James, Theodore and David Wilkins and a half-brother, Melvin Griffin.

In Memoriam

GILES—In loving memory of HAROLD ALVIN GILES, who departed this life December 18, 1972.

SONNY we miss you and love.
Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all.
A bitter grief, a shock severe.
It was to part with one so dear.
Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile.
A loving heart that knew no guile.
Deep trust in God that all was right
His joy to make some others bright,
If sick or suffering one he knew
Some gentle act of love he'd do.
No thought of self, but of others
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.

Mother - LEAH and SISTERS and BROTHERS.

THOMAS — In loving memory of my dear sister, FLORENCE THOMAS, who passed away December 23, 1955:
Loving and kind in all her ways,

Beautiful memories she left behind.
