Catonsville Notes

that she did not take the time to visit the Smiths during the 20 years that her husband (Edward A. Williams) was principal of the school. The saying "Better late than never" is so true. It has come twenty years late, but I am so happy that I have had the opportunity to know the Smiths and to let the AFRO readers know about this wonderful couple. Thank you, Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Special thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson and his lovely wife, Marie for giving this writer the history of Grace A.M.E. Church, we published last week.

Many know the Johnsons' daughter, Diane, who is program director at Forest Haven Nursing Home.

Thinking-of-you cards to Addison Joyce, a native of Catonsville. Along with John Wood, (Junky), who is also a former Catonsville resident, Mr. Joyce founded the Baltimore chapter of the Guardsmen. He was also a charter member.

Formerly a principal in the Boston schools Mr. Joyce was forced to retire because of illness. Cards will reach him if addressed to the House in The Pines on Fusting Ave., Catonsville, Md.

All of us oldtimers remember Addie, and we always knew when he was around because he was the life of any gathering with his humor.

Also cards to Mrs. Louise Jones of Old Frederick Road. She is the widow of Clarence Jones who died recently. Mr. Jones worked for many years as a letter carrier here in the Catonsville community.

When Mr. Jones retired, he was remembered by businessmen and residents of the community whom he had served so well.

Have a blessed and happy holiday!

opment, there is no room for disbelievers. The stakes are so high, the benefits so great, the loss so unrecoverable that we must all take special care to assure the ultimate success of your children by scrutinizing the quality of early childhood development for the children of the community, local, state, and national . . ."

She felt that the time has come for parents to retain the primary responsibility for rearing children; she felt also that society should accept and fulfill its obligation of development of the child.

The educator climaxed her talk by reading a poem entitled "This a Child Learns."

The Founders' Day Luncheon Committee members were Celitha Dazy, Margaret Langford, Frances Long, Iris Stevens, Delores Thomas, and Frances Turner.

Oops! Another omission — Mrs. James F. (Jeanne) Cooper's name was left out as a member of the Wajamil Club in last week's article. She was one of the originals.

A gala time was enjoyed by some 250 guests who gathered a Friday ago at the Ramada Inn to bid farewell to Pauline Weston, the Grand Duchess of Certification.

Mrs. Weston is retiring after 36 years in government service. Included in the well-wishers were coworkers, friends, former employees and family members.

Late congratulations are extended to Joyce Thomas in recognition of her recent promotion to GS-9 Section Chief in a newly formed branch in the downtown Plaza Pratt building.

Mrs. Thomas began her career with the Social Security Administration as a Card Punch Operator in 1962 and advanced to the position of supervisor after gaining experience in several other clerical positions.

Her career has been highlighted with the receipt of a high quality, cash and supervisor excellence award.

Mrs. Thomas and her husband, Richard, are the parents of a nine-year-old daughter, Cynthia who attends Grace and St. Peters School.
