Pantry Pride

CONSUMER CORNER

"P" IS FOR PARTY

T is the people pleasin' season and the letter "P" turns out to be the key to penny wise party palate pleasures. So pick the penny pinchers and your party may be princely and low priced (especially if you pick Pantry Pride for your purchases).

PLENTIFUL AND PENNY PERFECT

The penny wise party P's are Punch, Pretzels, and Popcorn, closely followed by Popovers, Pizza, Pancakes, Pickles, Peanut Butter, Poppy seeds, and Potato Puffs. And Porcupines, of course! A porcupine, in case you aren't familiar with it, is a pan or brownies or small cakes or sweet rolls in which slivered almonds are poked up right for a very festive, party pretty. (If you have the patience to sliver your own, our BePlus soft shell almonds are an unusually great buy now — cheaper than last year!) Have a perfect Christmas.

Holiday Extravanganza

By Pinsie L. Ross
AFRO Columnist

This past weekend was a swinging one. Christmas galeties were held over all sections of Columbia. Like the one sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. Edward (Ruth) Hunt and Dr. and Mrs. James F. (Jeanne) Cooper.

Their specially designed invitation in red letters read: "Holiday Cheer, Cooper Hunt," and inside: "It's that time again with the Coopers and the Hunts. For our second Christmas Thing come out and let the bells ring while Season's Greetings we bring."

The occasion was another of the elegant zesty affairs where friends were warmly received by the charming hostesses and their counterparts as their guests entered the door, greeting them with warm embraces and a cheek kiss by the husbands.

The warm atmosphere provided by the many friends prevailed throughout the evening.

The buffet was mouth watering and simply delicious. The table was laden with all kinds of steaming hot hors d'ouvres, tasty cold fancy canapes, spreads, cheeses, and well prepared punch all prepared by Deshields Caterers.

Believe me, the open bar was serving all kinds of drinks you could ask for. There was a magnificent centerpiece made of live flowers consisting of white and red mums with Christmas holly to add a holiday touch.

Guests danced to the music of the Duel Tones, which kept the beautiful people on their feet most of the evening. There were several conga train lines going from time to time. Those couples that were mighty quiet before were not so quiet after the line started ... they really did their thing.

Mrs. Cooper brought Christmas greetings to her guests in a silver pencil-fitted, long-sleeved, metallic gown. The gown had see-through designs down the sleeves and in front of the dress. Still more greetings were extended to the guests by Mrs. Ruth Hunt, co-hostess, who glamorized the evening in a long black knit gown with long sleeves accented with red and black rib knit across the bodice and bottom of the skirt.

Talking about glitter, Dr. Louise N. Young chose a subtle pastel, sequined pantsuit which was absolutely elegant. She wore a hot pink wide belt which cinched her waistline and chose silver accessories. Metallic seems to have been a favorite of many at the party.

Mildred Young chose a beautiful red metallic sheath gown. The long-sleeve gown had a slit to the side and was accessorized with a narrow gold belt.

Seen among the group was Sarah Turner looking stunning in a three-piece ensemble. The gold lame and blouse were made out of metallic over a multi-print wrap skirt of same fabric.

Bertha Goodman looked mighty chic in a three-piece outfit. The silver metallic tailored jacket could be opened to reveal a multi-striped shell of green, red, black, and gold over a black velvet long skirt with a split up the front.

Black and red were special favorites of Dolly Webb and she wore it very gracefully. It was a three-piece velvet outfit. The long-fitted jacket had bits of black accent complementing a black, sequined, turtle-neck shell and long black skirt; she wore a dashing black sequined turban to match.

Choosing black also was Suzanne Price in a fashionable black blazon ensemble and petite Vashi Lewis in a pencil-fitted, long knit gown.

Sympathy is extended to Dr. Ernest Colvin in the loss of his father in S.C.

Thought for Today

"Two grateful hands to thank the Lord whose bie sings never cease; two faithful hands to glorify the Father and the Son; two gentle hands, to ask that God grant all enduring peace; and two ready hands to toil until the Master's work is done."

May you be blessed with a very prosperous New Year.

New Year's day will find friends of Dr. and Mrs. Douglass J. Camper (Naom) at their annual Open House. Here Mrs. Camper is pictured with the Yule tree she created with gold and silver garland. The design hangs from a pole lamp enabling the light to shine through the garland. Red and white birds along with little lamps and mirrors of silver and gold are found all over the tree.

What? Sip Bacardi before you mix it?
Sure. It's surprisingly dry, not sweet. Light-bodied, not heavy. Delightfully smooth. And so good mixed, it's got to be good un-mixed, right? Try it.
