Black Irish duo surprises Ala. in the Orange Bowl

A fullback who had been expected not to play and a defensive back who was thought to be overmatched by the quickness of the opponents, collaborated in the 13-11 victory scored by Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl New Year's night.

Wayne Bullock, twice bedded by flu and absent from practice four days prior to the contest, tallied the first of the touchdowns for the Irish.

And Reggie Barnett, a talented but not-so-fast cornerback, snuffed out Crimson Tide hopes with an interception in the final seconds.

• • •

The victory had a multiple effect on the combatants.

First, it gave Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian a happy going-away present for the retirement which followed the game.

Secondly, it marked the second straight bowl victory over an Alabama eleven that was anticipating a national championship. Thirdly, it extended to eight the string of post-season losses suffered by Alabama under coach Bear Bryant.

And in the fourth place, it offered a measure of solace to Parseghian and a team which had been humiliated, 55-24, by Southern California in its last previous outing.

• • •

Notre Dame scored its first touchdown with 8:19 gone in the first period, driving 16 yards after recovering an Alabama fumble, with fullback Bullock pushing and twisting the last four yards.

Another Alabama mistake, an offsides on a fourth down play, kept Notre Dame's only other scoring drive alive. Mark McLane went across from nine yards out and the Irish had a 13-0 lead with 8:29 left in the first half.

At the time, Dave Reeves' missed conversion kick didn't seem very important — but it loomed larger and larger late in the contest.

• • •

Alabama finally scored with 1:45 left in the half on a 21-yard field goal by Danny Ridgeway and cut the margin to just two points with 3:13 left in the game.

• • •

Those final eight points came on a 48-yard touchdown pass from Richard Todd to Russ Schamun and a two-point conversion pass from Todd to George Pugh.

• • •

Alabama got the ball back at its own 38 with 1:39 left on the clock and two quick Todd passes moved the ball to the Notre Dame 38 with plenty of time left.

But Barnett intercepted the next one and the fateful Irish ran out the clock.

"I thought I could make a touchdown," said Barnett of the interception. "Then, I thought, wait, I've just got to hold on to the ball."

Aaron, Ali feats top UPI list of '74 performances

By Steve Snider

NEW YORK (UPI) — Going . . . going . . . gone!

Hank Aaron's first two home runs of the year, tying and breaking Babe Ruth's supposedly insurmountable lifetime record of 714, provided the No. 1 sports story of 1974 was selected by United Press International.

Barring accident or illness, he'd do it sooner or later this year and almost everyone knew it including the 39-year-old slugger of the Atlanta Braves. Yet, the trama of the final achievement to Atlanta on the night of April 8 proved more explosive in the opinion of the UPI panel than Muhammad Ali's stunning knockout of George Foreman, the runner-up story among the year's top 10.

• • •

The Aaron home run saga was voted No. 1 on nine of 15 ballots from the panel of UPI sports writers. The other six first place ballots were cast for Ali's victory in Kinshasha, Zaire, Oct. 30, restoring the heavyweight championship stripped from him in 1967 when he refused to enter military service.

Four of the "best" involved baseball, three deal with pro football with one each for boxing, college basketball and tennis.

The Top 10:

1 — Aaron Breaks Ruth's record.

2 — Ali regains heavyweight title.

3 — A's win third straight World Series.

4 — Frank Robinson becomes first black manager.

5 — Miami Dolphins win second Super Bowl.

6 — NFL players' strike.

7 — Jim "Catfish" Hunter becomes free agent.

8 — North Carolina State ends UCLA College basketball reign.

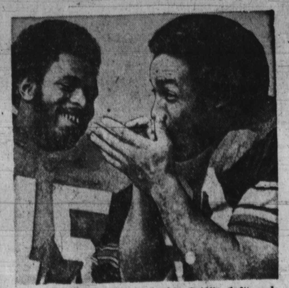
9 — Lovebirds Jimmie Connors and Chris Evert win Wimbledon.

10 — World Football League player signings and troubles.

• • •

The Braves, who wanted Aaron's tying and breaking homers to be struck on home grounds at Atlanta, announced Hank would not be in the lineup for the opening series at Cincinnati. Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, however, ordered the club to play him and take its chances. Aaron hit the tying No. 714 with the first swing of his bat at Cincy.

Back in Atlanta, April 8, Aaron finally made it to 715 before a TV audience estimated at 40 million — more people than saw Ruth perform in person during his entire career.



NO DUEL FOR DUO — Archie Griffin (left) and Anthony Davis had been expected to engage in a duel matching the nation's two top collegiate running backs in the Rose Bowl game between Ohio State and Southern California. But the matchup did not come off because Davis was hurt early in the contest and had to withdraw to the sideline as his SC teammates eked out victory, 18-17.

Lyle reported awaiting Ali Ok

DENVER (UPI) — The Denver Boxing Club said heavyweight Ron Lyle had signed his portion of an agreement Tuesday to meet world champ Muhammad Ali in a title bout at Madison Square Garden next spring.

Club spokesman Mike Hayes said the agreement signed by Lyle would operate with either of two closed-circuit TV groups currently negotiating for rights to televise the fight.

Hayes said Ali's people are negotiating with the TV groups and a decision on the fight might come as early as Thursday.

Victory over Raiders gave Steelers identity

The Pittsburgh Steelers are en route to the Super Bowl and the Jan. 12 clash with the Minnesota Vikings because they found their identity at Oakland on Dec. 29.

That is the explanation given by defensive tackle Joe Greene following Pittsburgh's 24-13 triumph in the American Football Conference title playoff.

• • •

"We've been striving to find out who we were all season long," said Greene, who had a large part in the victory over the Raiders, "and now we know we are a damn good football team because we beat a damn good football team."

Greene and linemates L.C. Greenwood, Ernie Holmes and Dwight White combined to hold the Raiders to only 29 rushing yards and even though Franco Harris ran for a pair of touchdowns and 111 yards, and Rocky Bleier added 98 rushing yards, in the end it was the play of the Pittsburgh defense that propelled the Steelers to victory and into pro football's showcase game.

"This victory," said coach Chuck Noll, "is the culmination of everything for me and the players. We worked like hell the whole season, overcame some shortcomings and then won the games we had to win.

"In big games I firmly believe you have to stick to basic football, and that's what we did.

"We controlled the ball from start to finish and even when we fell behind in the third quarter, I felt we would win it because we never let them get on top of us up front, and that's where you win football games."

Harris, Bleier and quarterback Terry Bradshaw were the only players who carried or threw the ball from scrimmage in an iron-man performance for all three.

Harris went eight yards up the middle for one score — the one that tied the game at 10-10 early in the final quarter — and 21 yards on the final Pittsburgh TD in the last minute to put the game out of reach.

Only once before have the Steelers come close to the Super Bowl and that was two years ago, but they lost to the Miami Dolphins in the championship game.

December 29: 'a day to remember' for Rams

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. — "It was just one of those days," said Los Angeles quarterback James Harris after the error-prone Rams were defeated 14-10 by the Minnesota Vikings in the National Football Conference title game.

"Things just didn't go our way," Harris said. "We just made too many mistakes to go away with the victory. We got beat by a good football team."

The Rams were penalized 70 yards to Minnesota's 10 and lost the ball on three fumbles and two pass interceptions.

Behind 7-3 in the third quarter, Harris conected with Harold Jackson on a 73-yard pass to the Minnesota 2, but the drive was eventually halted by an illegal motion penalty and Minnesota linebacker Wally Hilgenberg's interception in the end zone.

"I saw linemen coming at me from everywhere and just did the best I could to escape," said Harris, who slipped three tackles before throwing the 73-yard pass to Jackson.

Two plays later, left guard Tom Mack was penalized for illegal motion.

"Mack told me he didn't move said Rams coach Chuck Knox. Threre were a lot of flags out there but I guess I'd better not comment on the officiating."

• • •

"We moved the football early on a drive. Then came a fumble. Then on another drive, what happens — we fumble. Then after Jackson's catch, a penalty and we're back to the seven.

"Everytime we got something going, something would happen against us. Our team gave it a heluva effort but things just didn't work out for us."

Brown, Stones set for duel in CYO jump

Reynaldo Brown of the All-American Track Club of Los Angeles, will try for his fourth consecutive victory — a record breaking performance — in the high jump event of the 8th annual National Invitational Indoor Track Meet, sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization and the University of Maryland "M" Club at Maryland's Cole Field House, next Friday night.

This despite the fact that he will be challenged by an all-star field that will include the world's No. 1 high jumper in the Pacific Coast Club's Dwight Stones.

Stones, a world champion, nevertheless has lost to Brown in the NIT high jump for the past two years.

Reynaldo exploded out of anonyminity to set a new American mark of seven-feet, four-inches in the 1972 event at Cole Field House and was victorious at seven-feet, two-inches here last January.

However, both he and Stones will be opposed by some exceptional talent.

Brian Melly, Maryland's sensational freshman, and Ed Lennox of St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, will bear watching as will such other entries as Pat Metzdorf, Chicago Track Club; Dave Phillips, Pembroke; Mark Branch, Tennessee; Steve Ott, Florida, and Gibson Willis, U.S. Navy.

New lawyers ask boxer's retrial

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (UPI) — A new team of attorneys has filed a second appeal for a new trial for former boxer Rubin "Hurricane" Carter and a co-defendant convicted of triple murder charges in 1967.

The attorneys, representing Carter, 37, and co-defendant John Artis, 29, filed the petition here Tuesday with Superior Court Judge Samuel A. Larner, who presided at the defendants' trial in connection with the slayings in a Paterson tavern in 1966.

• • •

The attorneys asked Larner to overrule his own ruling of Dec. 10 which denied a new trial for the defendants. The attorneys said Larner had "misapprehended" four legal points in the original appeal for a new trial.

Those points, the attorneys said, were inadequately detailed during a hearing before Larner in October and November on the motion for the new trial. The attorneys took over Carter's defense from two public defenders.

• • •

During those hearings two witnesses at the Carter trial, Alfred P. Bello and Arthur D. Bradley, both said they had been forced to testify against the defendants against their will by the Passaic County prosecutors office and Paterson police.

Larner denied the motion for a new trial, saying recanted testimony is traditionally unacceptable in court.

Bobo, Bruno at Landover

Big Bobo Brazil and Bruno Sammartino, stars of the World Wide Wrestling Federation, headline in separate one-fall finish matches on the opening wrestling spectacular of the New Year at the Capital Centre in Landover, Monday night.

Bobo risks his World Wide Wrestling version of the United States heavyweight championship against the one man wrecking crew, Killer Kowalski, while Sammartino defends his WWWF world title against the towering Cowboy Bob Duncum.

• • •

The popular team of Larry Zbysko and Indian Jay Strongbow battles the WWWF tag team champion—brothers Jimmy and Johnny Valiant, in a two-of-three-fall team match, while the duo of Bill White and Hans Shroeder takes on Dean Ho and Tony Garea.

Supporting bouts list Butch Nova vs. Spiros Arion, Dynamite Jack Evans vs. Abdulis, the Butcher and Johnny Rodz vs. Tony Altomare.
