Rites Saturday for Mrs. Frankie M. Wilson

Funeral services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Frankie McClain Wilson, 70, 3810 Windsor Mill Rd., at the Morton and Dyett Funeral Home, 4601 Liberty Heights Ave.

Mrs. Wilson died Wednesday in Provident Hospital after a two-month illness.

Born March 7, 1904 in Nashville, Tennessee, she was the daughter of John and Jonetta McClain.

Mrs. Wilson received her BA in Social Science at Fisk University. She was the widow of Dr. Edwin Wilson of New York.

She came to Baltimore three years ago, enjoyed gardening, traveling and working with youth and was a member of the Phi Delta Kappa, Junior Non Pareil and American Association of University Women.

Survivors include two sisters Mrs. Flossie Dedmond, dean of arts and sciences division, Coppin State College; Mrs. Alice Newkirk, reading supervisor, New York; two brothers-in-law, Dr. Frederick H. Dedmond, professor and former department head of foreign languages, Morgan State College; Ernie Newkirk, supervisor of cosmetics frim in New York and niece, Laurne Newkirk, 11.

Mourning will be at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Dedmond, 2024 Whittier Ave.

P. Wainwright funeral Monday

Funeral services will be held Monday for Philip Wendell Wainwright, 31, 1205 Oakhurst Place, at the Manna Bible Baptist Church, 3043 W. Belvedere Ave. at 11 a.m.

Mr. Wainwright died Thursday at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Survivors include father, Eccleston Wainwright; sister, Miss Deborah Wainwright; brother, Stephen Wainwright; aunt, Mrs. Hattie Freeman and uncle, Clarence Freeman with whom he lived.

Family will receive friends Sunday, 7-8 p.m. at the Wainwright Funeral Home, 2700 Edmondson Ave.

Energy meeting set Jan. 23

The Maryland Energy Policy Office will sponsor a statewide energy conference to be held Jan. 23 at the Baltimore Hilton, 101 W. Fayette St.

The thrust of the conference will be energy conservation and the role of the consumer and the role of the legislature in energy programs.

The keynote speaker will be S. David Freeman, formerly director of the Ford Foundation Energy Research Project. Mr. Freeman is presently a special Senate Commerce Committee energy consultant to the committee.

STEELER SITTER-UPPER — Pittsburgh running back Franco Harris is caught in the act of working out privately in preparation for Sunday's Super Bowl game against the Minnesota Vikings at New Orleans. The sitting-up exercises engaged in by the Steelers' bruising ground gainer are as close to mobile yogi as one can get.

Ali, Foreman, Joe Frazier led 1974's dollar parade

By Steve Snider

NEW YORK (UPI) — Superstars command supermoney.

Muhammad Ali led the top 10 in American sports in 1974 earnings with $5.85 million and George Foreman was only $150,000 away, proving there's no business like the boxing business.

But over the next five years, Jim "Catfish" Hunter will be up there next to the fighters if all goes well with his contract to pitch for the New York Yankees on a package deal estimated at between $2.7 million and $3.7 million, depending on who guesses and how the loot is invested.

At the lowest figure, Hunter's earnings average out at $540,000 per year or at $740,000 if the package is worth the $3.7 million bandied about on New Year's Eve when the former A's pitcher signed with the Yankees.

• • •

Either figure would put him fourth on the 1974 money list among U.S. Sports competitors. The top 10 and ties estimated for the year just ended:

1. Muhammad Ali, Boxing $5,850,000
2. George Foreman, boxing, 5,700,000
3. Joe Frazier, boxing, 1,250,000
4. Hervé Filion, Harness Racing, 500,000
5. Ernie Digregorio, Basketball, 440,000
6. Moses Malone, basketball, 430,000
7. Lafitte Pincay, jockey, 425,000.
8. Bill Walton, basketball, 420,000
9. Angel Cordero, jockey, 418,000
10. Billy Haughton, harness racing, 400,000
- Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, basketball, 400,000
- Nate Archibald, Basketball, 400,000
- George McGinnis, basketball, 400,000

• • •

In addition, Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick and Paul Warfield of the Miami Dolphins have signed a $3 million, three year pact to play in the World Football League starting next season.

They, and perhaps other pro football jumpers to the WFL, have received down payments not counted in the 1974 estimates.

Viking ace won't settle for second best Sunday

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Chuck Foreman doesn't intend to settle for second best this time.

The Minnesota Vikings "Mr. Versatility" doesn't want a repeat of last year's Super Bowl showdown Sunday against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"I was upset because we lost last year but happy because I was just in the Super Bowl," Foreman said Tuesday. "I thought that maybe we weren't the No. 1 team but we were No. 2 and second among 26 teams really isn't that bad.

• • •

"But I don't think I can handle it that way this time—not two years in a row."

Foreman is instant offense for the Vikings. Just consider the figures.

He led the league in touchdowns with 15, nine rushing and six receiving. He ranked fourth in the NFC in rushing with 777 yards and sixth in receiving with 53 catches for 586 yards.

Son of Buddy Young eulogized in Rockville

Funeral services for Claude Young Jr. were held Wednesday morning at the United Methodist Church in Rockville (Md.) with interment following at Park Lawn Cemetery.

The capacity crowd of mourners included dignitaries from the National Football League's headquarters, led by commissioner Pete Rozelle, and representatives from each of the NFL's 24 clubs.

The deceased was the eldest son of Buddy Young, popular former All-Pro halfback of the Baltimore Colts, now on the executive staff of the league in New York.

• • •

In eulogizing the 29-year-old cancer victim, the Rev. Marion C. Bascom of the Douglass Memorial Community Church (Baltimore), took note of his youth.

"Life," said the minister, "is not based on duration but on donation. It is not for us to be concerned with how long one lives, but what one gives.

"Methuselah," he added, "lived 969 years, yet that was his only accomplishment that is remembered."

• • •

Among those in attendance were many Buddy Young associates and former athletes, as well as colleagues of Claude Jr., in the stock brokerage field he had entered as his life work.

Earl Banks, Buddy's closest friend since their high school days in Chicago, was on hand along with his wife, Mrs. Essie Banks.

Also attending were John Unitas, Jim Mutscheller, Bill Pellington and Artie Donovan, former Colts stars, and Dave Bing, the Detroit Pistons basketball standout who was a classmate of Claude Jr., at Syracuse University.

• • •

The Chicago Bears were represented at the rites by Paul Patterson, their traveling secretary who was a running mate of Buddy in the backfield when they were at Illinois.

Alva Tabor, former head football coach at Tuskegee Institute, now an assistant with the Cleveland Browns, brought condolences from that club.

Aside from his father, Claude Jr., is survived by his widow, Mrs. Diane T. Young; a daughter, Dawne; a son, Claude 3rd; his mother, Mrs. Geraldine Young; a sister, Paula, and two brothers, Jeffery L. and Zollie D. Young. . . .

Livingstone Coppin State foe tonight

Coach John Bates and his Coppin State basketers hope to register their second and third victories of the new year tonight (Friday) and Saturday.

The Eagles are at home to two formidable foes for the weekend, taking on Livingstone College of Salisbury, N.C., and Barber Scotia of Concord, N.C., on successive evenings.

• • •

Aided by Joe Pace, a transfer along with Bates from Maryland, Eastern Shore; Andre Turner, 6-8; Michael Turner, 6-8, and 6-1 Gary Barnes, the Eagles scored a 94-78 win over Southeastern in their 1975 opener last week.

The weekend task may not be easy, however, as Livingstone is one of several highly rated quints in the CIAA. And Barber-Scotia in her last outing surprised Virginia Union, one of the perennial cage powers in that conference.

Wheelers set Saturday tilt

The Baltimore Ravens, defending Eastern Division champions if the National Wheelchair Basketball Association, will continue their title defense against the Washington Dolphins at Holabird Junior High School tomorrow (Saturday) at 7:30 p.m.

The Ravens, riding a five-game winning streak after losing their opener to Richmond, are currently in a tie with the Dolphins for second place in the Southeastern Conference of the NWBA, one game behind league leading Richmond.

• • •

Ravens freshman coach, Mike Naugle, is confident that his Baltimore five will defeat the young Dolphin team, "if we can stop their big scoring threat, Rufus Ratcliffe."

Ratcliffe, a young, hard-driving forward has been averaging 17.5 points per game and is currently one of the top five scorers in the league.

The Ravens, co-sponsored by the Baltimore-Central Maryland League for Crippled Children and Adults and the Maryland Rehabilitation Center, have shown steady improvement since the opening game and appear to be headed for a showdown appearance against Richmond in the regional playoffs.

Bullets host LA on return home

LANDOVER, Md. — The Washington Bullets return home tomorrow (Saturday) following an 11-day road trip. The Bullets' first home appearance of 1975 will feature the first visit of the Los Angeles Lakers in the 8:05 p.m. game.

Saturday will be "Picture Night." Any youngster 14-and-under will have his picture taken with a Bullet player between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. The color picture will develop immediately.

Following the Lakers' game, the Bullets take a five-day break for the All-Star game. Elvin Hayes is definitely going, having been elected a starter for the East.

K. C. Jones will coach the East team and hopes to have at least two of his other players, Phil Chenier and Unseld, who have to wait for a verdict on the coaches' vote for the remaining seven berths.
