—U.S. called in on Mitchell case

STATES ATTORNEY TOLD

"I have advised William Swisher, State's Attorney for the City of Baltimore and Sen. Edward T. Conroy, chairman of the Constitutional and Public Law Committee of the actions I have taken.

"On Thursday, Jan. 30, I spoke on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives explaining the police spying situation in Baltimore, and advising the House of Representatives of the actions taken with regard to the Senate Select Committee and the Department of Justice.

"We who serve the public have a duty and responsibility to protect the civil rights and civil liberties of those we represent.

"In addition, we have a duty and responsibility to educate the public as to the dreadful danger to our form of government which occurs when civil liberties are eroded or trammeled by any Agency of the Government.

"The actions I have taken against the Baltimore Police Department serve to meet both sets of duties and responsibilities."

LETTERS

The Honorable Frank Church, Chairman Select Committee to Study Governmental Intelligence Gathering Activities, U.S. Senate, 245 Russell Senate Office Building Washington.

Dear Mr. Chairman — This letter is to formally request that the Senate Select Committee To Study Governmental Intelligence Gathering Activities include in its efforts to examine alleged illegal and unethical activities of the American intelligence community an investigation of the Baltimore City Police Department.

Specifically, I strongly urge that the Committee explore the allegations of invasions of privacy and breaching of civil rights of numerous citizens, Elected Officials, Clergymen and community groups by the illegal spying and record maintenance activities of the Baltimore Police Department's Inspectional Services Division (ISD).

Although the ISD is under the aegis of a local level enforcement agency, the intercession of your Committee is heavily warranted, particularly given the admission by the Department's Commissioner that surveillance reports on political figures are often forwarded to the FBI.

A significant amount of material has been gathered and exposed through newspaper reports detailing activities which clearly indicate that the ISD was engaged in activities of at least questionable legality.

More recent accounts indicate a widespread practice of surveillance and infiltration by ISD agents and informants.

For example, files were maintained on over one hundred different groups and organizations. However, many of these groups are clearly involve in reputable civil rights, religious, or civic pursuits.

Additionally, there is information to suggest that my own campaign headquarters have been infiltrated by ISD informants during at least two previous campaigns. The list of alleged abuses and intrusions seems to be endless.

It is known that reports developed by the ISD were frequently channeled into the intelligence networks of the FBI and the Army Intelligence Agency.

Hence, another link is added to a chain which could be strangling the rights of privacy and assemblage guaranteed by the Constitution.

Therefore, as a Member of Congress sworn to uphold and defend that Constitution, I am compelled to seek the direct recourse of filing this formal request that your Committee investigate the Baltimore Police Department.

Please know that I stand ready to provide detailed information or any other necessary assistance to aid in your attempt to weigh the Committee's possible actions in regard to this matter.

I shall earnestly await the Committee's response, which I am confident will be in the best interest of all Americans.

To Honorable Laurence H. Silberman, Deputy Attorney General, Department of Justice, Room 4111, Constitution Avenue, Washington.

Dear Mr. Silberman — I wrote you in late December, 1974, requesting that the Justice Department initiate an investigation of possible criminal activities of the Baltimore City Police Department.

At that time, I enclosed newspaper reports detailing activities which clearly indicated that the Department was engaged in activities of at least questionable legality.

Since the date of my last letter, much new material has been disclosed. I enclose in this letter copies of more recent articles indicating a widespread practice of surveillance and infiltration by the Department.

In addition, a former Department employee, a Mr. Guest, has informed me that he was used by the Department to infiltrate my own campaign headquarters in the 1970 election and to report, fully, on all of my staff's strategy meetings, etc. Mr. Guest is willing to testify if requested.

The reports of these activities certainly give a reasonable person probable cause to believe that the persons involved have violated provisions of the United States criminal code.

By way of illustration, it is clear that the Department has engaged in political surveillance of Black civil rights organizations and, in at least one known case, in breaking and entering into the offices of lawyers representing Black criminal defendants.

There also exists sufficient evidence of illegal electronic surveillance to justify, indeed to require, further investigation.

It seems hardly open to doubt that these acts, if proven, constitute a violation of 18 U.S.C. Sec. 241 and 242. As you know, Sec. 241 makes illegal any conspiracy to "injure, oppress, threaten or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to them by the Constitution of the United States or because of his having so exercised the same." Sec. 242 prohibits essentially the same acts, if they are undertaken "under color of law," which clearly encompasses any such activity by a police department.

Obviously, among the rights and privileges secured by the Constitution, which are protected against infringement by Sec. 241 and 242 are the right to vote. U.S. v. Saylor, 322 U.S. 385 (1944), the right to due process, U.S. v. Price, 383 U.S. 787 (1966), the right to freely exercise the First Amendment privileges of free speech, press and political assembly, e.g., Time, Inc. v. Hill, 85 U.S. 347 (1967) the freedom from invasions of privacy in deroganion of the Fourth Amendment, Mapp v. Ohio, 337 U.S. 643 (1961) or the Ninth Amendment, Griswold v. Connecticut, 381 U.S. 479 (1965), and freedom from illegal electronic surveillance, Katz v. U.S., 89 U.S. 347 (1967). Ct., U.S. v. US. Dist. Court, 407 U.S. 297 (1972).

Given the facts already made public, in addition to the evidence available through persons such as Mr. Guest, a sufficient basis exists to justify, indeed to require, a criminal investigation by the Justice Department.

As recent events should prove beyond doubt, no greater potential for harm to our society can exist than exists in those cases in which the prosecuting authorities yield to pressure not to investigate or prosecute public officials.

Let me urge you, again, to initiate an investigation into these activities of the Baltimore City Police Department.

Pease let me know, at an early date, if and when you plan to undertake the investigation so clearly required under these circumstances.

Correction

In the Jan. 21 issue of the AFRO we inadvertedly stated Earl N. Edwards is a resident of the Maryland Penitentiary and that he helped organize fund raising for slain African student Miss Woldehaimot.

Mr. Edwards is, in fact, not an inmate but a member of the teaching staff at the St. John's Welding School located within the Maryland House of Correction at Jessup, Md.

We regret the error.

What Do Many Doctors Use When They Suffer Pain And Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues?

Exclusive formula gives prompt, temporary relief from such pain and itch in many cases. Helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues due to inflammation.

News about a most effective medication comes from a recent survey of doctors. Asked what they, themselves, use to relieve such painful symptoms, many of the doctors reporting named one particular medication they either use themselves or in their office practice.

This medication gives prompt relief for hours in many cases from pain and itching of hemorrhoidal tissues. And it actually helps shrink swelling of such tissues caused by infection. Tests by doctors showed this to be true.

The medication used was Preparation H®—the same exclusive formula you can buy at any drug counter without a prescription. Try doctor-tested Preparation H. There's no other formula like it. At drug counters everywhere. Ointment or suppositories.

Fire Dept. submits $49 million budget

The Board of Fire Commissioners met at Fire Department Headquarters on Wednesday, Jan. 29 at 1:30 p.m. The meeting which began 50 minutes late, was the first held by the board since early December.

The fire department's $49 million budget request for fiscal year 1976 was presented. The request, a $7 million increase over the present budget, allocates $6 million to salary adjustments.

Howard R. Owens, board president, presented 29 awards to Baltimore citizens for service rendered to the department during emergency situations.

The board did not make any report on the investigations of recent cheating during examinations.

Executive Secretary John T. O'Malley told the AFRO, "The investigations are being conducted by the State Attorney's office, and we cannot disclose any information."

Other business included promotions, retirements, appointments, and examination schedules.

danger of having their lives blighted because of a lack of proper nutrition.

The torment of the mothers of these little children, is intensified, when they can't find work because of the present economic situation. Who can they turn to for help?

About $550 per month is the entire funding for the center although there are countless applicants from all over the city.

The money is donated by the Maryland Food Committee, ($300), St. Martins Church, (Offices space, light and heat, and $100), St. Peters, Fulton Baptist and St. Marks Church.

This money is to assist a case load of approximately 2,000 clients, and over 200 people who were recently laid off from work.

Mrs. Margaret Perkins, is a volunteer staff director. She cites the difficulty some of the public assistance clients have in buying food stamps, because the assistance check, and the food stamp applications don't come at the same time.

Consequently, by the time the people do get their food stamp applications, their money is spent because they had to buy food with the money.

With the high cost of food these days, the larger families are forced to spend their entire check on food, which does not allow enough for other essentials.

Essentials like clothing, and shoes, and in increasingly more and more cases the rent.

Ms. Perkins says that one of the most heartbreaking problems that she has had to deal with is people being forcibly evicted for non payment of rent.

Tragedy is bound to come unless you help. Why wait? Help today.

It won't be much longer before we hear some deprived citizens who suffered death during the night because they were evicted, and had to spend the night in an abandoned auto in subfreezing weather.

It may already have happened.

Ms. Perkins and her staff have tried in the past to see that the people who most need help receive some type of assistance, until they can receive Welfare.

These provide small grants of money to buy food, and food stamps. They make available donated clothing, and try to assist those who have been evicted from their homes.

State employee Ms. Isis Plater is located at the center, and she certifies people for public assistance and food stamps.

The situation at the center is critical. The center is out of funds, and the area is on the verge of disaster.

We must help our people in need.

We must save our children.

What can you do to help? Please, send whatever you can spare, to the Southwest Outreach Center, 31 N. Fulton Ave. Or call 945-0934.

They would also welcome any canned or boxed foods that you can spare.

In this time of economic depression and unemployment, we must help those who are a little less fortunate.

We must save the children.

house and noticed the bedroom lights on and the newspaper still in the door.

The mail was in the box, she said.

Mrs. Harley said she looked through the window and saw what looked like blood and went next door to call police.

According to Mrs. Harley, the police would not break the door down.

However, the police contacted a sergeant.

Later Mrs. Harley said she and the Rev. Dr. Swann's godson, Gary Richardson, broke a window to get in and discovered the Rev. Dr. Swann dead.

During investigation in November, police say they did not have a motive.

Highlighting many disclosures by church members at services the last Sunday the Rev. Dr. Swann was seen, were their statements about strangers entering the church.

Some persons in the congregation at the time said several well-dressed men came in and the Rev. Dr. Swann appeared to be come upset.

Others said they heard that the strangers later had a private conference in the Rev. Dr. Swann's study.

The Rev. Dr. Swann had written his obituary prior to his death.

Last rites held Nov. 18 at his church witnessed an unprecedented throng of mourners, including congressmen, state legislators, the mayor of the town representative of the governor, clergymen and dignitaries from across the nation.

Pall bearers included State Senator Julian Lapides, the Rev. S. Phillip Cousins, James Robinson, James Hill and Charles Jones. Also, Frederick A. Bailey, Herman Lubcher and Clifton Taylor.

Honorary Pall bearers were ministers of Second Episcopal District, the official board Waters AME Church, Interdenominational Ministers Alliance, City Hospital Commission, Gay Street Merchants Association and Coppin State Board of Visitors of which the minister was a member.

'Olympics' set pin meet Sun.

The Hillendale Bowling Lanes will be the host of the second Maryland Special Olympics bowling tournament.

More than 200 boys and girls from nine counties in Maryland will be competing in their various divisions.

The children will be categorized by performance as well as age so they compete with others of the same proficiency.

The acceptance of bowling as a Special Olympic sport in Maryland has been wide spread and has prompted the Maryland Special Olympics to accelerate its bowling program on the state level.

It has been found that the bowling program develops confidence and self-esteem, not only among these young athletes but in parents, brothers and sisters, friends and neighbors. It gives the mentally retarded a chance to belong and to make a contribution.

The tournament will get underway at the Hillendale Bowling Lanes, 1045 Taylor Avenue, Sunday, at 12:30 p.m. The general public is invited, and there will be no admission charge.

Mc Nally luncheon aids crippled kids

Members of the Oriole Advocates have all been invited to attend the luncheon honoring Dave McNally on February 6th at the Baltimore-Central Maryland League for Crippled Children and Adults.

The tribute to the former Oriole pitching star who has been traded to Montreal will be held next Thursday (6th) at 12:30 p.m. in the league's Rehabilitation Center, 1111 East Cold Spring Lane.

The luncheon will also signal the start of the annual Crippled Children's Seal campaign.

Oriole players and front office staff, as well as sports columnists, sportscasters, and Maryland athletes will attend the luncheon affair to honor McNally who has served as co-chairman of the annual campaign for the past five years along with former Colt, Tom Matte.

3 in line for elections board posts

Three black citizens are on a list of eight candidates selected by the Baltimore City Central Committee to fill two vacancies on the Board of Election Supervisors.

Percy Davis, present board member; the Rev. Daniel Green, assistant pastor of 1st Abyssinian Baptist Church and Nathaniel Oaks, member of the State Central Committee' 41st. District, are the only members of the black community who made formal application for the appointments, expected to be made by Gov. Mandel in February.

Terms of the present board members expire in mid-year.

The list was finalized by unanimious vote of the 25 members present at a meeting of the Baltimore City Central Committee Wednesday night at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

Other candidates vying for the posts are: Major Bernard Talley Jr., Mary (Mimi) Waxter, Peter Lewis, Joseph Ciotola, and John Donohue, present chairman of the board.

All the contenders agreed to be on a list to be submitted by the Central Committee from which the Governor will fill one board substitute member vacancy.
