CATONSVILLE NOTES

Melvin Park Apartments; a Catonsville community

By Elizabeth Williams

Everyone in Catonsville and surrounding areas knows about the Melvin Park Apartments. When they first opened about 24 years ago, many of our neighbors were the first occupants.

I do not remember who the original occupants were but I will be able to give an accurate report when I write the history of this great landsite which is in the heart of the Catonsville community.

The Rev. Oscar Christmas was the manager for many years. (The Rev. Mr. Christmas lost his brother, Dr. Bernard Christmas, the dentist last Saturday.) Send him 'thinking of you' cards.)

There are many of the long-time residents still living in the Melvin complex which could be considered a lotte community in itself.

Among them are: Mrs. Doris Carter; Phil, Doris and Debbie Kane, E. Jeorme and Irene Ross Holland, Bennie, retired and Dottie Brown, Balto. and a very efficient and dedicated school nurse;

Also the Bernard Mason family; Charlotte Skipworth; the Wilbur Radcliffs and Tom and Mildred Boyer and family. More coming soon on the Melvin Park Apartments and residents.

* * *

Speaking of Tom Boyer, Catonsville is really proud of this good citizen. Mr. Boyer, 44, resides with his wife, Mildred, and their five children on Suter Rd. He is the first black person to be appointed to the School Board in Baltimore County.

Mr. Boyer graduated from Morgan State College with a B.S. degree in romance language.

He served in the U.S. Army as a Second Lieutenant, and saw duty in Korea. He began to work with the Social Security Administration in 1959.

Long active in PTA work, Tom is now president of the Catonsville Senior High School PTA and is an area vice president of the PTA Council of Balto. County.

He is also chairman of the Citizenship, Human and International Relations Committee of the PTA Council and serves as a member of the Southwestern Area Educational Advisory Council.

* * *

The Boyers' children are: Erika, 11, Hilcrest Elementary; Suzette, 14, and Frederick, 16, are enrolled at Catonsville Senior High; Michelle, 18, Catonsville Community College; and Adrian, 20, Morgan State College.

Your neighbors are proud of you, Mildred and Tom I put Mildred first, because behind every great man there has to be a good woman.

To you kids, I don't believe you outdo your dad and mom be a living example of what can be done.

* * *

Send get well cards to Robert Ebb of the Social Nine Pleasure Club who recently returned home to Manor View Rd., Upland Apartments; (wife Dee Dee). Robert had been in St. Agnes Hospital.

Also send cheer to Mrs. Audrey Briscoe, long-time resident of the Melvin Park Apartments. Mrs. Briscoe is a department head at Douglass High.

Monday night, Sonor Kitola Henderson called me to ask if I would put a reminder in this column that Las Vegas Day, which is being sponsored by the Columbia Chapter, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority will be held Saturday, February 8, 3 to 6 p.m., 10438 Water Fowl Terrace, Bryant Woods.

All inactive sorors of Columbia are urgently asked to attend.

Thank you sorors for asking me to do this.

Thought For The Week: The World has Need of You

If it's ever so small the part you take,
The world has need of you.
Be it big or little the effort you make,
The world has need of you.
If it's only a thought you give by the way,
If it's only love's word you pause to say,
It's a part that nobody else can play,
So the world has need of you.
By your smile you can change another's life;
By a word you can bring peace out of strife:
Then lift your head and never say die:
Count every blessing, stop every sigh.
Get busy . . . don't let a chance slip by,
For the world has need of you.

Evelyn Whilell

Think about the above poem.

Even though I am getting a little tired in my "Thank You" notes — they will be coming, and some are on their way. I would like to thank The Jewish Convalescent Nursing Home, where my mother was a patient for several years. She could not have had better care anywhere.

For a long time, I had a guilt feeling because I had to put her in a nursing home, but the staff and the director made us feel that only good things about all of the good people there.

More about this Nursing Home and its staff in a later column.

Catonsville, we are on the map now. It is easier for you to get the news to me than for me to get it from you. Call me at 744-0629 or your mail items to 628 Meyers Drive, Catonsville, Md. 21228.

Address it to: Ed or Liz Williams. This news will include all of our residents, whether they are black or white.

Mother of two daughters proud of accomplishments

By Marjorie R. Green

Mother of the year award should go to Health Insurance Examiner, Eloise Taylor Johnson. Both of her daughters are rapidly climbing the ladder of success at Bowie State College where they maintain honor ratings.

Daughter, Roslyn was recently selected to participate in a January overseas seminar in Southeast Asia. The tour included Manila, Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Taipei and Honolulu.

Daughter, Adrienne, was chosen, along with sixteen other students at Bowie, for membership in the 1974-75 "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges Honors program.

Their proud mother serves on the board of directors for the Baltimore Area of the Social Security Administration. She is also a member of the Woodlawn Toastmistress Club.

Frank D. DeGeorge, assistant commissioner for Administration at the Social Security Headquarters has received a special citation from Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger for his work as chairman of the Department's Grant Appeal Board since 1973.

Mr. DeGeorge was cited for "dedicated and distinguished service while serving as board chairman."

Secretary Weinberger noted, "He has built a record of outstanding accomplishment that continues to be a source of guidance and inspiration that is difficult to match and represents the finest tradition of public service deserving of this award."

He also said that Mr. DeGeorge has brought government closer to the people it serves."

The Grant Appeal Board is responsible for reviewing and hearing disputes of agencies of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Another meaningful accomplishment of the Volunteers of SSA was the unique party given at the Waxter Center for senior citizens.

Accompanying the wheel chair patients from the Pleasant Manor Nursing Home were the auxiliary president, Mrs. Esther Kaminsky and Mrs. Mary K. Poole.

Highlighting the entertainment program were the talented Waxter Senior Citizens.

Mayor William Donald Schaefer arrived in time to greet each of the guests.

Volunteers donating their services and talents were: Tillie Bartoshek, George Kiefer, Esther Kaminsky, Mary K. Poole and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosen.

Guests from the Pleasant Manor Nursing Home were; Thomas Randall, Isaac Stern, Rose Quimbach, Raymond Ryall, Herbert Coxson, Minnie Stern, Reba Zelkowitz, Sylvie LaBlanc, Andrew Wildberger, Bertha Stromberg, Thomas Keleher;

Also, Emma Thurlow, Anna Harringer, Yetta Friedander John Gorsuch, William Martine, Faye Miller, Barkley Pinkind, Emma Huster, Sarah Brauneis, Gertie Keem, Earl Temple, Joe Harrison and Ramond Jackson.

Provident Council sets lecture

The Provident Community Health Council will honor Dr. and Mrs. Richard Tyson with a special presentation at the nurses auditorium at 8 p.m. Feb. 12.

The couple is director and co-director of the Institute for Marriage Enrichment and Sexuality in Columbia, Md. They are consultants in the health information series being presented each month by the council.

"A black perspective on human sexuality" is the topic of the presentation.

Black History Series

Mary Carter Smith will open a month of weekend events celebrating Black History Month with a reading of her poetry and the works of other black writers on Saturday, Feb. 1 at 2 p.m. at the YWCA (Young Women's Christian Association), 1912 Madison Ave.

This event — as all the events in the February series — is free and open to all.

Entertainment will be provided on Feb. 15 at 3 p.m. by the New Baltimore Minstrels, a drama group, performing original skits relating to events in black history.

Also, on Feb. 22 from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., eight films relating to black history and varying in length from ten minutes to one hour will be shown.

Another colorful event will be a display of art by black artists, including paintings and craft objects, on Feb. 8 at noon.

On Feb. 2 and 9, two discussions of "Communications and the Afro-American Community" will be held at 3 p.m., led by Sarah and Isaac Moreland, philosophy students from Morgan State College.

On February 16 and 23 at 3 p.m. two discussions entitled "Analysis of Frantz Fanon" will be led by Robert Cheemooke, philosophy professor, Morgan State College.

For information call the YWCA, 669-1681.

KLW salute to A. P. Moss draws 550 guests

By Liz Williams

We lit the lamp of friendship so many years ago,
And still it's burning brightly, amid times, ebb and flow.

* * *

This Margaret Cameron verse describes Alonzo Paul Moss' service to others.

Because of his love for people and their love for him, some 550 of us turned out on Sunday afternoon to salute him.

The gala affair at Blue Crest North attracted folks from all walks of life whom Paul had touched during his nearly 45 years of working with the YMCA where he is associate general executive in charge of camping.

The KLW's — which stands for King's Landing Women, formerly the Camp King's Landing Mothers Club, sponsored the affair.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clarke, who is the administrative aide to District Court Chief Judge Robert F. Sweeney, is the newly elected president of the club.

* * *

Guests began arriving at the Reisterstown Rd. hall as early as 15 minutes before the affair was to begin at 5 p.m. After signing a large memory book, they went into the main rooms which were breathtaking with the display of fruits, a variety of piping hot foods and cocktails. Attentive waiters and waitresses gave courteous service.

The early part of the evening was spent dining, chatting and dancing to the music of the Johnny Polite Trio.

Johnny Polite was on drums; Mickey Field, saxophone and Dennis Fisher at the organ. (Dennis is the son of Jackie Jock, Kelson (Chop-Chop) Fisher).

Out of sight were the solos by Miss Debbie Jacobs, a law student. Guests cheered her when she dedicated two songs, "The Way We Were" and "What Are You Doing For the Rest of Your Life?" to the honoree.

* * *

Guests who had lingered in the cocktail area rooms and at the buffet tables all gathered in the main room for the program which was just an hour long, but filled with so many happy moments.

Mrs. Marjorie P. Green, staff associate at the Social Security Administration, headed the program committee. She introduced the toastperson, Samuel T. Daniels, grand master of Md.'s Prince Hall Masons.

It was Mr. Daniels who set the tone for the evening with his wit and firm instructions to speakers — that the evening was Paul's and there must be time for him to speak.

There followed these speakers:

The Rev. Marion C. Bascom, pastor of Douglas Memorial Church and director of Camp Farthrest Out.

He said: "At Moss is more than an occasion. He is a great human spirit . . . . he has gone ahead to preach his own sermon by the acts of his hands and the deeds of kindnesses done . . ."

* * *

Mrs. Mamie Jones, reconciliation supervisor at Social Security and immediate past president of KLW, dedicated a poem to Paul: "It isn't necessary to say how you live each day, it isn't necessary to say how you work or you play. A tried, true barometer stands in the place, for however you live, we all see in your face . . ."

* * *

Dr. Uthman Ray, the physician who heads the Louis E. Harmon Scholarship Fund which sends deserving children to the Y camp, was next.

He explained how the late Dr. Harmon headed the fund for 24 years before his death and how he took it over because of his love and admiration for Paul and the late 'Dr. Lou.'

(Dr. Harmon's widow, Marguerite, was among guests. She received a real rousing applause when she was introduced.)

Dr. Ray told about Mr. Moss' dedicated rebuilding of King's Landing (in Huntingtown, Md.), which was formerly called Hawk and before that Camp Druid Hill, so that today there is one YMCA camp for boys and girls, white and black.

"No doubt there are few people in this gathering who had heard about him when he came here 15 years ago . . . but as evidenced by this reception many have been touched by this warm, generous, dedicated man and have grown to admire him."

* * *

Don K. Covington Jr., chairman of the Y's Camping Services Committee saw Paul as "awesome," and explained — "because we who have had the opportunity and privilege of working with him are awed because he is a solemn wonder, firm in his convictions — yet he always displays a genuine Christian compassion for people in his actions — a truly dedicated professional and friend . . ."

* * *

Camp King's Landing pool director Michael Valentine, Miss Pauline Edwards, camp program director, joined by former camp program leaders, the Revs. James Caldwell, Leroy Coles and their admiration for a 'fine leader.'

Another tribute was read by the presiding officer, Mr. Daniels from one of the first campers, Moss Sevalyn White — "I have never known such a big man who was always so kind, who always had time to answer a question or teach a skill . . ."

* * *

Douglas Rockhold, of Springfield, Ohio, where Mr. Moss lived and was Y official before he came here, called the honoree 'an inspiration' to me early in life. Mr. Rockhold is now a public school counselor in Springfield.

Others from Springfield here were his wife, Erma, who was one of Mr. Moss' first campers; and lifelong friends, Mrs. Anne Byrd and Mr. and Mrs. James Minor.

Father Donald O. Wilson, St. James Episcopal church pastor, remembered Mr. Moss and his wife, the former Betty Phillips, were among the first couples he married when he came to Baltimore 11 years ago.

"Shortly after my arrival, he said he wanted to marry one of the ladies in the parish . . . I have seen three Phillips youngsters in the wings quite capable of cutting this giant down to size.

" . . . Instead he brought up the children to the point where they were avidly and enthusiastically promoting their tenth wedding anniversary last year . . . the giant remained a real giant in every way, demonstrating integrity from head to toe . . ."

* * *

KLW President Mrs. Clarke presented the club's memory book, a plaque and money tree. AFRO board chairman John Murphy 3rd, the AFRO's Honor Roll Plaque for superior public service without thought of personal gain.

William G. Sykes gave the plate and certificate for Baltimore city's Mayor Schaefer. Col. William (Box) Harris, presented plaque and citation from Gov. Marvin Mandel; and Clarence Gregory, the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity award.

* * *

There was a hush of anticipation as Paul rose to speak. He started out in a camp style audience-participation by leading us all in clapping our hands.

Then, he said "Now you have applauded yourselves because you are the people who have worked together to help me do the things you've said I've done."

He told how he was one of eight children and how he began work at the Y when he was 9 because his own mother belonged to the Y mothers' club and was able to get a half membership for him.

He thanked the KLW's, other participants and coworkers for their support and confidenne.

He acknowledged the presence of his son, Michael, and his wife, Virginia, from N.Y., his foster daughter, Faye and her husband, Father William Lowery and her mother, Mrs. Luvene Houston;

Then he called his wife, Bettye, to stand with him and thanked her for 'making me feel important and needed,' and spoke of his pleasant experience of rearing her three children.

They are, Marie Phillips Cooke; who is the AFRO's women's editor; Benjamin Murphy Phillips IV, Morgan senior and AFRO photographer; and Rachael Phillips, a Va. Sate student.

* * *

Some of us didn't have any dry eyes when he did this because we remember how small the children were and what a fine father Paul has been.

After he thanked everybody again, the orchestra played his wife's favorite, 'Tenderly.'

They danced alone at first and then we all joined in, remaining to dance and toast them until a bit after 10.

* * *

A number of groups and individuals had special tables for the evening.

These included: Bluefield State College Alumni, the Alohas, AFRO, Big Sisters, the YM Camping Services, Chums, Clever Kiqueiays, Continentals, the Juste Freones, Morgan State College.

Also, Philomathian Club, Pivots, Prince Hall Masons, Social Service Advisory Board, Sunday Brunchers, Upper Tens, We Wives, Wo-Be-Co Clubs and Mrs. Toni Ledbetter, Mrs. Marion Patterson, Mrs. Alice Pindemuhes, Major James Watkins, Dr. Ray and yours truly.

* * *

In addition to the president Mrs. Clarke, the program chairman, Mrs. Green, and past president, Mrs. Jones, other KLW members on the planning committee for the gala event were: Helen Tucker, Margo Ross, Milsred Elson, treasurer; Mary Smith, assistant secretary; and Roberta Keets.

TAKES OFFICE—Mrs. Mary Sue Welcome Mercer, 31, of Baltimore, was sworn in Wednesday as city solicitor of the city of Atlanta. She is a graduate of Morgan and the Howard U. Law School, and is the daughter of Baltimore's State Senator Verda F. Welcome and Dr. Henry Welcome, the physician.
