"COME LET US MAKE A JOYFUL NOISE UNTO THE LORD"

Over 21,000 attend NSBA 35th confab

Some 21,000 School Board members from the 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands met recently in Miami Beach, Fla. for the 35th Annual Convention of the National School Boards Association.

Originally, very few of the minority groups were appointed or elected, and few attended the sessions of NSBA. However, this year at least 300 were in attendance, serving on many delegate assembly panels.

Black Maryland board members present included representatives from Prince George's, Frederick, Anne Arundel, Kent, Worcester and Harford counties.

Commissioners Dr. Beryl Williams, Howard E. Marshall and George L. McCrea represented the Baltimore city school system.

Charles Nealy, Harford County, received a plaque from the National Caucus of Black School Board Members for his special service and leadership.

Most significant during the convention which included over 200 meetings, seminars, workshops and general sessions was the address by Federal Judge Damon J. Keith of Michigan to NSBA Human Relations program.

Addressing himself to the role of the courts and the educational policy makers in bringing about the desegregation of public schools, Mr. Keith stated, "although the courts have been forthright in protecting the rights of minority children in our public schools, their efforts have not always resulted in workable solutions.

"I point out this, not to criticize the courts, but to suggest that the performance of the courts is directly attributable to the unscionable inaction of other institutions in our society."

Mr. Keith had been called on recently to order the desegregation of public schools in Pontiac, Mich. His speech included a history of the struggles for better education for those children of minority groups.

More than 1,200 persons rose in standing ovation for Mr. Keith as he concluded his speech, stating, "You can take the responsibility for waging the struggle out of the hands of the judges and return it to educators and legislators where it belongs.

"If the legal history of racial segregation in education tells us anything, it is that courts are not well equipped to write educational policy."

Pa. Ave. AME Zion Church begins work on new complex

By Angela Chatman

Pennsylvania Ave. AME Zion Church, 1124 Pennsylvania Ave., held a ground breaking ceremony for the building of its new church complex on Sunday. Over 250 persons attended the ceremony including Major Schaefer and M. Richmond Farring, who heads a savings and loan association. He was described as a financial friend of the church.

The new complex, to be built on the corner of Dolphin St. and Pennsylvania Ave., is part of the Upton Urban Renewal Area in the planning a number of years.

On Sunday, it was announced that the congregation is only $9,000 away from its goal of $100,000 for the first phase of its funding of construction.

The day was of double importance to the church since it was also the 26th Annual Youth Day. The day was presided over and led by officers of the Youth Council.

The ceremony opened with an Organ Prelude followed by a processional. Members of the Young Adult Choir and Youth Choir marched down the center aisle of the church singing "Onward Christian Soldiers."

After the Call to Worship, the congregation recited the hymn "Glorious Things Of Thee Are Spoken."

A Scripture Lesson was presented by Miss Marjorie Cowan, a member of the Youth Council, with prayer by Darryll Wright. "For the youth of Pennsylvania Ave., we are truly a church of today as well as tomorrow," he said.

The Young Adult Choir, led by Director Mrs. New-Avery Lawson and featuring a duet by Miss Phyllis Scorggins and Raymond Turner, sang the hymn "I'm So Grateful."

A welcome to the visitors was extended by Miss Carla Maxwell and the Youth Choir, led by Mrs. Sarah J. Bundy, sang "Thank You Lord."

After the offering, Miss Louise Turner, vice president of the Youth Council, introduced Bishop Charles H. Foggie.

Bishop Foggie, presiding bishop of the Fifth District of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, noting that it was Youth Day, dedicated remarks to the young members of the church and encouraged them to work to their full potential.

"You'll love yourself if you develop yourself for life," he told them.

Following the bishop's speech and the hymn, "Come, O Thou God of Grace," an announcement of the amount of money collected was made by Misses Camille Smith and Cliette Ingram.

The Rev. Marshall H. Strickland, who then addressed the congregation, thanked them and extended a special thanks to M. Richmond Farring who has been a financial backer of the church.

The bishops and ministers presiding then led a procession from the church to the corner of Dolphin St. and Pennsylvania Ave.

There was singing by the Bobian Four and a brief prayer was said by all present. Brief statements were made by Bishop Foggie, the Rev. Strickland and Major Schaefer. The selection, "Bless This House," was sung by the Bobian Four. The ground-breaking ended the ceremony.

Some 500 persons are expected to attend the two-day meeting, featuring guest panelists who will discuss "Legal Aspects of Health."

The panelists will be health officials and representatives from city and state agencies, including Robert J. H. Hammerman, associate judge, Supreme Bench of Baltimore; Dr. Torrey C. Brown, House of Representatives, Annapolis, Md.; and Mrs. Rudell Martin, Welfare Rights Organization.

June 30 is deadline for business loans

PHILADELPHIA — A. M. Peterson, Regional Director of the U.S. Small Business Administration's Region III, announced today that $5,000,000 in direct loan funds for small businesses is being made available until June 30, 1975.

The SBA's Director said that the $5,000,000 will be available to small businesses in Region III comprising Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, and is part of the $66,000,000 being released nationwide by the agency's Central Office in Washington, D.C.

Thomas S. Kleppe, National Administrator of SBA said, in Washington, "Direct funds are being made available because the agency's guarantee loan programs with banks early this year experienced a sharp drop both in the number of loans made and the dollar "volume."

"The economic downturn," Kleppe said, "resulted in a liquidity problem with banks not having money available to loan to a small business, and the bulk of SBA's lending activity is accomplished through the agency's guarantee loan programs with banks in which the agency guarantees up to 90 per cent of the loan."

In calendar year 1974, SBA made only 17,281 guarantee business loans for a total of $1.3 billion, compared with 26,206 loans and $2 billion in volume for 1973—a drop of one-third both in numbers of loans and volume.

Bagley Chorale concert at Govans Methodist Sun.

A group of enthusiastic and talented singers who have worked with Charles A. Bagley over a period of four years will present a concert at the Govans Community on Sunday, May 4 at 4 p.m. at the Govans United Methodist Church, 5210 York Road.

The program will include: "The Impossible Dream," "I Don't Know How to Love Him" from Jesus Christ, Superstar," "Dry Bones" and "O, Divine Redeemer" among other popular selections.

The choral group includes about 30 voices.

This is their Fourth Anniversary Concert and the first to be presented in the Govans community.

It is also the first concert that the group will have presented this year as Mr. Bagley had an interruption to his musical hobby and his world as Rehabilitation Counselor because of a trip to the hospital with a heart attack.

Now recovered, he has reorganized the group and is eagerly looking forward to their Mnoatrcoon4 ey to their concert on May 4.

* * *

During the last two months the group has been rehearsing at the Govens United Methodist Church.

Shortly after Mr. Bagley and his family moved to Govans and joined the United Methodist Church, he discovered that the church had four rooms with pianos where four parts of the chorus could rehearse separately and perfect their parts before he brought them together in a unified whole.

He sought and obtained permission from the Administrative Board of the church to conduct their rehearsals there and to present this May Concert.

Mr. Bagley and the singers find the location and facilities satisfactory for their needs and conventiently located; and the members of the church are happy to have the opportunity to invite friends and neighbors to hear the Chorale.

A native of New York, Mr. Bagley started conducting student choirs and bands while still in high school.

In 1955 he received his B.S. in music education from Morgan State College and began teaching music in the Baltimore Public Schools.

Later while teaching at Boys, village, he decided to go into counseling, first in the public schools and later in the Maryland Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, where he is presently employed as a supervisor.

The first concert of this group was held in 1971 at St. James and St. John Catholic Church. They presented a half hour Christmas program over WMAR-TV in December 1973 and have appeared on several other TV programs, including North Star.

Providence Baptist is host church to conference

The Christian Education Committee of the American Baptist Churches of the South will sponsor a conference May 8-10 at Providence Baptist Church, Edmondson Ave. and Schroeder S.
