COLUMBIA CAPERS

An exciting day in life of Rev. Agnes Alston

By Pinnie L. Ross

"Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you."

It was a beautiful afternoon in the sanctuary of Gillis Memorial Christian Community Church recently. The alter was lined with beautiful Easter lillies which gave a friendly warmth of the people assembled.

Relatives, church leaders, personal friends, and just plain well-wishers filled the room to witness the conferring of an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters, LHD, upon the Rev. Miss Agnes Margaret Alston. Educational assistant to the assistant superintendent of Public Personnel Services and Development for the Baltimore City Public Schools.

Dr. Theodore C. Jackson, host pastor, was master of ceremonies. Prior to the conferring of the degree on Dr. Alston, the audience was entertained by the Inspirational Choir, a fantastic group of young people ages ranged from 20-26), with Rev. Joe Smith at the organ, under the direction of Mrs. Mamie Walker, who directed a special number called "Spirit of Living God Fresh On Me."

The degree was conferred by Dr. M. C. Southland, president, Virginia College and Seminary, assisted by D. Eddie Wilson and Dr. Theodore C. Jackson. Mrs. Pauline Wells Lewis (Aunt Pauline) WSID Radio personality, brought greetings on behalf of the church. "I am proud of you today. I have watched you for a long time singing and praising God.

This gracious lady was converted in Leadenhall Baptist Church and baptised at the age of nine. She preached her trial sermon at the age of 17. Most of her experience at an early age was derived from the Leadenhall Church, still loved by members of the church.

For the past 20 years she has gone back to the church as the Women's Day speaker. She began her religious activities

Madison Y Center meets needs of neighborhood

An unusual mid-day mother's bowling club meets some of the needs of the women of this area. Mrs. Angela Paige serves as a school-community liaison coordinator. She has three children attending the City public schools. The bowling club hours fit it perfectly with her very busy schedule.

Mrs. June Christy likes to come to the Tuesday bowling since it gives her a place to come to and take her children who participate in other Madison Avenue Y Wprograms.

Mrs. Prodgel Green has granddaughters participating in the Madison Ave. YW Center programs. She shares some of her creativity with her group. She brings delicious homemade cake for refreshment during bowling time.

Mrs. Gloria Coe has four children ranging in age from 10 months to high school age. This bowling time provides afforadable recreation.

Mrs. Alice Dooley, a school crossing guard finds this afternoon bowling time quite convenient. She can bowl after the children return to school for the afternoon and be ready for their dismissal after her bowling session.

The annual dance recital for June 8, by pre-teen girls exhibits the training received in this popular program. Reynold English is the instructor of this ballet class for choreographing which places importance on body positions.

Mrs. Norma Robinson gives individual attention to her piano pupils. She was coaching a pre-teen in exercise of the right hand on the keyboard.

Wanda Pigatt, 10 and Marsha Brown, 6, both admitted to practicing an hour each day. They said they are in this class because they like music. these children have been preparing for their recital for May 31. The Madison Avenue YWCA Center number is 669-1881.

Holy Ghost cabaret

A Holy Ghost cabaret, presented by Evangelist Emma Wright and sponsored by the United Churches of Deliverance was held at the YWCA, Franklin St. recently.

The Rev. Lillian Blake of Chestertown, Md., the Rev. Mattie L. Johnson, and Bishop Carl Lyles of Baltimore were the co-chairpersons for the affair.

The atmosphere was one of love and warmth. Tables were decorated with varieties of flowers.

The Devotional service was conducted by Evangelist Maubley and Mother Funderbird of Holy Tabernacle Church of Baltimore.

The special guest choirs and groups were: the Excelsiors of Baltimore, Chestertown Choir, Evangelistics of Baltimore, Stewart Gospel Singers, along with Brother Newsome who sang "Give Me My Flowers."

The mistress of ceremonies for the evening was Miss Esther Terrell Melcher. Miss Gloria Carwick was the organist.

The Rev. Mrs. Lillian Blake was the guest speaker. Her topic was "Have you got your Identification?"

The invocation and greetings came from Carl Lyles and Evangelist Wright who presented trophies and love tokens to the Rev. Mrs. Blake, the Rev. Mattie L. Johnson and Bishop Llyes.

Head guest table guests were the Rev. Frank Wright, Bishop and Mrs. Lyles, Elder and Mrs. Joseph Turner, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Blake, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Evangelists Mary Allen, Sister Stewart of the Stewart Gospel Singers and sister Esther Ferrell Melcher.
