One year Fire Dept. job freeze

(UPI) — The Baltimore City Board of Estimates has imposed a one-year hiring freeze in the city Fire Department, beginning July 1.

The board's Fire Department budget recommends no new fire academy classes after the current class graduates in mid-July.

Any vacancies occurring during the fiscal year will not be filled.

"If you don't have money in the budget, you can't hire people," said Fire Chief Thomas J. Burke, adding the department received a budget increase over current spending, but not enough to cover basic salary increases and expenses and continue to fill vacant positions.

The department currently has an estimated 40 vacancies, and officials say they cannot predict how many will occur during the year.

Charney L. Harris, president of the Baltimore Fire Fighters Association Local 734, AFL-CIO, denounced the hiring freeze.

"In order to maintain a top notch fire department, personnel strength must be maintained," he said.

Harris said he would ask Mayor Schaefer to recall the budget and increase the department's funds.

Harris said that only once before in the city's history has the budget been recalled to restore cuts.

Elementary school pupils may register

Registration of elementary school pupils is now underway for the 1975-76 school year.

Each child who will be a new pupil in the Baltimore City public school at any grade level should report to the school nearest his home and register.

A list of potential students will then be forwarded by the principal in each school to the Office of Student Placement.

Pupils already in the system, applying for transfers will have them frozen except those required by the pairing plan and for special situations such as change of address.

There will not be any cut off date for registration which continues throughout September. Parents need not make an appointment but just go directly to the school and carry the child's birth certificate.

In the same vein as last year, the school administration will attempt to desegregate the elementary with the pairing plan.

However, that plan was not totally effective and the School Board is presently working on a plan that would desegregate the elementary schools in the same manner as the junior and senior high plans.
