WEEK'S FOOD ECONOMIES

Holiday weekend

As you anticipate the first long weekend of the warm weather season, make food an interesting part of the holiday, whether you go out to roadside or picnic areas or stay at home and eat indoors or use a backyard grill, says Virginia McLuckie, food economist, Cooperative Extension Service, University of Maryland.

Meat need not be the most expensive cut or chop to be enjoyed. There are a number of cuts from the beef that are tasty when prepared indoors or outdoors. Less tender cuts may be marinated or tenderized and grilled or broiled. The cut up cubes of tenderized meats make excellent Kabobs along with a variety of vegetables. Ground meat is always easy to prepare and is tender because it is chopped finely. Fryer chickens are ideal choices for fryed chicken, oven baked or barbecuing. Slices of cured ham are excellent grilled. Fish as a grill item is often overlooked but is easy to cook and very tasty.

If you picnic or carry foods away from home, remember they need refrigeration or coldness to keep them safe. Avoid taking mayonnaise based salads and cream pastries unless they are ice cold before you pack them in the picnic cooler or insulated container.

Styrofoam equipment for holding ice and chemical filled cans or bags that you freeze and carry for coldness are readily available. After a meal, replace perishables in the insulated containers to avoid spoilage. Do not take chances with perishable food. When in doubt, it is better to discard the food than take chances of food poisoning.

Vegetables on the seasonal buy list include salad items of lettuce, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, radishes and tomatoes. New potatoes make excellent potato salad. Fresh vegetables may be supplemented with canned and frozen items whether you cook indoors or outdoors.

This is strawberry season and the Maryland berries, fresh from the fields will soon be available, meanwhile California berries are in the markets. Plan to serve them often while the short season lasts. Other fruit selections are oranges, watermelon, fresh pineapple and bananas.

Dunbar Class of '55 salutes parents, teachers

By Cynthia K. Grandison
Reflections Staff Writer

The Dunbar alumni of '55 chose to salute parents and teachers at their 20th year reunion celebration held at the Paul L. Dunbar Community School Sunday.

Before dining guests were soothed by the serenade of Robert Smith's violin, accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Day on organ.

The program began with the uplifting sermon of James King urging everyone to "reach out and lovingly touch their neighborhood." Mrs. Delores Jones, presiding emcee, spoke on how the strength, courage and faithfulness of parents have kept the family and nation strong.

Speaking on behalf of Dunbar parents, Mrs. Henrietta Holliman reminisced about the old days when parents, teachers and students worked on various fund raising campaigns to improve the quality of education.

"A teacher effects eternity. He can never know where his influence begins or ends," said Earl Hagan in his speech praising Dunbar teachers.

Betty Warren recited a poem, "From Us" saluting the entire class of '55.

Certificates of appreciation were given out by Mrs. Helen Boardley and Melroy Wise, to alumni who had helped to make the reunion a success.

Alumni, Jackie Alston presented Mrs. Betty Warren with a corsage of dollar bills in appreciation for her tireless efforts in planning the affair.

Wardell Thomas, second presiding emcee, made an award of $550 to the new Dunbar complex. Mrs. Julia Woodland, principal, accepted. She said the future alumni have "a long way to go to live up to the standards this class had set."

The program concluded with the entire audience singing "Ole Dunbar Spirit" and "Alma Mater," both led by a class favorite, Mrs. Mildred Williams.

Members of the banquet committee were: Mrs. Delores Jones, chairperson; Mrs. Gwendolyn Buckson, co-chairperson; Mrs. Betty Warren, Mrs. Marian Waters, Mrs. Yvonne Johnson and Mr. James King.

Class officers are: Louis Harris, president; Wardell Thomas, and Betty Warren, vice-president; Mrs. Betty Dempsey, recording secretary; Mrs. Jacqueline Alston, financial secretary; Mrs. Gwendolyn Buckson, treasurer; Charles Gladden, parliamentarian; John Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

Mr. Louis Harris (L) greeted Dunbar alumni, Class of '55 at their 20th reunion where Mrs. Betty Warren (R) was honored by the class with a "Money Corsage" for the outstanding services she contributed during the past year.

Hints For Homemakers

INEZ KAISER

We always try to show our mothers how dear they are to us and how much we love them. However, on Mother's Day each year we like to do something "extra special" to express our love.

Mothers have so many daily responsibilities to perform. They must be wife, mother, cook, nurse, teacher and maid—all in one.

LAUNDERING MADE EASY WITH 'all'

So this year, when the Kaiser clan made plans to spend Mother's Day with Mother Kaiser in St. Louis, we decided to give her an extra-special gift by simply relieving her of some of her chores.

Where did we start? By doing her laundry!

CONCENTRATED "all" with its bleach, borax and brighteners is just the detergent any mother needs, especially if you're not experienced in removing stains.

"all" is great to use for the tough jobs like stubborn stains and greasy oil, but it works well on the entire wash. Your clothes will get whiter and brighter.

Just be sure to follow the directions on the package, and use the required amount. You will find that CONCENTRATED "all" is a detergent that works, not only on Mother's Day but all year round.

DOVE FOR SMOOTH, SOFT HANDS

This year, too, we found it fun to pamper Mom in other ways, including the dishwashing.

I don't know about the mother of your family, but Mom has always cooked and insisted on doing her own dishes—even though she is 84 years old now.

That's why I packed plenty of DOVE LIQUID for our visit. DOVE is really an "everyday" product. The more you wash dishes, the more you need DOVE—and that's every day!

DOVE LIQUID always manages to help keep my hands looking smooth and soft. I know that after just one squeeze DOVE's lasting suds will clean everything from Mom's glassware to the greasy pots and pans.

With today's prices, we should be more cost conscious. I achieve a savings by purchasing the large 32-oz. container and this month you can save even more by watching for the 20-cents-off coupon being featured in many local stores.

Mom still keeps her nails polished daily and likes her hands to look smooth and soft. That's just one reason why we keep her well supplied with DOVE LIQUID.

LIFEBUOY SMELLS CLEAN

We all send or carry with us personal care items for Mom since she doesn't get around much anymore. One of the items that we supply her with is LIFEBUOY soap.

The entire Kaiser family uses this mild-smelling soap that provides long-lasting protection. How often talks about how much of a favorite LIFEBUOY has been for so many years in her family.

Over the years and now still she stresses the fact that it is not enough to just be clean, but you must also smell clean. That's why she still uses LIFEBUOY soap.

It is her top choice because it smells clean and never lets you down.

Through the years LIFEBUOY soap has improved in many ways, so that the present version is better smelling and more color-tuned to bathroom decor than ever before.

Lever Brothers is constantly improving its products to please you, their customers. So buy some bars of LIFEBUOY today and see how you like its clean new smell.

'PUT YOUR MONEY WHERE YOUR MOUTH IS'

A care package for Mom would not be complete without including some CLOSE-UP toothpaste. She just loves the way it makes your breath smell so fresh and whitens your teeth.

We all admire the way she still maintains her appearance, even though she is up in years. She still tells her sons and grandchildren as well as her daughters-in-law to be sure to keep their teeth clean and their breath smelling fresh.

Mom will always try new products if I recommend them, but she has long been sold on CLOSE-UP toothpaste. She likes both the red and green gel versions.

"I believe in putting my money where my mouth is," she explains. That's exactly what the makers of CLOSE-UP toothpaste say about it.

As you can guess by now, Mom had an especially Happy Mother's Day, thanks to these Lever products.
