—Retired men hired fulltime by city, state

get a return call from either Mr. Bosz or Mr. Henning at presetime.

Mr. Brailey says with black and poor citizens among those on the highest unemployed list in history, the jobs now held by the retired, pensioned government workers should go to those in need.

Exploding another bomb shell, Del. Brailey also reveals his investigation discloses that thousands of workers are also "moonlighting" full time in private industry jobs," holding two jobsm"fsIn a Thursday press release Mr. Brailey called for Industry to give those second jobs to those persons who do not have any jobs at all. Noting that labor organizations' statistics now show black citizens are indeed last hired and first fired," he says that the employment rate is now three times that of white workers.

"In other words, when 11 white workers are out of work, 33 black workers are jobless," he states.

Scoring President Ford for his veto of the $5 and a half billion bill that would have put 900,000 people to work on public service jobs, Del. Brailey says the administration has thus given the black and poor another slap in the face.

To be deplored is the fact that thousands of black and needy students graduating from high school and college could have been put to work, "if Ford and Congress had passed that bill for the money."

Instead Brailey says, these young people will join those already out of work and thus be forced to go on Welfare.

Del. Brailey also notes some 100,000 persons are without anything at all now that their unemployment benefits have expired.

A UPI release reveals unemployment in Maryland rose to 140,200 in April, up 3,300 from the previous month and an increase of 66,500 over April a year ago, state officials said Tuesday.

The State Department of Employment and Social Services said statewide unemployment rate was 7.7 per cent, compared to 7.5 per cent in March and 4.1 per cent a year ago.

In the Baltimore Metropolitan area, the number of jobless persons rose to 79,200 some 5,600 more than in March and 40,000 more than in April 1974.

The Democratis failure to override Ford's veto of their $5.3 billion jobs bill leaves them forced to choose between compromise and stalemate.

Because of Democratic defections, they failed to put together the two-thirds majority required to enact the catch-all measure aimed at putting 900,000 people to work.

It provided more money for that purpose than the entire federal government spent in 1933.

The 277-145 vott was five short of the required two-thirds. Nineteen Republicans and 239 Democrats voted to override and 123 Republicans and 22 Democrats voted to sustain the veto.

Generally the administration opposes heavy new spending to stimulate the economy, arguing it will enlarge the deficit, renew inflation and lead to yet another recession.

House Democratic Leader Thomas P. O'Neill of Mass., said failure to override marked "a sad day for America.

"Today, an unelected President and a Republican minority of the House denied 800,000 people the opportunity of employment."

charged with maintaining a nuisance house in the 600 block E. 36th St. at the Caro Tavern. Michael, Charles Jr. and Mr. Burman Sr. are charged with heroin distribution and possession with intent to distribute as well as conspiracy to violate state narcotic laws.

Other defendants on trial are Elmer J. Gross, Edward L. McClain and Harry Chase Jr. are charged with possession with intent to distribute heroin and conspiracy.

Assistant State's Attorney John Denholm showed a video tape of a party taken at Mr. Burman's house last September to the jury.

The state claims the purpose of the film was to try to show the jury how Mr. Burman makes his money. The film was shown on a television and made by Mr. Burman.

Mr. Burman is shown walking around his luxurious house with a microphone stating to his guest, "Do you have anything to say?"

One of the guests stated, "Charlie, why is it you are so rich?" Mr. Burman answered, "Just keep on pushing . . . just keep on pushing."

Trooper Clinton A. Garrett of the State Police testified he went to the party with some friends and was working as an undercover officer.

Trooper Garrett testified he mingled with the guests and observed several people snorting cocaine and saw a quantity of marijuana hand-rolled cigarettes.

Other guests were gathered around Mr. Burman's swimming pool which is shaped in the form of a "B".

"While the party was going on, I overheard conversations about large sums of money," Trooper Garrett told the jury.

City, state and Baltimore County Police conducted a narcotics raid on Mr. Burman's Burmont Ave., home in November, 1974 but did not find any drugs.

Mr. Murphy testified during cross examiniation, he did not see anyone smoking marijuana or snorting cocaine at the Burman party.

"If I had seen anyone smoking marijuana, I would have gotten out of there," Mr. Murphy told the jury.

Meanwhile, the tenants, most of whom are on rent strike, have vowed to resist evictions non-violently and continue to negotiate so as to avoid confrontation.

* * *

The rent strike resulted in federal court case in which the court ruled that HUD pay half of the 18 per cent increase. About 424 tenants of the 969-unit complex are affected by the increase.

The federal agency has agreed to pay half of the 18 per cent increase, but many tenants are refusing to pay the 9 per cent on the grounds that they still would be paying more than 30 per cent of their income for rent, contrary to the spirit of the federal housing law.
