Honey Butter Sauce on a Sundae is a special treat any day of the week! In a one-quart saucepan melt one-half cup (one stick) butter with one-eighth teaspoon cinnamon. Remove from heat. Blend in three-quarters cup honey and a dash of salt. Stir in one-half cup whipping cream until smooth. Add one teaspoon orange extract (optional). Serve warm over ice cream.

Spinach with deviled butter: In a small saucepan melt six tablespoons (three-quarters stick) butter; add one teaspoon minced onion and saute for three to five minutes. Add two tablespoons lemon juice, one-half teaspoon prepared mustard, three-quarters teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and two chopped hard cooked eggs. Heat to serving temperature but do not boil. Pour over cooked spinach. Sufficient butter sauce for six to eight servings.

Add protein to your pancakes! Beat six eggs until light. Mash one and one-half cups creamed cottage cheese or beat in electric mixer or with rotary beater until almost smooth. Add to eggs with one-half teaspoon salt, one-half cup flour and mix well.

Drop by tablespoons onto lightly greased griddle and bake until browned on both sides. Makes about two dozen three-inch cakes.

Why not try an added decorative touch for a ladies' luncheon table? Roll a stick of butter in chopped parsley, slice it into pats and arrange prettily on a plate.

Baptists salute Patterson

School Superintendent Dr. Roland N. Patterson received last Monday one of the most spectacular salutes in memory as some 100 Baptist ministers and a throng of members and leading citizens gathered at a banquet at Morgan State College.

Baptist Ministers Conference President Rev. A. C. Vaughn in presenting the group's highest award noted some 30,000 Baptists stand behind the educator in his plight and "no one downtown or across town can tell us what to do; we rule with authority."

CONGRESSMEN WANT JUDGE HOWARD'S CHARGES AIRED

Federal probe of Supreme Bench

Judges give their comments. See Page 21.

"In view of the serious nature of these allegations we would appreciate very much if the Department of Justice would properly initiate a review of this matter and provide us with a report as soon as possible."

This was the urgent message Maryland Senators Charles McC. Mathias and J. Glenn Beall Sr. sent to U.S. Attorney General Edward H. Levi on Wednesday.

They were reacting to a call for a federal probe of the Baltimore City Supreme Bench on the complaint of one of its members, Judge Joseph C. Howard, one of four black judges who sits on this, the city's highest court of record.

Judge Howard alleged in a statement made public Monday that his fellow jurors preside over a "bastion of discrimination by race and sex." Further, he noted that five of the six floors of the courthouse at St. Paul and Fayette Sts. are nearly lily-white.

Judge Howard's complaint was touched off after a newspaper columnist published a report of the hassle the judges had earlier this month in the selection of a Juvenile Court Master.

* * *

It was this incident which triggered Judge Howard's complaint that his fellow judges had failed to abandon the white judges only personnel committee which selects employees for jobs such as those in the Juvenile Court and insists on voting on candidates in secret.

It had been expected that Leonard A. Briscoe, a veteran black attorney, would have been picked by the judges because of his qualifications and high recommendation by former juvenile judge, Joseph I. H. Hammerman.

Nevertheless, Judge Howard revealed, that the judges ignored the Hammerman plea, as well as his own and selected a young white attorney, Harry Golden, member of a prominent family.

In addition, Judge Howard's complaint charged

YOU CAN GET A RED, WHITE, BLUE CASKET

If you die in 1976 Bicentennial Year

"YOU'RE DEAD RIGHT", National Funeral Directors and Mortician Association President (center) Bobby Francois, seems to be saying during the convention this week as he chats with other officials in photo by J. D. Howard. Left is James A. Morton, Tri-State chairman. Right is Arlington S. Phillips, convention chairman. The 3-day confab ended Thursday night with the presidential ball.

The latest word in caskets were row on row at the Hotel Hilton Morticians Convention. Among comfortable and beauteous burial boxes was one in red, white and blue to take those who die in 1976 Bicentennial Year patriotically to the Glory Land.

The group ended the 3-day confab Thursday night with the Presidential Ball under the chandeliers at the Hilton, an event anything but gloomy.

In fact, the entire session was one of joy, not sorrow. The crab feast at the La Fontaine Bleu was a grand affair with plenty of Maryland seafood for guests from Maryland, Virginia and D.C.

James Morton, convention chairman said, "It is most gratifying to know that men of good will are realizing increasingly that the head, heart and hands must work together for the
