AUGUST 11 LAST DAY TO REGISTER TO VOTE IN SEPT. 9 PRIMARY

—Mrs. Perry Jones

son, was born July 9, 1897 in Honespath, S.C.

She died July 31 at Sinai Hospital after an extended illness.

She was educated in the South Carolina schools and was noted for many talents, including cooking and sewing for which she received many awards.

She was married to the late William T. Jones. Two children were born of this union. Ruth, now Mrs. James Pratt, assistant to the superintendent of Baltimore public schools and the son, William II, both of Baltimore.

In the tribute on the funeral program, relatives recalled that Mrs. Jones, "constantly encouraged and motivated her children and grandchildren to complete their formal education so that they could take their place in life as honorable citizens."

It was further recalled that for over forty years, Mrs. Jones was active in Sharon Baptist, belonged to the Harmony Circle, the Friendship Group and was involved in numerous activities and rarely was absent from any church function during her entire membership.

She was an organizer of the Gospel Chorus and at one time sang in the Senior Choir.

Further, it was remembered she had many friends, some of whom called her "Mother Jones" because she was noted "for taking comfort and cheer to the sick and the shut-ins."

In addition to the daughter, son and grandson, she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mattie Keaton, Mrs. Gussie Williams and Mrs. Magnolia Latimore.

There are also five other grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Irene Jones and a son-in-law, James E. Pratt.

Honorary pallbearers were deacons and trustees, members of the Senior and Mass Choirs, the Morgan University Choir and the Constance H. Moore Memorial Sunday School Choir of Sharon Baptist.

Active pallbearers were Richard Allen, Michael Brooks, Thomas Campbell, Frank Drumwright, Julius Mann, Daniel Robinson, Harvey Stokes, Carrell Thompson, Warren Thompson, Willie Venable.

Burial was in Arbutus Memorial Park.

FRANK HARRIS was confined to a wheel chair in May, when he graduated from Edmondson High School. However, he can now walk with the assistance of a cane. AFRO photo by Roman Hankewycz shows the Rev. Douglas Wilson, associate pastor of Leadenhall Baptist Church and Del. Troy Bratley extending greetings to Frank just before entering the church last Sunday.

Edmondson Hi grad is through with his wheelchair

By Pam Widgeon

Doctors at Maryland General Hospital told 19-year-old Frank Harris that he would never be able to walk again because he has cancer.

The physicians also told the Edmondson High School graduate his right leg, hip and buttocks would have to be amputated in an attempt to stop the spread of cancer.

However, Frank replied that he did not want his leg amputated and he "has faith in God."

Frank has been out of the wheel chair for three months and is now walking with the aid of a cane. Last Sunday, he attended services at Leadenhall Baptist Church with Del. Troy Bratley, family friend, who has stood by since the illness began.

The operation was scheduled for April 22, but Frank refused and was told he had two weeks to live.

Frank went back to Maryland General Hospital last Thursday for extensive treatment. He will be confined to the hospital for approximately 10 days for observation.

Speaking of his illness, the courageous young man stated, "I never gave up walking again because I have faith in God. At times I get depressed, but most of the time I am happy and have accepted my illness."

Frank learned he was ill when he went to the hospital last year after he injured his leg while playing basketball.

Doctors informed him he had a torn muscle. For 18 months, Frank was seeing doctors. In May, he was told by the doctors he had the terminal disease.

Frank graduated from high school in June. He was a member of the school basketball team and a coach for the girl's basketball team and had planned to attend University of Miami on a scholarship.

He told the AFRO, "My mother (Mrs. Elizabeth Harris) had a heart attack and was in the hospital for three weeks. I am now trying to take care of my mother and have been praying for her."

Mrs. Harris explained it was a great strain on her taking care of her son because some nights she would only get three hours sleep. "The greatest thing that happened to Frank was when he accepted the Lord as his Savior and believes God will heal his body," Mrs. Harris told the AFRO.

Frank stated anyone who is ill, "should have faith in God and pray since God will heal your body."

Sen. Blount wants a state bank

Senator Clarence W. Blount (Balto. City, 41st) says he will prefile legislation for the 1976 session to establish a state bank.

"Hundreds of thousands of dollars of state money could then be invested by the state bank in ways which also serve a social purpose," Sen. Blount states.

Private banks are prone to syphon money out of Maryland for investment in other states or other countries where "the grass looks greener," Sen. Blount says.

"There is a lack of money available for certain kinds of projects, while the price of the so called "blue chip" investments are driven up by the competition for them.

Maryland deposits an average of $80 million a month in banks around the state. Local governments handle about an equal amount.

Sen. Blount said that a state bank could make safe investments in areas such as:

—Mortgage financing for purchase or construction of an adequate number of dwelling units.

—Underwriting the sales and marketing of securities of business enterprises and of bonds, notes and other state obligations and those of the political subdivisions and public benefit authorities.

—Make available venture or risk capital for new industrial and commercial enterprises which would encourage business and employment in Maryland.

—Provide financing for consumer co-operatives which can provide commodities to the consumer at lower prices and stimulate competition.

—Encourage capital back into the city and rural areas for home mortgage and other business loans preventing further deterioration.

— Make loans to students attending institutions of higher learning available more readily.

North Dakota has had since 1919 a state owned bank which each year makes a profit of about $16 million for the state.

Sen. Blount pointed out that the Bank of North Dakota operates in partnership with private banks, rather than in competition to them.

"It is a means of stimulating private banks to do the things they should be doing," he said.

New York, Oregon, Washington, Massachusetts, California and Florida are considering establishing similar state banks.

Sen. Blount said that his legislation is the result of a growing awareness that public funds can be used for public benefit and not simply placed in the hands of institutions whose primary function is to enhance private profits.

he will not be "hounded out of office."

WED., AUG. 7 — Many newspapers report that Nixon will resign today and Vice-President Ford will be sworn in.

The American Broadcasting Co. quotes Sen. Barry Goldwater as saying that Nixon indicated to him that he would resign. The world from the White House, however, is that the President is not planning to leave the office.

Spokesmen for the First Family told the press that they "do not want to see their names in print at this time."

THURS., AUG 8 — Acknowledging that Watergate had destroyed him politically, Nixon announced this evening that he will resign to "put the interest of America first," and hand the presidency over to Gerald R. Ford Jr., Friday noon.

FRI., AUG. 9 — Nixon's midday farewell to his cabinet, staff, and the nation rated one of the most watched television shows of the week, second only to his Thursday night speech.

Today's program was a moving and tear-filled one, in which the fallen president talked about his mother, father, childhood, political career and family.

He wept unabashed throughout the speech.

He and the family left Washington immediately following the address and were not present at swearing-in ceremonies for President Ford.
