CONSUMER CORNER

NOT FOR BREAKFAST LOVERS

If you are blessed with breakfast lovers, count your blessings and advance to frozen waffles.

But if back-to-school is back to battle, and resisting sugar coated cereals is making the battle harder, try finger foods or straws. A simple sandwich may work. A slice of pizza almost always works and ice cream sandwiches work when all else fails. Hand held fresh fruits work well too, especially if you do part of the peeling. A straw is the next best to a finger. Liquids help too, and if you have a blender, combine a little ice cream and frozen orange juice concentrate, skim milk with some extra powder, and an egg. A milkshake is an offer few kids can refuse.
