Garrison Boulevard Methodist women hold celebration

MRS. NETTIE McLEAN, coordinator, Christian Personhood; Mrs. Evelyn Johnson. coordinator, Christain Social Involvement; Mrs. Margaret Holland, coordinator, Christian Global Concerns.

Many were once Orchard members

The United Methodist women of Garrison Blvd. United Methodist Church (formerly Orchard Street Church) held their Annual Anniversary Celebration Dec. 14.

With each wearing a replica of the Cross and Fame emblem, the members were honored with a sermon by guest minister the Rev. Mr. Daniel C. McLelland Jr. The Rev. Mr. McLelland was pastor of Garrison prior to its merger with the Orchard Street Church congregation.

The Cross and Flame Emblem is symbolic of the Holy Spirit and evokes the images of sacrifice, witness and service. Its shape is fluid and free-flowing suggesting change and mobility.

As women, this has been their heritage, always aware of the times and striving to move with it rather than be overwhelmed by it, the president, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Sanders, explains.

The United Methodist Women organization is itself an infant having emerged from the now dissolved Womans Society of Christian Service and its auxiliary, the Wesleyan Service Guild.

Some members of the Garrison Blvd. United Methodist Church organization were charter members of the Orchard Street Church. Church's WSCS and WSG. Two such members are Mrs. Susie Gibson and Mrs. Naomi Dorsey.

The current officers, elected yearly, and the members of this local unit are: Mesdames, Elizabeth B. Sanders, president; Helen Williams, 1 vice president; Mary B. Carter, secretary; Mary White, treasurer; Elizabeth Bethea, assistant treasurer; Nettie McLean, coordinator, Christian Personhood; Evelyn Johnson, coordinator, Christian Social Involvement; Evelyn Hudgins, coordinator, Supportive Community and president-elect; Margaret Holland, coordinator, Christian Global Concerns; Mable J. Smith, chairperson, Membership; Annie V. Hall chairperson, Program Resources;

Also, Mesdames Lillian Wilson, chairpersons, Nominations; Sidna Gaskins, chairperson, publicity;

Members are Mesdames, Joan Adams, Rosa Barnes, Zelma Bell, Louise L. Brooks, Mary R. Butler, Doretha Chester, Cecilia Chichester, Pauline Crump, Anna Cooper, Naomi Dorsey, Mary Easley, the late Bessie Fletcher, Sally Freeman, Susie Gibson, Alberta Graham, Hermaine Graham Harris, Estelle Houston, Leona Jackson Viola L. Jackson;

Also, Dorothy James, Celia Johnson, Eva Johnson, Matilda Johnson, Mildred Johnson, Geridine Jones, Lillian Jones, Beverly Leslie, E. Mae Lloyd, Mildred MacLaughlin, Blanche Madino, Violetta McDuffie, Nettie Mclean, China McQueen Nellie Minor, Georgia Mongomery, Mary Montgomery, Anna Murray, Sarah Nichols;

Also Ruth Pack, Evelyn Payne, Eleanor Prettyman, Edith Mae Sample, Ethel Savage, Mable J. Smith, Sarah Smith, Jeannie Stevens, Viola Stone, Emma Taylor, Lillian M. Thomas, Rachel S. Thomas, Jesse Watts, Grace Wilson, and Lillian Wilson.

Three of the members, Mrs. Lillian Wilson, Mrs. Evelyn Hudgins and Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, are District Officers of the United Methodist Women Baltimore, N.W. District.

Other highlights of the celebration were the presentation of the Certificate of Organization to the local unit.

A special recognition was given Mrs. Naomi Camper who had been president of the Garrison WSCS prior to the United Methodist Women's formation and prior to the merger of the two churches.

The presentation of an honorary Certificate of Recognition to Mrs. Kelly L. Jackson honored her as the first, past president of the local United Methodist Women.

President Sanders notes, "The Women all consider themselves a part of the community of women whose purpose is to know God and to experience freedom as whole, through Jesus Christ.

"The endeavor to develop a creative, supportive, fellowship and to expand the concept of mission through participation in the global ministries of the church.

"Toward this end, they are actively involved in various projects at Fells Point, clothing donations, and with Contact Baltimore as a volunteer.

MRS. ELIZABETH BOND SANDERS, president of the Garrison Blvd. United Methodist Church's United Methodist Women (the new group), presents special recognition and praise to Mrs. Naomi Camper, past president of the now-dissolved Women's Society of Christian Service and Mrs. Kelly L. (Viola) Jackson, first past president of the United Methodist Women.

MRS. MABLE J. SMITH, membership; Mrs. Sidna Gaskins, publicity; Mrs. Annie V. Hall, chairman, program Resources.

Miss Moon finds Army beneficial

SP4 Mildred M. Moon believes that anyone who desires to see if they can really make it in life, should join the Army.

"I've learned more in the Army, from my experiences with the system," she says, "than I ever learned at home."

A native of Stockton, Calif., the 23-year-old specialist enlisted in the Army to become an officers records clerk. She is assigned to duty at the Aberdeen Proving Ground Headquarters bldg. 310.

"I really joined the Army out of desperation," reveals SP4 Moon. "I was going to college, but the expenses got so great that I had to quit, and then I couldn't find a job!"

After having spent two years in Germany, and with less than three months in her tour of enlistment, SP4 Moon plans to return to college and major in biology. Her future looks bright as she plans for a career as a laboratory technician.

A lover of "mom's spaghetti," SP4 Moon plays tennis, reads books on Black history, drama, and participates in basketball as a spectator.

"I've enjoyed my tour with the Army," says SP4 Moon. "And it's taught me to deal with people and circumstances not always considered ordinary.

"But I have one firm belief about the Army, and that is, anyone who can serve three years, and retain their sanity deserves a medal, and a degree in psychology!"

IN GOOD HANDS — SP4 Mildred M. Moon, an officers records clerk, is an epitome of efficiency the Army can rely on. Here she is seen screening personnel files.

LOSE LOVED ONE? — Make sure your friends and relatives have proper notice when you lose a loved one. Ask your funeral director to place a death notice in AFRO Classified. Sympathetic clerks are available to handle notices, or call such death notices direct to AFRO Classified, 728-8200. Paid death notices accepted up until 10 a.m. on day of publication, Tuesday and Friday.

Participating choirs were the Young Adult Choir, Women's Chorus and Voices of Zion of the Pennsylvania AME Zion Church; Gospel Choir of Simmons Memorial Baptist Church; Ida M. Redd of Mt. Ariat Memorial Church; Women's Chorus and Senior Choir of Mt. Lebanon. One honoree at one time or another has accompanied these groups.

Other musical tributes were by Norman Kemy of the Samuel Ray Revival Choir of Morning Star Baptist; James Mitchel, organist, Patterson-Asbury AME Zion; Miss Donna Gilchrist, John Wesley AME; zion Pleasant Baptist and Women's Chorus of Friendship Baptist.

Among those presenting gifts to Mrs. Elliott were the Arlington Phillips, William C. Brown and Michael C. Blount Funeral Homes.

The audience was moved when Mrs. Elliott's children praised her as an ideal mother. They are Melvin, Jr., 18; Shelly, 17; and Kevia, 15.

Kevia presented a contribution to the Mt. Lebanon Building Fund in his mother's name.

In addition to her parents and children, Mrs. Elliott's step-sister, Mrs. Beatrice Royster, and her family were present. Also, her fiance, James Donald Simmons.

Guest pastors included the Rev. Marshall Strickland, Pennsylvania Ave.; the Rev. Andrew Brown, St. John Baptist; the Rev. Jones Gilcrest, John Wesley AME; and the Rev. James Gray, Pleasant Zion Baptist.

Members of this committee which arranged the affair were Mrs. Ernestine Addison, chairlady; Mrs. Queen Jones, co-chairlady; Mrs. Doris Washington; Mrs. Geneva Hillery; Mrs Delores Mack; Mrs. Lydia Brown; Mrs. Regina Smith; Mrs. Lena Diggs; Mrs. Carol Hayes; Mrs. Elaine Davis and Mrs. Barbara McCutchen.

Mrs. Isadore Ellis was the mistress of ceremonies.

Son charged in mother's stabbing death

Police have charged 61-year-old Robert Goode, 1600 block Llewelyn Ave., with the stabbing death of his mother in what police describe as a domestic dispute last Tuesday.

Mrs. Hattie B. Stanton, 82, was found dead of several stab wounds in her 1600 block N. Dallas Ct. home at 4:30 p.m. She had been dead several hours.

Also found in the woman's apartment was Mr. Goode who was suffering from superficial knife wounds of the chest that police said were fresh and apparently self-inflicted.

Police said they found a small knife on the son, who was mumbling incoherently. He was given treatment at the Johns Hopkins University and later released to the authorities.

Police state Mrs. Stanton's son had been staying with her to care for her. When his wife brought them food she discovered the bloody scene and called the police.

SAMUEL LEROY TAYLOR
dead at 74

Samuel Leroy Taylor, 74, teacher, church leader

Samuel Leroy Taylor, 4011 Alto Rd., supervisor of mathematics for Secondary Education in the city schools, died Sunday at Provident Hospital after a short illness. He was 74.

Funeral services will be held noon today, Friday, at St. John's AME Church, 810 N. Carrollton Ave. He will be buried in Maryland National Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mr. Taylor was born Oct. 1, 1901 in Wellwood, Md. in Baltimore County. He was the youngest son of the late Joseph Samuel and Mrs. Annie Rogers Taylor.

As the sixth of nine children, Mr. Taylor began his education in a one room school house where he displayed a remarkable capacity for learning.

From there he attended Morgan Academy for Secondary Study and later enrolled in old Morgan College at the age of 15. He received a B.A. degree in mathematics at the age of 19 and began his teaching career at Bowie Normal School.

Despite the fact that some of the teachers were older, he earned their respect and admiration. He inspired Mr. Taylor to further his education and later enrolled in the University of Pennsylvania to receive a master of Arts in Secondary Education.

Mr. Taylor also attended Columbia University, the University of Maryland and Johns Hopkins University.

As member of St. John AME Church, he was a member of the Board of Trustees, assistant treasurer of the church for 25 years; a member of the $1,000 Club and president of the Layman's Organization.

Mr. Taylor was also treasurer for the Arena Players for many years; a member of the Phi Delta Teaneers, The Club, the First Saturday Nighters and The Mexicans.

For the past five years, Mr. Taylor was a driver for the Meals on Wheels program.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Allegra Mussenden Taylor; one son, C. Leroy Taylor; three sisters, Mrs. Viola T. Briscoe, Mrs. Ethel T. Payne, Mrs. Harriet T. Dyson and five nieces.

The family requests that in lieu of flowers, contributions should be made to the Arena Players Inc. in care of Mrs. Camilla Sheppard, 3210 Auchentoroly Terrace, Baltimore, Md. 21217.

Mrs. Chandler supports unity service on King's birthday

Mrs. Claudette Chandler has given her support to an idea to hold an Ecumenical Service on Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday.

In an open letter to Horace W. Davis of the 800 block Kevin Rd., Mrs. Chandler applauded his idea by stating, "it is typical of your sincere dedication and willingness to make sacrifices for our community." Mrs. Chandler also told Mr. Davis she would help his idea become a reality.

According to the letter, the service would be held for the purpose of unifying black and poor persons to fight poor housing, education and sanitation and the lack of jobs.

In the letter, Mrs. Chandler offered two suggestions to Mr. Davis. She said the service could be used to kick off 1976 in the "fight against anything that would keep citizens victims of the system."

She also suggested that the alleged rape of the 15-year-old girl by an ex-duty police officer be placed "high on the list of another King's birthday.

Death comes to Calvin Douglass after family Christmas dinner

Funeral services were held Dec. 29 for Calvin Albert Douglass Sr., at Marshall Jones Funeral Home.
