R.S.V.P

By Michele L. McHae

"About 25 years ago, a group of young ladies with lots in common, decided to meet on a regular basis. We were out of school, some of us were recently married, a few with children, and others were husband hunting—a popular sport in those days." We has plenty of time on our hands since our husbands and boyfriends were busy fighting the world for economic security. Not yet committed to community involvement, the group agreed that they would like to start a club for the purpose of socializing and enjoying one another's company. It has been fun and relaxing dining together, playing cards, having parties and traveling (not necessarily in that order).

"We have continued in this fashion over the years; and as it is with life, we have shared one another's joys and sorrows, successes and failures. What does W.N.M. mean? Ask us at our fiftieth anniversary."

This message was in the form of scrolls, tied with gold ribbon and sealed with a Bicentennial silver dollar. They were presented to all the lady guests as they entered the Gold and Amber Room of Emerald Gardens last weekend.

Club members were dressed in silver and white with table decorations of lime green foil wrapped X-mas boxes topped with the number 25 in silver.

At the stroke of midnight, a three-tiered silver and white anniversary cake was wheeled on the floor while the Wilbur Phillips Band played the anniversary waltz.

Members of the club are: Jimmy LaForest, president; Nicki Dendish, vice president; Ellsworth Pettis, treasurer; Dorrance Perkins, secretary; Bobbie Chisgett, Helen Clayton, Odom, Ken Carter, Sonny Holden, Greendolen Carter, Joe Harris, and Merlie Stokes.

Committee X-71

Invitations went out to friends in the colors of blue, gold and white from members of Committee X-71 who were festive then in their 8th annual Christmas gala.

The gathering was held at Emerald Gardens where friends enjoyed cocktails, dinner and dancing.

Members are: Samuel W. Beasley, Melvin A. Cattaway, Sherlin W. Clayborne, Melvin Chambers, W. Atlanta C. Davis, Ben Freeman, Geraldine Gaines, Albert A. Hardison, J. William Hogan, William Lockwood, Jamie W. Mayfield, Robert Payne, Leroy Pickney, Wellington S. Poer, Paul Scott.

Woodlawn Open House

Nearly two hundred guests gathered at the Fitzwood Rd home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Woodlawn the day after Christmas to share the spirit of holiday which prevailed throughout the evening. Guests gleaned through out the beautifully decorated two-floor apartment, meet new and old friends, light soft music, good conversation and an enjoyable catered occasion with food and drink to accommodate every taste and mood which included an unusual assortment of food.

The meeting of old friends and relatives set the tone for a mood of warmth and intimacy that the real Christmas symbolizes while a mechanical life-size Santa bowed and greeted guests throughout the evening.

Assisting Alfred and Janet were their two daughters, Stephanie and Amy Woolridge who were home from Detroit for the holiday.

Among out-of-town guests were: Orlo Redd, a native Baltimorean, now a designer at General Motors in Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCaw of Silver Springs, (he is the director of the American-African Institute in Washington); Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Keith of Washington, D.C.;

Also Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brown of Flint, Michigan and Mr. and Mrs. Reese Knox, Washington.

Dr. Nathan Pitts, now with HEW in Washington and his wife, Mary, brought their house guests, Amalia Meyer of Paris, where Dr. Pitts was formerly in a key post.

Honored

Miss Leslie Carol Griffin, a Morgan State University sophomore and recent initiate of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority was honored at afternoon buffet by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. (Delores) Hobbs.

The sorority colors of pink and green adorned the household while some fifty members of the organization enjoyed the afternoon buffet.

LKM

The Iota Chapter of Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority held their Christmas luncheon and meeting at the S and R Banquet Facilities on The Alameda recently.

Sorority activities receiving top billing were the Community project supporting the Arena Players Building Fund on December 21 at Walbrook Senior High School and Founders Day scheduled for January 21 at Martin's West with guest speaker, Mrs. Georgia M. Gosier, prominent Baltimore Attorney.

After the meeting sorores resorted to a "season to be jolly" with a delectable lunch along with fun filled Christmas activities. Sorors Naomi Johnson, Thelma Addison, and Olivia Bates did Christmas readings. Soror Arabella Ross shared a variety of jokes with the group. Gifts were exchanged and music and songs were conducted by Soror Elizabeth Day. Others who helped to make the occasion a gala one were Sorors Josephine Flournoy, Fannie Excell, Louise Turks, and Mary Flournoy.

Sorors participating included: Ovella Queen, Thelma Addison, Lillian Johnson, Mattie Jones, Dorothy Stone, Geraldine Smith, Dorothy Smith, Rachel S. Thompson, Doris Williams, Imogene B. Douglas, Long King Lee.

Marguerite A. Wilkins, Gladys C. Coles, Mary Ann B. Yates, Naomi Johnson, Lucy J. Ford, Marguerite Taylor, Bertha P. Nelson, Josephine Maxwell, Louise B. Daniels, Fannie Daniels, Ruth Wiggins, Stephanie, LaFay S. Stokes;

J. Olivia Bates, Lenora J. Powell, Augusta G. Amos, Josephine Flournoy, Elizabeth C. Day, Dorothy Pollard, Maria B. Powell, Arabella Ross, Dorothy Cawthon, Rita Cooper, Louise Turks, Mary Flournoy, Helen Bennett, and Betty Shelton.

Mrs. Ovella Queen is Chapter Basileus.

Catonsville Notes

By Liz Williams

"The Birthday Of The King" was presented by the Young Adult Choir of Grace A.M.E. Church just before Christmas. The directress and accompanist was Carol Hayes, assisted by Lillian Cornish and Granger Fields. Carols were sung by the Ensemble from the 7th, 8th and 9th grades of Arbutus Junior High School. A Christmas pantomine was presented by Pamela Fields and her students.

The Grace A.M.E. Church Education Committee is sponsoring an "Education Commitment Fund Campaign" which begins in January and will run through March. This fund will help youngsters in our community to further their education after completing high school. If you would like to contribute to this worthy cause, you may send your donation, in care of the Rev. Reginald Boston, to Grace Church on Winters Lane.

Deaver Pong is the chairperson, Ann Mae Wooten is the recording secretary, Helen Hill is the financial secretary, and Rufus Washington is the treasurer. Let us continue to lend our support to help the young people in our community.

Among the young people from Grace Church who have been home for the holidays are: Karen B. Freeman, freshman at Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Stefon F. Rosto, a junior at Ohio University where he is a music major; Carmelita Hayes, a sophomore at Clark College, Atlanta Ga., where she is engaged in a dual program — Science and Engineering; Diane Gordon, a junior at the University Of Maryland, a premed student; Dantia W. Hill a freshman at Syracuse, N.Y. majoring in science, arts and communications.

Our daughter, Deborah Williams is a junior at Clark College, Atlanta, where she is majoring in communications and graphic arts. I know that there are other young people who have come home from college for the holidays but I have not been able to get their names.

The Golden Age Group from Grace A.M.E. Church held its annual Christmas dinner at Howard Johnson Restaurant, Baltimore National Pike. This year the group sent gifts to the patients at Spring Grove State Hospital. Mrs. Hattie Smith the leader, told the members that in near future, the group will hold its meeting at the Banntker Annex.

Greetings were brought to the group by the Rev. Geatry McDonald, pastor of Mormging Star Baptist Church. Remarks were made by the Rev. Reginald Boston, of Grace A.M.E. Church where the group has been holding its meetings. Guests were introduced by Mrs. Gladys (Peri) Foreman who is the group's vice-president. The most important guest to be introduced was Santa Claus, portrayed by John Micanis, director of the South-West Area for Recreation Centers. There are 5-6 centers and one Golden Age group under his supervision. Santa distributed gifts to the guests and a good time was had by all. There were about 50 guests present.

It was so good to see Mrs. Louise Lynch who is the new Lunch Plus site manager. Mrs. Lynch has been quite ill but had her doctor's permission to attend the dinner. Among the other memoers who have been ill but were at the dinner were Marie (Ernest) Johnson and Ernest Simpson. This also marked the birthdays of Mrs. Amy Warden and Mrs. Hazel Boston, wife of Rev. Reginald Boston. Congratulations to Elhana Washington Sr. who was the chairman for the dinner. Congratulations also to the efficient young black waitresses, who performed so beautifully. They were Rosetta Turpin, a former student at Catonsville Community College and Lorraine Stevenson who is a senior at Edmondson High School and who hopes to attend Morgan University or Towson in the fall, to major in accounting.

Among the visitors in our community were Louise Kearse II and Benjamin Sims. Logan is a son of Mrs. Alice M. Kearse and the Rev. I. Logan Kearse, pastor of Cornerstone Baptist Church. Mrs. Kearse is a special education teacher in the Baltimore City School. Logan is a recent graduate of Georgia State University where he majored in Communications. Ben is a Clarke graduate where he majored in Economics. Both of these young men are announcers and newscasters at WCLK-FM Radio Station which is located at Clark College in Atlanta. I understand that Clark has one of the best communication centers in the southeast section of the country.

• • •

Among other students who have been visiting during the holidays were: Sherie Thornton, daughter of Gloria and Ezekiel (Buddy) Thornton, who is a freshman at the University of Maryland, College Park; William Hebron, Towson State, majoring in Elementary Education, and Claudius Allen, a freshman at Morgan University, majoring in Speech and Communications.

Iota Lambda Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Columbia, Md. of which Anne McIver and I are members, recently held its bi-annual election. The following officers were elected: Basileus: Jacqui Brown; First Anti Basileus- Vera Hayes; Second Anti Basileus; Francine Boyd; Grammateus: Closter Lyles, Anti-Grammateus, Willie Davis; Epistoleus, Helen Williams; Tamlochus, Marilyn Beale; Philacter and Hodegus, Dorothy Greenfield; Ivy-Leaf Reporter, Jackie Brooks; and members at Large-Grace Scott and Sandra Edgecomb.

The chapter held a fall fund-raising activity, the Harvest Moon Cabaret. The proceeds of this event will be donated for scholarships for Howard County young women. The chairperson for this successful event was Soror Helen Williams. Future projects include a February formal headed by Soror Sue Ann and Dorothy Greenfield and a March Leadership Workshop headed by Soror Vera Hayes and Soror Ruby Pollev.

My family and I wish for all of you — A Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Woodlawn Highlights

By Marjorie R. Green

"I have set the Lord always before me." Psalms 16:8

It is a spiritually moving experience to stand on the fourth floor of the operations building on any given work day at 2:20 p.m. and witness the gathering of the Social Security Bible Break Bunch.

My presence at the ten minute Bible Study session was prompted by a recent dinner table conversation with Mrs. Helen Moore and Mrs. Mary Hy-Des, two members of the Woodlawn Toastmistress Club who are also members of the Bible Break Bunch.

It was an unbelievable sight to see the young, the old, lay persons, ministers, men and women from all races joining together to praise God from whom all blessings flow during a ten-minute work break.

There were approximately 150 persons arriving from different work areas in the Woodlawn complex.

Some of them were carrying bibles, while others came empty handed but with hearts full of love. They were all just plain ordinary working people who began their session with a prayer of thanksgiving.

The moderator sat in the midst of the standing audience and used "faith" as the subject of her lesson. She constantly referred to bible passages that dealt with the subject. At the end of her presentation, the Reverend J. Marion Bradley was asked to make the closing remarks. He dealt with the contentment and happiness that can be realized through "faith."

I was there. I saw the group leave as quickly and quietly as they came. The crowd dispersed just seconds after the name of the next day's speaker was announced.

The growth of the BBB is certainly proof that a Pilot who knows all the ways is still directing the ship of life.

Congratulations to Mrs. Delores Addison, former Disability Inquiries Specialist in the Bureau of Disability Insurance.

Mrs. Addison has been promoted to a GS12 Senior Systems Analyst position in the same bureau.

Once again the Volunteers of the Social Security Administration have said "we care" to the residents of the Women's Prison in Jessup, Md., to the handicapped and inner city children and to many of Baltimore's senior citizens.

The volunteer group (VOSSA) sponsored parties for these groups during the holiday season.

Committee chairpersons for the Yuletide parties were Rosena Carter, Adele Harper, Irene Gay, Mildred Ayers, Virginia Boucher, Doris Street, Ruth Norris, Ron Mayer and Mary Purnell.

Kitty Smith serves as VOSSA coordinator.

A happy and Prosperous New Year is extended to each of you."

Homework center for children

Classes in ballet, dramatic expression and piano for pre-teen children, sponsored by the YWCA (Young Women's Christian Association), will resume on Jan. 10.

New members are welcome in the classes which are held once per week on Saturdays in the YWCA, 1119 Madison Ave. and weekdays at Public Schools No. 141, 21, and 217. Fees are low. All classes culminate in end-of-year performance.

A new class in Modern Jazz begins Saturday, Jan. 10 from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. at 1912 Madison Ave. Cost is $20 for 10 sessions.

In addition, a homework center with teens, teaching elementary school children, is held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 8:30 p.m. at 1912 Madison Ave. An ongoing activity, the center welcomes new members. Only cost to participants is $2 yearly YWCA junior membership.

For information about any of the above activities, the number to call is 669-1881, the Madison Avenue YWCA.

Miss Santa, DSS aid 56,000 needy

There are approximately 56,000 children in the Baltimore metropolitan area, ages two to 11, whose Christmas cheer would have been gloomy had it not been for the efforts of the hundreds of volunteers and contributors to the AFRO's Mrs. Santa and Volunteer Services for the Department of Social Services.

Mrs. Justine Turner, chief of volunteers at DSS has the herculean task of coordinating the massive gift-giving program each year.

"Our AFDC families," she explains, "refer the children to us and through our 21 districts throughout the city we route toys, food and clothing."

• • •

Throughout the Christmas season, parties and games are conducted for DSS dependent children whose parents are on the welfare rolls and unable to afford Christmas gifts themselves.

"We work with all organizations, groups, fraternities, sororities who wish to make donations," Mrs. Turner said, "they contact us asking for the names of needy children and we make them available."

This year Mrs. Santa's campaign at the AFRO raised more than $15,000.

While official figures are not available the estimation is that over 100,000 needy children benefited from nearly half million dollars in food, toys, clothing and gifts routed through DSS's Volunteer Services programs this Christmas.
