CONSUMER CORNER

Shopping For One

If you live alone or worry about the eating styles of someone who does, you'll understand why we prepared a special pamphlet on food shopping for one.

Fifty easy going meal ideas are gathered together with an eye to stove-top quickies that work well in single serving quantity. Taste, nutrition, and economy are the other features of a super-high-speed list (scrambled eggs, tuna, and a very low cost list which of course includes beans and rice.

The lists are truly a gathering of common sense alternatives into one convenient place plus a little advice and a set of instructions for a bargain beef rollup that turns one flank steak into three very small steaks and a mini-roast beef.

Ask for Shopping for One at your Pantry Pride store office (courtesy desk). If they are out, leave a note with your name and address for Mona Doyle, Consumer Affairs, Pantry Pride Main Office.
