through Saturday afternoon. The NTO, composed of teen members of the YWCA, conducted workshops dealing with drugs, employment, birth control and abortion, communications, and the building of Y-Teen Clubs.

The group heard speeches by Denise Barrie Hill concerning Racism in the Media, and a speech by recent mayoral candidate Ms. Claudette Chandler.

This mini-assembly is a smaller version of the National Assembly which will be held in New York later this year.

The entire affair was planned by Y-Teens Cassandra Walker, Denina Dixon, Jeanine Taylor, Valerie Christian, Ruth Rice, and Beverly Wilson, who serves on the planning committee.

Eastside house assessed for 2 absent rooms

"Anybody who could count two rooms in a house that aren't there is something less than a professional," Robert C. Thomas told the AFRO after learning that his $7,580 four-room house had been reassessed at $10,170 as a six room house.

Located in the 100 block East Cold Spring Lane, the Thomas house has two rooms, kitchen and bath on the first floor and the same on the second floor.

However, according to the Reassessment Work Sheet used by the reassessment agent who allegedly surveyed the Thomas house, there are three rooms, kitchen and bath on each floor.

The Department of Assessments and Taxation has made provisions for the thousands of protests which are currently being made at its various offices by homeowners such as Thomas.

However, Thomas reports that upon making his situation known to officials at the assessment office, "I was told that there was very little doubt in their minds that the work sheet was proper because the assessors were all professionals."

Accordingly, the angered, retired veteran received a copy of a work sheet which he must fill out and wait for the assessment department to call him in for a hearing.

Officials at the Department of Assessment and Taxation told the AFRO that it "will wait until after the hearing on each protest case before making public statements about whether or not the protest is legitimate."

300 attend Masonic Emancipation program

The Prince Hall Masons' Emancipation Proclamation services were held last Sunday at the Willard W. Allen Masonic Temple.

Grand Master Samuel T. Daniels presided at the annual rites which were attended by some 300 members of the organization.

The Emancipation Proclamation was issued Jan. 1 1863 by Abraham Lincoln to free the slaves at the outbreak of the Civil War.

Dr. Homer Favor of Morgan State University, the main speaker, said, "We are not fully emancipated but yet we are celebrating the Bicentennial and Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday.

"Dr. King died hoping we would realize his dream. Young people in Baltimore are undernourished, poorly housed and someone has to care.

"We have hard times because we can't get together and talk about our needs. All men are created equal, not white men nor black men but all men."

The Rev. Marion C. Bascom told the Masons, "Mv fathers and mothers before me have never known what it meant to be free. The year of 1776 is called the year of bastardy and illegitimacy. There were have food or homes here for our people. As long as there is a black boy in jail more illegitimate children born.

"We stick our nose in everybody's business across America and we don't or Yale University, he is kin to me."

Others participating on the program were the Rev. Vernon Dobson, Grand Worthy Matron Lillie Askew and William Omara.

JOHANNESBURG — The Japanese foreign ministry has announced that Japan will continue to trade with South Africa despite a United Nations resolution criticizing economic relations between South Africa and six advanced countries including Japan. The Japanese spokesman said Japan was against South Africaa racial policy, but could not afford to cut trade relations with South Africa.

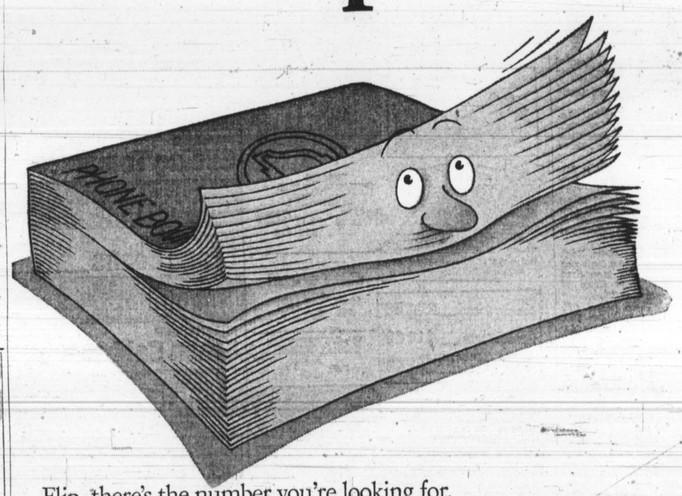
Ms. Hansberry's film portrait at Pratt

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black," a powerful yet appealing personal portrait of Lorraine Hansberry, will be presented on film Thursday, Jan. 22, at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Reisterstown Road branch of the Pratt library, 6310 Reisterstown Rd.

Born on May 19, 1930, Ms. Hansberry was a noted black woman playwright whose brilliant career ended prematurely in 1965 when she died of cancer. The film is from the play which offered a compilation of passages from her letters and diaries interspersed with scenes from her best known plays —"A Raisin in the Sun," "The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window" and "The Drinking Gourd."

Admission to the library screenings will be free. The public is invited to attend.

"Let's flip for it."



Flip, there's the number you're looking for.
Flip, there's another number.
Fast?
Fast doesn't do it justice.
Your phone book is the fastest way we know to find a number.
Practically any number.
After all, what's faster than a flip?
From now on, when you need to find a number, find it fast.
Whadda ya say, folks—let's flip for it.

Look it up yourself. It's faster.
