King Sr. urges peace for nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States should practice peace by example instead of rhetoric, the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr. told the Senate Wednesday.

Testifying during a Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearing on foreign policy goals, the 76-year-old father of slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. said, "I look forward to the day when peace comes, not peace spoken out of the mouth, but peace coming in ways that mankind everywhere can see."

King, whose wife also was slain by an assassin's doing to help someone.

In addition to his wife, Bumbry is survived by three sons, Rayfield Bumbry now in the military stationed in Georgia. Also Frederick Bumbry of Oxon Hill, Md., Michael Bumbry of Washington.

Other survivors are two daughters, Miss Jocelyn Y. bullets, said what the United States and the world needs is brotherhood. "The idea that really brings us together is brotherhood."

"America has the know how. America has the strength to live in brotherhood," King said.

"What bothers me, and should bother you, is that man is awful considerate to himself. He is awful considerate to his needs. But so inconsiderate of others," King said.

"Back of this cosmic world is a God who operates. He is always on time, aways there, always working," King said. Then looking straight at the panel of senators, King said "Let God operate this world and teach us how."

She was there but AFRO Charities got dough

When he did, Phillips had no idea that he was making $15 for the AFRO Charities fund instead of giving away $5 in the "Were You There" game.

Miss Welch came to the Druid Hill and Eutaw office to claim her reward for being in the right place at the right time, which is the slogan used to explain how winners of the "There" contest are determined.

She collected the check when it was proffered but instead of pocketing it, Miss Welch took from her purse a pen and checkbook.

After endorsing the "Were You There" check, she wrote another in a double amount ($10) and turned over both to the Afro Charities program.

A professional model who also serves as a dental office manager, Miss Welch lives with her mother, Mrs. Aleasie Weems in Northeast Baltimore. Her father, Warren Weems, is deceased.

A stunningly attractive subject for the Phillips lens, Miss Welch says she retains her fresh look and shapely curves by swimming at least once a week during the winter and playing tennis in the spring and summer months.

It also helps, perhaps, that she is an avid reader of the AFRO sports pages . . . S'.

Coach to speak

Tony Marou, head football coach for the University of Cincinnati, will be the main speaker at the thirteenth annual Scholar Athlete Awards Dinner, sponsored by the Greater Baltimore Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

The dinner will be held Feb. 18, at Martin's West.

Of all America's 1976 cars, Dodge Aspen and Plymouth Volaré were judged to have made the most significant contribution to the automotive world for 1976. Here's what Mike Knepper, Editor of Motor Trend magazine, said about some of the things which influenced the judges' decision:
"We took into consideration how efficiently Dodge Aspen and Plymouth Volaré delivered comfort and performance; and especially the new suspension system invented by Chrysler Corporation. Their goal was to achieve a big-car ride in a smaller car. As far as we're concerned, they definitely succeeded. Cars of this size will be the standard size car of the future."
Now you can judge for yourself. See and test-drive Aspen at your Dodge dealer's, Volaré at your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer's. Drive home the Car of the Year!
