Senate confirms Milton Allen to Supreme Bench judgeship

The Maryland Senate this week, unanimously confirmed the appointment of Milton B. Allen to the Supreme Bench of Baltimore along with three other Mandel appointments.

Allen's appointment is the highlight in the career of the man who was elected the first black States Attorney in the United States.

He served in that capacity from 1970 to 1974 when he lost a hectic campaign fight against William A. Swisher.

After his defeat Allen returned to private practice with his law firm which is one of the most illustrious in the country.

Since it first hung out its shingles in 1948, the firm has produced four Supreme Bench judges, including Allen and Baltimore's first black city solicitor.

The long awaited appointment, announced Monday night, was met with intermixed congratulations for both the governor and Allen.

For example the Rev. Mr. Olin P. Moyd, pastor, Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church, told the AFRO:

"I think it was a nice move on the part of the governor. It is a step in the right direction for black people. If we get more persons in the position of handing out justice and who are sensitive to the problems of the oppressed we can expect equal justice. I think it is a plus for the oppressed."

Mrs. Ruby Johnston, 2600 block Orsemo Ave., put it this way. "This is one of the best appointments Gov. Mandel has made since he has been our governor. Most of the citizens who appear in court are black and I feel we need more black judges in our Criminal Courts."

* * *

Charles Dorsey, director of Legal Aid said, "Milton Allen is an excellent lawyer and he will be an excellent judge.

"The thing that impresses me about him is his dedication to justice and to the people. It was an excellent appointment in my judgement."

Allen is widely known for his career as a criminal lawyer, having successfully defended his clients in some of the most publicized trials in the city's history.

The glamour surrounding his career is largely due to the press preoccupation with narcotics and gambling cases in which Allen's courtroom dramatics were spectacular.

As a lawyer, he is highly respected among other lawyers. Says Dwight Pettit, vice president of the Monumental Bar Association, a group which actively supported Allen's appointment, "I would like to commend the governor on the personal choice of Milton Allen for the Supreme Bench.

* * *

"We feel that Allen with his former criminal law background and his great service as state's attorney brings excellent qualifications to the bench. He also fulfills a necessary void in relationship to the needs of the city, to justice, constitutional rights and civil rights."

Allen was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the retirement of Judge Charles D. Harris.

After the soon-to-be-held swearing in ceremonies which will be conducted by Chief Judge Anselm Sodaro at a special meeting of the Supreme Bench, Allen will bring to five the number of black jurists serving on this high court.

The Supreme Bench is at present, with Allen's appointment, only 21 seats are filled. The governor is expected to fill the remaining vacancy soon.

Because Judge Harris's term does not expire until 1977, Allen will not have to run for election to the bench until the Fall elections in 1978.

Allen is a native Baltimorean, he and his wife Martha P. have three sons, David, 32, a working attorney, Peter, 27, a Kansas City newspaper photographer, and Milton Jr., 21, with Howard University's WHUR radio station.

Other citizens' reactions to news of Allen's appointment follow:

Miss Mary R. Conley, 1100 block W. Lanvale St., Seamstress: "I'm glad he was appointed. I think he's qualified. I also think that black people should have the same opportunities as whites. We have many qualified black people to take any job."

Mrs. Helen Scott, 50, 1300 block Division St., housewife: "I think he's qualified. I was very disappointed that he lost his election. I was very concerned because I worked to get him elected during the write-in campaign. I think he is a responsible man. He always listens to whatever you have to say."

John Holdbrook, 1900 block Washington St., commented "Its great . . . he is a fine man and, I don't care what others think I've always liked him as a man and as a law-man. He is one of the few black professionals who keep their cool and go about their business without trouble."

Mrs. Robin Carter, 1500 block Fulton Ave., told the AFRO "I think he deserves it after all he has been a lawyer for more than 24 years. He was the first black States Attorney. Mr. Allen's appointment is about the best thing Mandel has done for the black community. I wish Mr. Allen the best of luck."

The Rev. Dr Alfred C. D. Vaughn told the AFRO, "I think it is about time and I say Amen because it is just an over due thing."

United Fund honors city school system

The United Fund of Central Maryland presented awards to the schools and offices of the city school system Wednesday in a ceremony at Walbrook Sr. High.

The public school donated $169,678 to the United Fund Campaign last year.

Among the guests at the event were representative of the office of Mayor Schaefer, Councilman Clarence (Du) Burns representatives of the School Board, Dr. John Crew, interim superintendent, regional superintendents, Harvey Meyerhoff, general chairperson, of the United Fund of Central Maryland, principals, regional coordinators and school chairpersons.

The United Fund Honor Award which goes to those having gained a 50 per cent growth over the last year's total, will be presented to Woodrow Wilson School No. 294, and the office of the superintendent.

Achievement Awards will be given to the central office administrative division, and regional headquarters for Region I, II, V, VI, VII, and VIII. The achievement award is given for a 10 per cent advance over the previous year.

Twenty-two schools in each of Regions I and VII, 20 schools in Region III, 19 schools in Region II, 17 schools in Region VI, 15 schools in Region IX, 14 in VIII, and 10 schools in Region IV received Achievement Awards.

The highest amount raised was $22,717.23 by the Central Office, while the next highest amount was $22,074 by Region VI. Harford Heights Elementary School, led schools at the elementary level with a total of $2,869. On the junior high scale, Calverton Junior High, raised $2,114. The leading senior high was Polytechnic Institue, which totaled $2,217.

Some 29 community service awards were presented to individuals within the school system for their efforts toward last year's campaign.

Morgan grad in Africa to feach

Henry L. Westray Jr. of 1427 Winston Ave., has left the United States to teach for two years at the University of Lagos in Nigeria.

A graduate of Morgan State University and Bryn Mawr College, Westray left for Africa last Saturday to teach an study the arts and culture as well as to examine Africa as a social system.

Westray holds degrees in Sociology-Antropology from Morgan and a master's degree in community Palnning and development from Bryn Mawr. He is a member in the National Association of Black Social Workers anr the Foundation for the Community of Artists-New York City.

* * *

Westray stated while he is in Africa he plans to observe the counitre from an outsiders perspentive. He also plans to be involved in the further planning of the black arts festival which will be held in Nigeria.

Westray expects to become a liajson person between Morgan State University and the University of Lagos. He said he hopes it will facilitate an exchange of culture and ideas from one black university to another. He believes wthat such a liaison will promote positive interaction between students and faculty at both institutions.

Sensenbaugh to retire

James A. Sensensbaugh, state superintendent of schools and a fixture in the Maryland education scene for the past 12 years, announced Wednesday that he will retire at the end of his current four year term June 30.

Sensen baugh will leave his post with no "heir apparent " in the state Education Department. According to sources, an informal search for a successor already has begun.
