R.S.V.P. With Marie

Many times I find it hard to believe — extremely difficult — there are so-o-o many people doing so-o-o many beautiful and meaningful things in and around our town. No wonder Baltimore is called the Charm City. Weekends find this writer and staff actually running from one function to another. Often we are late or cannot stay for the entire program but we try to make as many as we can.

Take this weekend for example, tonight, Friday our camera will be at the annual Shriner's Charity Ball sponsored by Medina Temple No. 1. Festivities get on the way around 10 and will wind up at 2 in the morning. It's a black tie affair; we look forward to seeing our good friends and dancing to the vibes of Saturday.

Tomorrow, Saturday, literally hundreds of Kappa men (Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity) will be at Morgan's Student Center for the Second Annual Founder's Day dinner. Kappa brothers from far and near (especially from the Baltimore-Washington areas) will come together to hear a message from Ernest "Duke" McNeil of Chicago, who, as many of you might recall, was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor in the Windy City. Brother "Duke," the Eastern provincial officers as well as two living founders are listed among the notables expected to attend. We'll be there, at least for the first part of the program . . . the affair is closed to brothers only and Kappa man Howard L. Tutman, Jr. ("Tut") says that ruling is going to be enforced. The reception begins at 6, dinner at 7:30.

But we go to the Kappas dinner, the AFRO will be lunching with the Columbia Chapter of Links, Inc. Members are holding a "Salute to Community Leaders" beginning at 11:30 a.m. at Cross Keys Inn in Columbia. Again, we'll be there.

Actually, that is only the beginning and you'll see what I mean next week.

The Norfolk Ave. home of the Carl Adairs was aglow with beautiful people on Saturday evening. Mrs. Adair, (Merlene), joined by their three daughters, invited family and friends in to say happy birthday to the head of their house. He was 41.

Mr. Adair is the Republican leader who ran unsuccessfully for a Fifth District Council seat in Nov. He is also a businessman who is noted as a good neighbor and community worker.

Present for the event was his mother, Mrs. Serela Adair of D.C.

Also sister, Miss Joyce Adair, D.C.; sister and brother-in-law the Morris Tuckers and son, Morris Jr.; brothers and sisters-in-law, the Verdell Adairs, Eddie Adairs, Alvis Adairs of D.C.

Also, sister-in-law, Lois Gladney; and cousins, the Alphonso Scarboroughs, Earlie Franceses.

Others about were the Lionel Desbordes, Harry Colesee, William Rosses, Enlo Roundtrees, A. Paul Mosses, Eugene Owenses.

Also, the Wendell Suttons, Leroy Fitzgeralds, Vallen Emorys, Robert Wattses, Charles Sanders, Samuel Spencer, Marian Patterson, Lutrecia Mundell, Bonetta Smith.

The Firesiders toasted two of their relirees Florence Ringgold and Helen Mercer Cothorn when Ada Weaver hosted the group at a dinner meeting recently. The Committee no only toasted the two with, gifts and champagne but toasted the two with original verse composed by retired principal Irma Dancy.

Helen Cothorn is a retired music teacher in the Baltimore public schools and Florence Ringgold is a retired administrator working out of 25th St. To Helen, the group said the tribute was long overdue and "may all of the years that lie ahead bring only joy and excitement to you.

To Florence, the group toasted "may your future days hold mountains of pleasure for you."

The Firesiders committee included Ada Weaver, hostess; Iris Mapp, Irma Dancy, Frances Ashby, Bea Nixon, Eula Watkins and Lillian Ross. Other members were Milburn Brown, Dot Brown and Ida Peters. Club guests were Mabel Denkins, Ivy Grinage, Agnes Reaves, Gwen Tarter, Dot Wood and Amy Weaver.

As of this week, the weekly bridge game winners of the Dilto Duplicate Club, an affiliate of the American Bridge Association will appear in the Reflections section. Here are the scores.

Jan. 18: First place, Pinkie Daniels and Sam Dendy; second, Lucille Robinson and Frances Martin; third, Frances Stith and Herbert Stith.

Jan. 21: North-South winners were first, Dorothy Joyner and Nathaniel Holden; second, Sam Dendy and Pinkie Daniels; third, Eugene Samples and Ernestine Sampler. The East-West winners were: first, Sally Haskins and Freddy Joynes; second, Sadie Roberts and Barbara Holton; third, James McGlothern and Lucille Robinson.

Note: The Dilto Duplicate Club Welcomes new members and visitors to play every Wednesday night beginning at 7:30.

Lambda Kappa Mu has birthday, marks 39 years at celebration

The Iota Chapter of the Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority Inc. held its Annual Founders Day Luncheon last Saturday at Martin's West.

This ceremony marked "Positive Leadership for Purposeful Action."

This ceremony marked the 39th annual celebration of the sorority founded by the late Florence R. Williamson Norman in 1937 in New York City. The sorority represents a National sorority of black business and professional women.

Georgia Harmond Goslee, a Baltimore attorney, partner of Kemp-Goslee-Howard law firm, a member of the Red Cross, charter member of the Columbia Council, and a Public Defender addressed the gathering.

Mrs. Goslee onened her speech by verbally attacking the issue of "Crime in the Baltimore Community" she called for more citizens to become involved in stopping crime. "I don't mean put your life on the line but instead of closing your door pick up the telephone and call the police.

"One of the greatest problems in our country today is the discarding of the elderly citizens by the youth." She continued "Our community needs a positive leadership and the elderly people could provide it."

Ms. Goslee also criticized the system in our society that is not responsive to the problems and needs of the elderly.

The speaker then turned her attention to what is called the "Youthful Rebellion." "The major problem is the parents aren't around or involved with the children. There has got to be something wrong in the family or somewhere when a child can do almost anything.

"The parents are not there to give the supervision and guidance necessary so the children turn to their peers in an effort to find some leadership. And oftentimes their peers lead them into doing something they shouldn't do or ordinarily wouldn't do if they had someone to talk to," she warned.

"Parents have to become more enlightened to the drug problem if they want to help their children. There is an' ongoing campaign in this country to decriminalize and legalize marijuana. There are already over 32 million people who engage in smoking marijuana."

Mrs. Goslee lambasted the government and called for a reorganization of their priorities. "If the Uni. States can put a man on the moon they can clear up the drug problem, and the only reason they won't is because it means dollars and cents."

"We as parents have to take certain steps and make certain commitments to our children and young people in general if we are to help them" she cautions.

"In 1976 young girls are dying from illegal abortions because they feel they have no one they can trust or turn to when they are in trouble. It's such a sad thing when confidence is broken between parents and their children."

In the concluding section of her speech. Ms. Goslee addressed herself to the issue of women pursuing careers. "The main problem of black females in traditional male roles is men only see you as a sex object. I feel it is important that women are allowed to pursue any career they want to."

The Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority also honored three women for their outstanding achievement, service, and dedication to society.

The first honored was Mrs. Thelma Dely as "Outstanding Career Educator and Counselor". Next was Del. Lena K. Lee for "Outstanding contribution in education and Legal Service" and finally Mrs. Joanne Harris Tyson as "Outstanding Nurse, Sex Researcher and Marriage Counselor."

Iota Chapter is headed by Ovella Queen, basileus. Other officers are: Betty Skelton, first anti-basileus; Doris Williams, second anti-basileus; Mary Mitchell, financial grammateus;

Monterey Williams, recording grammateus; Rachel Thompson, corresponding grammateus; Lillian Johnson, tamiochus; Veta Greig, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Dorothy Stone, epistoleus.

The founders Day committee was comprised of Mary Silva, chairperson; Betty Shelton, co-chairperson; Imogene Douglas Mary Gordon, Fannie Harvey, Puttie Holloway, Myrtle Jones;

Josephine Maxwell, Kathleen Newsome, Arabella Ross, Bertha Sembly, Dorothy Smith, Geraldine Smith, Doris Williams, Betty Wooden and Margaret Yates.

THOSE WOMEN HONORED at Iota Chapters (Lambda Kappa Mu Sorority) Founder's Day luncheon were from L to R: Mrs. Joanne Tyson, who along with her husband, Dr. Richard Tyson, operates the Institute for Marriage Enrichment in Columbia, Md.; Mrs. Thelma Daly, (not shown) educator/counselor, who was represented by Faith Thomas, her niece, and Del Lena K. Lee (D-38th), educator/legislator.

Cook and Save with Campbell's Soups
Save this week with fish

There are at least two reasons to buy fish these days. There are some very good fish buys in the market, among them catfish, codfish, grouper or frozen fish fillets. And fish is an excellent source of protein, while being lower in calories, fat and cholesterol than meat.
A good way to stretch a fish meal is to cook fish dishes with Campbell's Soup. Try this delicious spicy fish stew made with Campbell's Tomato Soup. It will feed a family of six and leave 'em happy, too!
So many Campbell's Soups are ideal for cooking. And many soups have recipes right on the labels. Try this fish stew and see what Campbell's Tomato Soup can do for you.
FISH STEW
2 pounds fish (grouper or catfish), skinned and cleaned
Salt and pepper
Cayenne pepper
6 potatoes, peeled and cubed
1 onion, chopped
3 stalks celery, chopped
4 tablespoons bacon drippings
2 cans (10½ ounces each) Campbell's Tomato Soup
2 soup cans water
1 large bay leaf
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 can (16 ounces) cut green beans, drained
1. Cut fish into large pieces.
2. Sprinkle fish with salt, pepper, and cayenne. Cover. Let stand 30 minutes while preparing rest of recipe.
3. In large heavy pan, brown potatoes and cook onion and celery in drippings until onion is limp.
4. Stir in soup, water, bay, and Worcestershire.
5. Cook over low heat 25 minutes or until potatoes are done.
6. Stir in beans; lay fish on top.
7. Cover; cook 30 minutes more or until fish is done. Occasionally lift pan from heat and gently shake.
Serve with hot corn bread and assorted relishes. Makes 6 servings.
Give me the Campbell Life.

Hints For Homemakers

The Nation's Bicentennial year has arrived, and the world is focusing attention on our 200th birthday. People will be celebrating this occasion in many ways and traveling throughout the country to visit historic sites.

CONCENTRATED "all" CLEANS 'EM ALL!

As we prepare for the days ahead, it would be advantageous to keep our households in order and a supply of beauty aids on hand for expected as well as unexpected guests.

It has always been a practice with me to keep my linens ready for any use, especially since it's often necessary for me to entertain on a moment's notice.

Most of my tablecloths are white, and CONCENTRATED "all" helps to keep them that way. They are drip-dry, but really look like pure linen or organdy.

CONCENTRATED "all" does a great job in removing oily stains that sometimes spill on the tablecloths. So my guests are reassured not to worry in case they have an accident.

In fact, CONCENTRATED "all" does a superior job on many stains, its combination of bleach, borax and brighteners really gets the job done.

It's also great for the entire wash. My colored clothes retain their colors so beautifully. No matter what I launder, CONCENTRATED "all" really cleans 'em all.

DOVE HELPS YOU LOOK YOUR BEST

Martha Washington was the first lady of our land. In the passing years every "first lady" has had to always look her best.

Well, the majority of us will never make it to the White House, but we all should be concerned about the condition of our skin.

Coming at the start of icy winter, January is one of the months in which we have to be careful about our skin not becoming too dry. One of the best beauty aids I can recommend is DOVE Beauty Bar.

DOVE helps your skin retain moisture during the cold days ahead. That's because DOVE is not a soap. It also has one-quarter cleansing cream so it cleanses and moisturizes your skin at the same time.

It does cost a little more than most soap bars, but you may have observed that beauty aids that help your face look its best often are a little more expensive.

DOVE is also perfect to use if you decide to give yourself a facial. It's so easy to apply. Rinse off the lather and what you will see in the mirror is most rewarding.

Keep your complexion looking its best with DOVE. You may never live in the White House, but you can become a "first lady" in many other respects just by looking your best.

CLOSE-UP FOR WHITE TEETH, FRESH BREATH

As our country celebrates its history, it's interesting to note how toothpaste has become part of our way of life and good dental hygiene habits.

Today most people I know have their own favorite brand. My personal preference is a dentifrice that will carry me through all kinds of situations.

CLOSE-UP is the brand the Kaiser family uses. Believe me, it helps keep your teeth white and your breath fresh.

That's because it contains real mouthwash in addition to effective cleaning agents.

Although 200 years have passed since this great nation began, I bet the fathers who drew up the Constitution would have welcomed the opportunity to use a toothpaste like CLOSE-UP for those many close-up meetings they spent together.

But they did a pretty good job in setting the guidelines for this land of ours.

MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S MAKES FOR REAL GOOD EATING

This is the time of the year when it is hard to decide what to eat. We've all had our share of turkey and all the other foods that are usually served during the holidays.

Such dishes as pancakes and waffles of all kinds and French toast can add variety to your breakfast menu or late-evening functions. Any of these dishes served with MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S syrup is real good eating.

Yes, there is a difference in the consistency and taste of syrups. MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S is twice as thick as the leading syrups.

Its rich taste is one that most people like. And MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S 2% real-butter content makes it taste even better.

During the holidays I attended a breakfast where the hostess served us waffles with syrup that just ran all over the plate. It was obvious that she was very embarrassed.

As tactfully as I could, I suggested she try using MRS. BUTTERWORTH'S syrup the next time, because it is thicker. "Just look for 'the sweet little old lady bottle' on the shelf next time you shop," I told her.

Vernon Sheffeys mark anniversary at Enon

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Sheffey celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary recently with a reaffirmation ceremony at Enon Baptist Church. A champagne reception followed in the adjoining A. J. Payne Christian Center.

The Rev. Arthur J. Payne, who performed the wedding service 25 years ago, conducted the impressive service before the flower bedecked altar and prie-lieu, with the help of the Rev. Porter Phillips, who composed and delivered silver meditations.

Miss Almira Miller, organist, rendered the prelude from Bach, Rhineberger and Bellman, while Miss Margaret Lindsay solemnized the occasion when her vibrant soprano voice rose in "The Lord's Prayer."

In he recessional, to the triumphant "Mid-Stmmer Night's Dream" theme, the couple was joined by their two daughters, Ilona and Renata, best man, John Thompson and matron of honor, Mrs. Agnes Myers Welch. They were followed by the hostesses and ushers, all members of the New Essene Guild, a 16-year-old Enon group of which the celebrants are charter members.

At the reception, banked by lilies, chrysanthemums, bird-of-paradise blooms, and hanging baskets of impatiens, the Sheffeys received guests in a palm-backed line, while the Elizabeth Day trio of strolling violinist played romantic tunes.

Congratulations flowed in from many friends and dignitaries. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Georgia Sheffey Johnson of Washington, D.C., a 96-year-old aunt and 1923 graduate of Howard University; Maxwell Marshall, 94, of N.Y., an uncle who had to cancel his trip, telegrammed his best wishes as did Joe Turner, Jazz pianist of Paris, France.

Mr. Sheffey is the executive director of the Lafayette Square Multi-Service Center and Mrs. Ruthe Sheffey is a professor of English at Morgan State University. Daughter, Ilona is a sophomore honor scholar at Howard University and Renata is a sixth-grader at Woodmoor Elementary School.

Columbia Capers

... by Pinnie T.

Over 400 well-wishers filled the Catholic space of the Interfaith Center recently to witness the installation of the Rev. Robert S. Davis, pastor, Long Reach Church of God.

The Rev. Robert V. Leeper, associate pastor of the Monroe Street Church of God, Baltimore, gave the invocation. Three music selections were rendered by the youth group of St. John's Baptist Church under the direction of Janet Griffin. The 35 little voices sang "Jesus Is the Answer," "Something Got a Hold On Me" and "Oh, Happy Day."

Welcoming remarks came from the following speakers: the Rev. Harvey Edge, Tri State District Assembly First Church of God, Rockville, Md.; Mrs. Dottie Moore, Howard County Community Action Council, Columbia Cooperative Ministry and the Community Cooperative Ministry Staff.

"Amens" came in all directions from people assembled during the musical selection from the dynamic Long Reach Church of Good Pellowship Choir under the able directress, Mrs. Dorothy McClain.

The choir was accompanied by Mrs. Doris Davis, wife of the Rev. Mr. Davis. The versatile Mrs. Davis in the beginning of the song accompanied the group then moved from the piano and joined the beautiful voices in the singing of "I Am Determined To Go Through."

pastor, Long Reach Church of God

Mrs. Dorothy McClain sang a solo entitled "The Time Is Now" which she dedicated to the Rev. Mr. Davis. Still another musical selection, this time by the popular Fuller family consisting of brothers, sisters and the mother (Mrs. Fuller), was "I Believe in God" which they mastered very well.

The Rev. James S. Scott was installation chairperson and also in charge of the ministers. Remarks came from the Rev. Verle E. Fridley:

"You have been called to the highest call in the world, and we have confidence that you will do your job. Preach the word and show men and women the way out of the dark. For you Bob, become cool and steady. Do the work of an evangelist and perform the duty of a minister."

He added, "Preach it when they like it, preach it when they don't like it, and when they pay you and when they don't pay you." Chuckles came from the audience for his last statement.

The Rev. Woodie White, Columbia, gave the installation prayer. Strengthen and encourage him in moments when he will be weak. When the battle will be hard, give him courage. The sermonette came from the Rev. James P. Jackson, pastor, 17th St. Church, Harrisburg, Pa.

"The Man Your Pastor" was his theme. "God has always used a man to preach Gospel. When God calls a man, he has already searched the depth of his heart. Send men who will obey him and not be ashamed."

Mrs. Helen Russell, pastor, Baltimore St. Church of God, gave the benediction, after which the congregation stood and joined hands in singing, "We Are One in the Spirit." A reception followed the service catered by Mrs. Carolyn Reed.

The Rev. Mr. Davis and his lovely wife, Doris, have three children, Alicia, 11; Robert Jr., 8 and Kishra, 7. Prior to moving to Columbia, they resided in Washington, D.C. where he was employed at the Library of Congress for ten years. For the past five years, he has been employed in the Baltimore City Police Department as the principal criminalist, laboratory division, to help solve crime by physical evidence.

The young minister has a BS degree from West Virginia State University and is a graduate of the Baltimore School of the Bible.
