Cook and Save with Campbell's Soups
Save this week with chicken
Chicken is one of the best buys in the supermarket. It's high in protein and relatively low in cost. To make it an even better value, buy whole chickens and split them yourself. Whole chickens are cheaper by the pound than cut-up chicken.
And here's another way to economize with chicken and other meats: by cooking with Campbell's Soup. Campbell's Soup can help stretch meat dishes. So many Campbell's Soups are ideal for cooking. Look for recipes on the labels. And try this delicious chicken and rice dish using Campbell's Tomato Soup. It's enough for a family of six.
Start living the Campbell Life. And save.
CHICKEN CREOLE
1 three-pound chicken, cut up
Salt and pepper
Paprika
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
2 green peppers, chopped
2 onions, chopped
1 can (10¾ ounces) Campbell's Tomato Soup
½ soup can water
1 cup diced cooked ham, sausage, or pork
¼ to ½ teaspoon red pepper flakes
½ teaspoon salt
Cooked rice
1. Wash and dry chicken; season chicken generously with salt, pepper, and paprika.
2. Cover; refrigerate until ready to use.
3. In large heavy pan, slowly brown chicken in bacon drippings (about 20 minutes); remove.
4. Add green pepper and onion; cook until onion is limp.
5. Return chicken to pan; add remaining ingredients except rice.
6. Cover; cook over low heat 35 minutes or until done. Stir occasionally.
7. Skim excess fat from sauce; thicken if desired.
Serve over rice, with Cranberry-Orange relish and hot biscuits. Makes 6 servings.
Give me the Campbell Life.

Woodlawn Highlights

. . . by Marjorie Green

"Him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out." John 6:37

All men without a single exception have this assurance of acceptance. I cannot claim to be a great Bible student or an authority on Christian education, but there is one thing that I am very certain of and that is "God is for real, man!!!"

Anyone who doubts this should just think of how nature itself tends to surround us with a strong awareness of His realism. We all know that the joy of living is often interrupted by occasional disappointments, but life with all of its experiences of sin, repentence and forgiveness, sorrows and joy can climax victoriously for the Christian who reaches the mountain top of spiritual opportunities.

"But by the grace of God I am what I am: and His grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain." I Corinthians 15:10

I refer to this because I do believe as one man so clearly stated that "Personality is not the product of one little lifetime. God has been at work for ages upon the personality of each of us through his great laws of heredity.

The result is in all this world there are no two persons exactly alike — never have been and never will be. Each of us are God's opportunity in our day.

If His will is being performed through us, then God is having His opportunity. If we refuse Him, then God loses the opportunity which he sought through us and he will never have another for there will never be another person on earth just like any of us."

So why then must there be differences among Christians? Missionary versus non-missionary. No one should ever be denied the right to perform anywhere within the framework of the church simply because man has designated areas in which only "ordain-certified missionaries" must work. Are we not all missionaries in a missionary baptist church? I tremble for those who promote this program of separation and rejection for I know that "God is for real, man!!!"

dancer with Anna Pavlova's company, the Chicago Civic Opera Ballet under Novikoff, La Nijinska and Colonel deBasil's ballet Russes, and the Markova-Dolin Ballet. She also had an emminent career as a teacher in London where she taught the Royal Ballet for some years, and where she had her own school attended by many internationally famous ballet stars.

She went to New York in 1956 at the invitation of Dame Alicia Markova to teach the Metropolitan Opera Ballet Company, and a year later went to Buffalo to found the Ballet Center out of which grew the Niagara Frontier Ballet, a company that rose to prominence with a highly successful European Tour featuring Rudolph Nureyev.

Miss Crofton was principal teacher at the San Francisco Ballet before becoming director of the Maryland Ballet at the beginning of the 1974-75 season.

The Maryland Ballet's program on Feb. 29, features three numbers:

"The Lottery" by Eleo Pomare, one of the foremost black chore graphers in New York. Based on the Shirley Jackson story, the ballet revolves around a strong American theme, and is very dramatic;

"Incoherence" by Fernand Nault. A very lively jazz ballet that cleebrates America's well known musical form;

"Soiree Musicale" by Anthony Tudor. A period piece set in the 19th century that captures the elegance of a musical evening in the homes of the wealthy.
