VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL at the Macedonia Baptist Church ended last week after an enjoyable two-week session. During this time, the youngsters learned Bible stories and verses, and various arts and crafts. Here, pretty Miss Terri Saunders, 9, is assisted in knitting a pocketbook by Mrs. Ella Norris. The Rev. William L. Clayton is pastor of the church, located 718 W. Lafayette Ave.

Wayland Baptist youth attend Florida confab

The chancel Ensemble, consisting of 36 youth of the Wayland Baptist church, recently attended the 14th Annual Session of the Progressive National Baptist Congress of Christian Education in West Palm Beach, Florida.

They joined with other young people from all over the country in study courses prepared for the highlight of their conference, National Youth Day.

During the morning session, the Rev. John A. Lunn, youth minister at Wayland and National Youth Director, spoke to group on the topic, "Why Black Youth Cannot Forget This Bicentennial."

He was introduced by Austin Walker and music was provided by the Chancel Ensemble, accompanied by Barrington Coleman, Chicago musician.

The Chancels and other members of the Congress Youth Choir climaxed the evening with a great Spiritual Jamboree. The church, filled to capacity, continued singing as they left the assembly.

In addition to the Rev. Mr. Lunn and Mr. Walker, other adults participating were the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Darneal F. Johnson, the Rev. Randolph Taylor, Deacon Simon Jarvis, Deacon and Mrs. Chester Broadnax, and Deaconess Marie Shaw, who also sang at the faculty banquet.

Also, Ms. Katherine Ruffin, Mrs. Florine Robinson, Mrs. Thelma Reynolds, Ronald Wells, William Wilson, and Herbert Lewis, who chauffered the Wayland delegation during its entire stay in Florida.

At the graduation exercises, four local youths received certificates for successful completion of courses. They were Ms. Kathy Smith, Ms. Vickie Williamson, Ms. Karen Campbell, and Ronald Wells.

Baltimore is the only city which can boast of having two national youth directors.

Miss Diane Jamison, who attends Union Baptist Church, is the National Youth Director for the National Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress which held its 71st Session in San Francisco during the same period.

Among the 12,000 persons attending that convention members of Wayland included Mrs. Joyce Evans, Sunday School superintendent and her husband James; departmental superintendents Mrs. Odessa Coates and Albert Cooper; Mrs. Edna Phillips, teacher; Scott Phillips and Mrs. Geraldine Wilson.

Purdue U. runs minority plan

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Every summer, since 1969, the pharmacy department of Purdue University has run a program for minority students who have been granted admission to the prepharmacy program of the Purdue School of Science.

* * *

This summer 27 minority students, mostly from Indiana have been enrolled in the program which is designed to bridge the gap between high school and college for minority prepharmacy students by giving them an early taste of the college campus environment and its competiveness while allowing college credit for the experience.
