Detectives reveal they received a call just before 7 a.m. to the 1700 block Eutaw Place address where a couple, residents in the apartment building, stated they observed the door to the vacant building ajar.

According to the witnesses they noticed what appeared to be blood on the floor of the living room leading to the bedroom. Upon entering the bedroom they observed the body of the white male on the floor.

The 1700 block of Eutaw Place is a predominantly black neighborhood. No white persons live in the area.

Police records show the body was lying on its back with the head facing east and the legs west. Further investigations revealed cigarette butts on the floor of the bedroom and the mattress on the bed was hanging halfway.

The couple who discovered the Bicentennial holiday body told investigators at about midnight of July 4 they heard what appeared to be knocking on the door of the vacant building but when the man went to investigate he saw nothing.

One neighborhood resident told police around 2 a.m. as he was watching the Bicenntennial program on TV, he heard loud voices as if some persons were having an argument but did not go out to investigate.

Homicide police state Miss Toliver was arrested at the police headquarters when she went there for a routine questioning. No date has been set for the trial.

—Did Amin help?

can Unity called Tuesday for a council meeting on "the wanton act of aggression" by Israel against Uganda. Twenty Ugandan soldiers, seven hijackers, three hostages and one Israeli soldier were reported slain in the raid.

"Israel will bring evidence of Idi Amin's complicity with the terrorists," a government official said. He said the evidence would include testimony from the freed hostages, who have accused Amin of jetting the hijackers bring in reinforcements, weapons and explosives.

Defending Israel against violating Ugandan sovereignty in freeing the hostages Saturday night, he said: "The principle of sovereignty was superseded by the exalted principle of man's freedom."

He said Israel "need not have any doubt" that the United States would veto any council resolution condemning the raid. He noted President Ford was the first Western leader to praise the rescue operation.

A spokesman for the Israeli Foreign Ministry said the nation's of the world should deal with hijackers "in the same fashion whereby the international community dealt with pirates of the seas piracy and the slave trade."

"And Israel's action at Entebbe is claiming its sence and character to the humanitarian rescue operations of yore," he said.

"Israel has proved that it is possible to act against terrorism," he said. "Terrorism is effective only if people are afraid to act and deterred from combatting it."

An Israeli military spokesman scoffed at a Radio Uganda report that "enemy aircraft" believed to be Israeli and American were approaching Uganda from Kenya.

"Radio Uganda is not noted for its accuracy," he said.

CRC hearing discrim case

The Community Relations Commission on Wednesday held a public hearing on charges of racial discrimination against the Pimlico Hotel.

The staff has found probable cause to believe that Article 4, the city's anti-discrimination law, has been violated.

The complainant, Ms. Kay Purvis, had called the Pimlico Hotel in response to a help wanted ad for the position of executive hostess. The ad specified that experience was "helpful but not necessary."

When she made an appointment for a personal interview, Ms. Purvis left her name and address. She alleges that later she called again to request a new appointment time, whereupon the personnel representative hesitated, said that the job was tentatively filled, and gave Ms. Purvis an indifferent, even rude, invitation to "come in anyway."

Now suspicious of possible discrimination, Ms. Purvis got several of her friends to also call about the job. They were told the job was still open. The job finally went eventually by a white applicant.

The public hearing began July 7 at 1:30 p.m. in the CRC offices at 210 North Calvert Street. Members of the commission serving on the hearing tribunal were Mrs. Mary Ellen Thomsen, chairwoman; the Rev. Paul Banet, and Leonard C. Butler.

A student of the Naval Junior ROTC program at Aiken High School for three years, Miss Mines was encouraged to apply to the formerly all-male school by Commander Ralph Scott, her instructor.

With aspirations of becoming a pilot, Miss Mines is interested in studying aeronautical engineering while at Annapolis. Though a quiet, soft-spoken young woman, she has proven herself a competent student, graduating with a 3.86 grade point average from Aiken's accelerated program.

The daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. William Mines, she has one brother and two sisters. Her father is pastor of the Rock Hill Baptist Church in Rock Hill, South Carolina.

Although her approximately five-foot, five-inch frame has considerably fewer muscles than those of her male classmates, Miss Mines was the other 80 women admitted to the Academy will undergo virtually the same program as the men.

Also as part of their training program, the plebes will have to rise at 6 a.m. five days a week for one hour of calisthenics. They will have Sundays off until 6 p.m., but one day a week, they will have a two-mile run in place of
