Columbia Capers

By Pinnie L. Ross

Columbians were waiting for it to happen! The Fashion conscious guests came out by the hundreds, to share in the benefit Red and White Dance, sponsored by the Columbia Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority last weekend at the Kittamogunda Room; The Rouse Building.

It was a "great" dance, commencing at 9 p.m. and ending at the early hour of 1 a.m. (much, much too soon).

The dance was the annual one which provides for an ongoing college scholarship. The recipient of the scholarship for the past few years has been Sydney Howard. Upon graduation from the University of Maryland next year, the Deltas will name another student.

Delta's colors of red and white were displayed on each table covered with red table cloths accenting the center with a live red and white carnation. The colors didn't stop on the tables, they were evident throughout the evening.

Intermission time was a special for this writer. I got a close look at the gorgeous fashions.

There were dazzling gowns, sharp jumpsuits and combinations some of which gave the occasion a kind of "it's your thing", informality and elegance.

Some who presented their own fashion statement were: charming Gail Clark, president of the chapter, and D. C. school teacher, who looked quite chic in her own creation in a white silk gown with silver threads cascading the material. The gown was designed in a semi-haulted style, perfect for the red and white ball.

Unmistakable, a dress that was born to dance was worn by past president, Ruth Feldon, a red and white dotted criss - crossed chiffon haulted gown, large red dots in front and white ones in the back. The tall, model - height charmer's dress had yards of chiffon in the skirt.

A beautiful way to dazzle at night was Ethel Hill, Sarah Turner, and Zoola Boone, these women were among others to present the white fashion story.

Ethel Hill selected an all white silk gown with silver peeping through the material. It was the fitted caftan look designed with the long handkerchief sleeves, the panel front had a deep wrap around skirt that flared as she walked.

Sarah-Turner was in a fragil white chiffon gown with an over handkerchief cape.

Zoola Boone, looked marvelous in a silver jumpsuit accented with a red scarf around her neck.

Madeline Woods selected a bright red jumpsuit.

Looking sharp as always was Gloria Massey in a T-strap red chiffon gown. It had layers of chiffon from her bare shoulders to the hemline of the gown.
