Rev. W. P. Mitchell honored at a banquet

By Rosina Wiggins

Members of Payne Memorial AME Church sponsored a salute to their pastor, Rev. W. P. Mitchell recently at the Holiday Inn.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell, a native of Askville, Florida has been a member of the Baltimore conference since 1940, serving nine years as pastor of Trinity AME and 27 years as pastor of Payne Memorial.

The program featured an array of interdenominational guests from the clergy and lay public. Rev. John R. Bryant, pastor of Bethel AME Church served as the master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Julia Callaway, the Payne Sunday School pianist, played the music for the affair. Soloists included Miss Margaret Lindasy of Enon Baptist, Mrs. Audrey Green New Psalmist Baptist, Rev. Howard L. Camper, pastor, Bethel AME in Cambridge, Md., and an original composition written and performed by Rev. N. E. Blackston, Pastor, Robinson AME, Gransonville, Md., entitled "A God Sent Man." The song was written to the tune of "Give Me a Star" and was written especially for the occasion, the title referring specifically to Rev. Mitchell.

Mrs. Jennie Butler of Community Presbyterian Church, Cherry Hill, delighted the audience with her monologues. Mrs. Butler's act brought many smiles and laughter. She is an artist in her own right.

Joseph C. McKinney, Treasurer of the A.M.E. Church, made a most unique contribution to the evening by composing an original poem recapping the highlights of the evening.

The family tribute was given by Mrs. Leenette M. Pennington, Rev. Mitchell's niece, also the interim superintendent of schools, Dade County, Miami, Florida. Mrs. Georgia P. Mitchell, wife on the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, praised their 52 years of marriage, offering a hint for marital success: keeping differences between the marital partners.

Rev. James Hodges, an associate minister of Payne, rendered a touching testimony of the "father-son" relationship between himself and the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, while Mrs. Vohrees Jamison of Howard University offered her tribute depicting the Rev. Mr. Mitchell as being responsible for her finding her spiritual identity.

Mrs. Dorothy E. Swann,
