R.S.V.P. With Marie

By Marie Phillips-Cooke
Reflections Editor

Here's a poem I love to recite, especially the first stanza:

Tell Him So

If you hear a kind word spoken
Of some worthy soul you know,
It may fill his heart with sunshine
If you only tell him so!

In my travels — I can almost say, in my daily travels — I hear kind words spoken of my sister colleagues, Mary Clayburn, public affairs director at WWIN Radio.

We, who work in the media are often guilty of overlooking or just plain taking for granted the good things our co-workers do in the field—and in the community, too.

It was just a week or so ago that Sister Mary conceded to get out of sick bed, (where she had been confined since New Year's Day with the flu and to serve as my first guest on my very own radio program, "Queen's Gambit. Mary's just that kind of person — always willing to help in whatever capacity she can. That's why folk love her!

"Queen's Gambit," is an hour-long black woman's talk show broadcast daily over WEAA FM 88.9 in stereo from the campus of Morgan State University. It made its debut this week (Monday afternoon). You'll be reading more about WEAA on the Reflections pages in the coming editions.

But in the meantime, you can hear the Mary Clayburn interview on Monday, Jan. 17 from 10 to 11 a.m. On the following Monday, hear Willia Bland and Pinnie L. Ross talk about black women who're in the business of making women.

I'd like to know from you, my readers and friends, what you think about the show that will be broadcast every Monday morning from 10 to 11 a.m . . . PLEASE!

Speaking of women, Sister Erma Perry, chairperson of the Maryland Special Inaugural Committee, told this writer a few days back that there are still about 200 tickets available for the Presidential Inaugural Reception for Jan. 20, 8:30 p.m.-midnight at the Cannon Building, Caucus Room, Washington, D.C.

Our good friend, Mary Carter Smith will head the program of "super stars" who include: the Marvelettes, Bill Cummins Combo, Edna Isaacs Gaspar of the world-famous Green sisters; Ruby Glover, Judy Beasley, Orville Johnson and the Baltimore Dance Theatre. In addition, Pomoja Experience will make a guest appearance . . . they're terrific!

There's still time to make your reservation. Call Sister Perry at 462-1918. Proceeds from the event will be donated to the Joint Center for Political Studies, Washington, D.C. Arrangements for the entertainment buffet are being made by L & H Associates, Louise Johnson and Helen Staford.

Don't Fret Over Wardrobe

Wondering what you're gonna wear to the Inaugural Ball — which designer's original costume will cause all eyes to be on you — the night of the 20th? Don't fret!

This writer got word today, Thursday, that the new President's wife, Rosalynn is wearing the SAME GOWN she wore six years ago when hubby became Governor of Georgia. It's a blue chiffon gown, "lucky dress," that will be worn under her NEW floor length pale blue double-faced wool-hooded cape, created by designer Dominic Rompolo!

50 years for Echoles

Surrounded by family and friends, the David A. Echoles (Evelyn) recently rededicated 50 years of marriage. The ceremony took place at Douglas Memorial Community Church where the couple are longtime members. The Rev. Marion C. Bascom presided.

Carrying out the color scheme of the holiday season, Mrs. Echols was radiant in a red and gold floor length gown with orchid corsage. Mr. Echols was attired in a gold dinner jacket. The couple was attended by their daughter, Mrs. Raphael Cole (Linda) of Fayettown, Penn. and their son, David A. Echols Jr., Baltimore.

Immediately after reaffirming the vows, the couple, their children, and grandchildren greeted the 200 guests during a dinner-reception, catered by Lillian Bennett, of the Bennet Catering Service in the church hall.

Honorees and guests were entertained by J. Spencer Hammond at the piano and Howard Wright, soloist.

A special rendition on the violin was followed by the singing of "Oh, Promise Me" was offered by the couple's only granddaughter, Crystal Coel.

Other highlights of the event were special lyrics to "My Way" dedicated to their parents and a gift cake in the shape of an open Bible made by Mrs. Reva Lewis of Philadelphia, Penn.

Seated at table guests included: Mrs. Raphael Coel, daughter; David A. Echols Jr., son; Darryl and Duane Echols, grandsons of Las Vegas, Nevada; Crystal Rae Coel, granddaughter; Raphael Coel, son-in-law; Sidney Echols, brother of honoree, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Ellen Echols, sister-in-law; Mrs. Mary Bogge, cousin, and James Bogge, cousin of Detroit, Mich.

Hostesses were: Crystal Coel and Mazie Odelle Rea and Mrs. Idella Nichols and Mrs. Ellen Dutton.

Out-of-town guests included from Washington, D.C.: Mr. and Mrs. Maceo Howard, Frank Montgomery, Levin Allen, Ralph Curtis, Mrs. Len Hargraves, Juanita Hamley, Hilda Paul, Lydia Brown, Frances Banks, Elemeda Banks, Tina Carter, Evelyn Holt, Zelma Newman, Catherine Preslow, Fannie Arrington, Mabel Mayo, Georgia Anderson, Carrie Bester, and Louise Cooper.

Philadelphia, Pa.: Mrs. Ruby Hill, E. Knight, Emma Major, Mattie Gibson, Rose Galloway, and Sidney Echols;

Also: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Densons, Shandoken, N.Y.; Darryl and Duane Echols, Las Vegas, Nev.; Mr. and Mrs. James Harris, Rochester, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hardesty, Annapolis, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Payne, Seat Pleasant, Md.; Mrs. Madeline Margan and Solomon Hansborough, Silver Spring, Md.;

Mrs. Mary Lou Lollis, New York; Mrs. Amelia Rogers, Columbia, Md; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McMurray, Upper Marlboro, Md.; Mrs. Quincy Waters and Miss Ethel Waters, Yeadon, Penn.

Jacksons' Gathering

The Algernon Jacksons (Al and Carrie) hosted relatives and friends during the past holiday season, including those who had been so kind during her spring illness.

As usual, delectable food was served presenting a new dish, Noodle Shrimp Casserole, specialty of the hostess.

Sip and Sup meant just that — with the inclusion of spirited games. For the men — winners were Henry Hall, Milton Allen, John de Castilio and Ernest Jackson.

For women — in a spirited impromptu talk contest had as visitors Frances Vessels, Allegra Taylor, Margaret Deleaver and Napoleon Dobson.

Joneses Open Home

Mr. and Mrs. Willie T. (Gloria) Jones entertained at their Crawford Avenue home with an open house that climaxed the season.

Their home was tastefully decorated to depict the occasion. Beautiful, elegantly attired guests warmed their hearts by a brightly burning fireplace in an atmosphere of glowing, flickering candlelight, sipping, hot, spicy holiday punch-a welcome treat after a cold wintry day.

Tables of delectable cheeses, food and beverages were served in the living-dining areas and the recreation room.

Mrs. Jones was chic in a fashionable beige and Brown at home pantsuit while Mr. Jones was handsome in a tan leisure suit.

About were: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown, Roland Currys, Mrs. Sallie Bulger, John Henson, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Sampson Green, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shanwell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Branch.

Nathaniel Williams, Herbert Stithe, Mrs. Mary Rogers, Eugene Redden, Mr. and Mrs. Elliht Norris, Scott Heckstalls, Mrs. Dorothy Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Holice Baynes, Tony Gaines, George Martins, Freddy Hicks, James Hanks, Mrs. Fannie Howard, William Martin.

Mrs. Trannie Murdock, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Brown, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. C. Andre Kearns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, James Douglasses, Travis Vauls, Hugh Ferguson, Maurice Harrison, Walter Heaggans, Dr. and Mrs. Lionel Desbordes, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Virginia Boyd, Charles Duggins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mays, Allen Burkins, George Browns, Henry Carrs, Mrs. Zelma Brown, Mrs. Marjorie Livingston.

"Thank God for my family and friends. I could not have done without the support of my dear family."

Most actresses are very hungry for the kind of success which only a few achieve such as, super stars Dina Ross and Cecily Tyson.

The big break and the recognition of a new personality whose projection on the stage, hopefully will cause audiences to throw out dollars to come see her again.

Believe it or not a plant bearing tomatoes is growing in the third floor operations building office of Mary Sepeta, supervisor in the Bureau of Data Processing.

The plant was given to Ms. Sepeta by old-time Frank Jones who states that he enjoys planting cabbage, peppers and tomatoes each year in his West Baltimore backyard. The indoor plant has produced tomatoes twice since May 1976. According to Frank tomatoes normally appear during July or August.

The Maryland Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration will hold a breakfast discussion meeting at the Woodlawn Social Security building on Thursday, Jan. 27.

Dr. Arthur S. Fleming, chairman, U.S. Commission on Civil Rights will be the featured speaker.

Dr. Fleming, a former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare will discuss "Management Confronts the Nations Civil Rights Objectives" The program will begin at 7:30

Jean Williams is back in her home state, Maryland, appearing on stage at the Garland Dinner Theatre in Columbia.

She is playing the part of Janet in "Boeing, Boeing." The play opened Wednesday night and will run through Feb. 13.

Miss Williams is a graduate of Edmondson High School. She received her BA degree from Howard University, Washington, D.C. After graduation, she worked as a medical secretary.

In 1970 she moved to New York where the "happenings" are in the arts. After a time in New York, she participated in her first theatrical workshop. There she was discovered by a female promoter who wished to manage her for commercials. She made several.

Reminiscing about her high school days brought thoughts of her first three lines in a production in which she was the only black performer. I asked what made her decide to go into drama.

"It always excited me to see people get a lot of attention. I felt that of those people that I saw perform. When I became a senior in high school, I realized that was what I really wanted to do."

After her first part in her high school play, "It became more than just wanting attention, it became something else."

This bright-eyed beauty has done a lot of work shops in New York for the experience and the exposure. With a big smile, she said, "My parents would be there each time to support me. Thank God for my family and friends I could not have done without their support."

As the days, weeks and months passed by, she would continue her auditions, sometimes among 200-300 actresses trying out for one part in a production. Usually they have three or four cuts, and if you are left in the last cut, "It's a blessing in the sky."

"There were times when I would ask myself whether or not I was in the right field. Sometimes I wanted to give up, but I got the reinforcement to continue. I had an inner feeling that I was doing the right thing, and just stuck it out."

Keep the faith and don't forget to pray and things will eventually come your way.

Two years ago Miss Williams auditioned for a part in the Garland's production and didn't make it. The telephone rang a few weeks ago, and it was Mr. McKarlin, promoter for the Garland production. "It just came through said the actress. And now my parents and friends can get a chance to see what I was striving for."

Miss Williams calls herself an actress who sings. She is not just characterized as "just an actress," she is a versatile young woman who is sampling with the intention of mastering as many facets of entertainment as she can. She is currently working in a night club act which she will finish upon her return to New York.

The young actress-singer has had exposure in many areas in the theatre, including Broadway.

"I am very happy that black children don't have to necessarily become teachers." She felt that if a child had artistic ability, its parents should encourage him to go into the arts.

The vivacious actress hopes that she has paved the way for other black children.

She often thinks of the days when she worked at her family's Enon Baptist Church in Baltimore.

"I used to sing on the choir and was a member of several organizations. She continued,

"My parents who are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams are great church workers; my father sings on the choir.

She is a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. She was sponsored in the Girlfriends cotillion by the Cardinals Inc. of which her mother is a member.

Mrs. Williams, her mother, is a beautician in Pikesville. Mr. Williams is employed at Preston Trucking Co. She has one sister, Alfreda, who is employed in the executive office at Sears Co.

Continue to send get well or thinking of you cards to the known sick and the shut-ins in your community. I am still trying to get together a birthday list. Kindly send me a list of the known birthdays among your friends and neighbors, especially the elderly, sick and shut-ins. They would like to receive a card from you or be remembered on their natal day.

Sympathy cards to Rosita Uncles (widow of Norman Uncles) whose son Norman W. Uncles Jr. died during the past week. Wayne, as he was known by his friends, had been ill for some time. His sister is Sandra Uncles Jordan. He is also survived by three daughters, Lisa, Sherrie and Dawn Uncles. (Rosita and I have known each other since third grade at School No. 112.) She is a hard working Delta gal and her late husband, Norman, was a leader in the Kappas, Baltimore Chapter.

Funeral services were held from Madison Ave. Presbyterian Church during the past week.

On Christmas Day, Mr. and Mrs. Livious Coe Sr. joined and celebrated with their family at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Edward and Audrey Coe at their home on Old Frederick Road.

An elaborate dinner was part of the gathering. They received, with warm welcome the homecoming of their oldest grandson from Los Angeles, Calif., John Crooms Jr., an insurance executive.

Toand gifts were exchanged. Two daughters, Rita Crooms and Annie Mae Wooten and an others sons, Theodore and Livious Jr. were present, along with their many grandchildren, in-laws and cousins. A merry and loving day was shared and enjoyed at this home, and with God's blessings. May the spirit continue now that the season has gone.

Please call or write to me about your family whether it be here in Catonsville or in the city. You are not bragging but you are making history because we have to be proud of our heritage and there is so much that you have to offer to this column.

On the Tuesday following Christmas, "The Group" entertained at the home of Sherman and Ruby Polley in Columbia. A bountiful buffet was served, and the remainder of the evening was spent with songs, games and dancing. Each guest received a souvenir of pink champagne glasses.

Karen Polley entertained a group of friends last Saturday before returning to her classes at University of Maryland (College Park) where she is doing "great" things. More about her later.

Please, let me know what our young people are doing. We are so willing to talk about the bad, as far as the younger generation is concerned, but we forget that a lot of good is being done also. Let me know about the young person in your family or in your community who is doing well.

Send expressions of thoughtfulness to your neighbors. Geraldine Lena Mae Smith who had a fire in their home during the past week.

"Thinking of you" cards to Nellie Matthews Wright (Lump) who recently slipped on the ice and broke some bones. She is now on crutches and will be confined for awhile.

Del. Timothy Hickman visited the Golden Age Group during their recent Christmas dinner which was held at the Banneker Recreation Center. Rev. and Mrs. Gentry McDonald were among the guests.

"I Had The Meanest Mother In The Whole World" (Continued from last week)

"My mother insisted on knowing where we were at all times. You'd think we were on a chain gang. She had to know who our friends were — and what we were doing. She insisted that if we said we'd be gone for an hour that we would be gone for one hour or less.

She was real mean. I was ashamed to admit it, but she actually had the nerve to break the child labor laws. She made us work! "We had to wash the dishes, make all the beds, learn to cook and all sorts of cruel things. I believe that she lay awake nights thinking up mean things for us to do." (To be continued)
