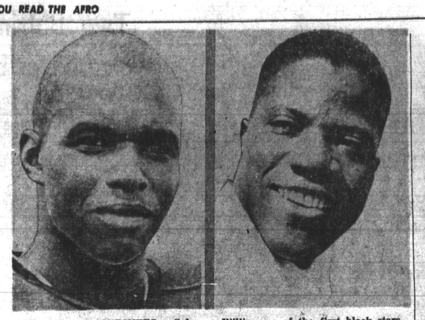
New race schedule set at Charles Town

CHARLES TOWN W. VA., — Charles Town will be changing the number of races to be conducted nightly when it opens the 1977 racing season on Friday, January 28.

Nine races will be conducted Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights with 10 Face cards listed on Friday and 13 races on Saturday evenings. There will be no racing on Mondays in the first meeting of the year, which runs through March 31.

Previously Charles Town offered 10 races on weeknights and 13 on the Saturday programs.

Post time through the week will be 7:15 with Saturday night action getting underway at 6:15.



CANTON ENSHRINEES — Gale Sayers (left) Bill Willis are among five former stars scheduled for induction in the Pro Football Hall of Fame next July. Sayers was a running back sensation with the Chicago Bears in the sixties, and Willis, one of the first black stars in modern football, set the pattern for today's "nose guards" of the NFL while a two-way lineman for the champion Cleveland Browns of the fifties.

2 Olympians win in debut

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Leon Spinks scored a technical knockout over Bob Smith and Howard Davis Jr. outlasted Jose Resto during the weekend as the two Montreal Olympics gold medalists won their first professional bouts.

Spinks, 196, was merciless as he pounded Smith all over the ring en route to a TKO victory in the fifth round of a scheduled six - rounder Saturday.

Davis fought an uneventful match, another six - rounder, in which he was awarded the victory by unanimous decision. All three judges scored him a 30-24 winner.

Davis earned $17,000 and Spinks $10,000 in their first professional outings.

In a 10-round California heavyweight title fight, Howard Smith retained the title in a unanimous verdict over Henry Clark .

Baltimorean sets Springfield pace

Former Baltimore schoolboy star David Pugh is the pace-setter for the Springfield College five as the basketball season reaches midpoint.

Pugh, a 6-5 junior who played at Northwestern High is averaging 18.1 points and 11.1 rebounds per game. He has been twice named ECAC Division II player of the week and last week was selected to the conference team of the week.

He is shooting just under 50 per cent from the field and .724 from the foul line.

GLAD HE'S GOING — Traded at his own request, by the Orioles to the New York Yankees for Elliott Maddox, Paul Blair said Thursday night he is glad and sad at the same time. The AL's finest defensive centerfielder declared he knew he would not be playing much with the Birds but will get to play with Yanks because they can afford his minus-300 bat in a power-packed lineup that is loaded with lefthanded strength. The only regret, said Paul is leaving friends and fans in Baltimore.

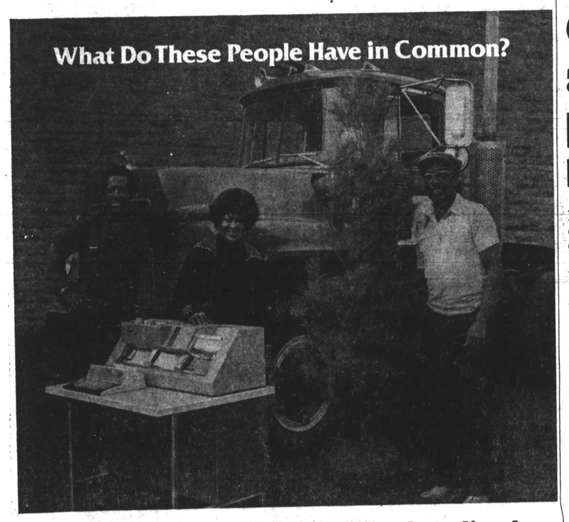
What Do These People Have in Common?



They Are All Procter & Gamble Suppliers!

These business owners are among the growing family of minority suppliers who help provide Procter & Gamble's plants, laboratories and offices with many of the vital goods and services they require each year.

To encourage this trend, the company's Buying Department locates and works with minority businesses able to supply our needs for quality materials and services. Today, dozens of minority-owned companies, from coast to coast, have joined our supplier family . . . and the list keeps growing.

By being able to compete successfully in today's marketplace, these businesses grow and prosper. New jobs are created and more dollars flow into minority communities throughout the country.

That's why P&G believes that supporting minority-owned businesses makes good business sense.

Get this official Carter inaugural book at a special discount price available only to newspaper readers

Here's a rare opportunity to own this commemorative record of an historic occasion.

This fascinating, full-color, lavishly illustrated, large format (8¼ x 10⅞ inches) Bantam book will be the authoritative record of the inauguration of President Jimmy Carter and Vice President Walter F. Mondale.

It will present in text and color photos the solemnity and pageantry as well as the lighter aspects of the inaugural proceedings.

The 128-page, soft-cover book is the only publication authorized by the Presidential Inauguration Committee. Among its features:

- A laminated cover bearing Carter's official inaugural photograph.
- The complete text of Carter's inaugural address.
- Exclusive picture essay in full color of Inauguration Week.
- Original articles by six prominent writers, including political scientist James David Barber and Alex Haley, author of the best-selling Roots.
- A historical essay on the office of the presidency.
- Perceptive and illuminating biographies of the new President and Vice President.
- A light-hearted anecdotal article on how inaugurations grew.
- A thought-provoking look at the land of Carter's roots.

Also, illustrations of past inaugurals and candid photos from the Carter family album. Plus, a two-page map of the parade route, including Washington landmarks.
