R.S.V.P. With Marie

By Marie Phillips-Cooke
Reflections Editor

Dear Loved Ones:

Due to a shortage of space in the Reflections section this week, R.S.V.P. does not appear. It will, however, return next week — filled with reports on the town's happenings.

Watch for it!

Lovingly,
MARIE

Center was established in October of 1976 at 1300 Division St.

Services offered to the community by these centers include: individual and group counseling sessions; fee waivers for college admission applications, SAT and ACT tests; private scholarships and other types of financial aid; career education information; veterans General Education Diplomas (GED); veterans counseling; and other information in reference to college opportunities, trade schools, and other post-secondary opportunities.

Mrs. Howard, adds that "working with Direct Search for Talent for over eight years has been a challenge. This is an opportunity for the student to engage in free discussion, to closely examine his self-image, and to become realistic about his future plans with professional counselors who understand them and their problems.

"It is our hope that participants will bring experiences to the program, as well as gain experiences from the program." She sincerely believes that this kind of program should start early, perhaps as early as elementary school, with a follow-through to graduate school.

Continuously volunteering their services to DST are members of the Delta Sigma Theta Baltimore Chapter. Miss Aloha McCollough is president of the local Delta Chapter. Thelma T. Daley of Baltimore is national president of Delta.

Working closely with Mrs. Howard and the program are the Policy Board, the Advisory Board, and the Student Advisory Board. Bernita Fuller is the chairperson for the Policy Board, and Celonia Walden is the vice chairperson, Dr. Beryl Williams is chairperson of the DST Advisory Board, and other Advisory Board officers are Ruby Gills, vice chairperson, Dorothe Johnson, secretary, and Dr. William Wockenfuss, treasurer.

DST has also established cooperative efforts with Urban Services Agency community centers and agencies. Administrators for the funding agencies are Lenwood Ivey, executive director, and Mrs. Elva Edwards, associate director, of the Urban Services Agency; M's Velma Monteiro, chief of Student Special Services Programs for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Members of the DST staff are: Warren Thompson Jr., assistant director; Jasmin Duckett, executive secretary; James Greene, fiscal officer; JoAnna Balzano, Sandra Baxter, Lynn Curley, Deborah Gross, Lois Holman, Clarice Mitchell, and Joseph Velez, counselors; Diane Murray, stenographer, Ruby Moore and Carolyn Smith, clerk-typists-Counselor Aides.

All persons needing the Direct Search for Talent services should visit the DST Central Office at 2227 Saint Paul Street, or telephone 243-3009, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Anyone desiring additional information on College-Career Day should contact JoAnna Balzano, Deborah Gross, or Ms. Sandra Baxter.

something "exciting" for fall '77. Yearly dues were paid for Woman Power and also the committee for Cultural Progress.

Present were Mrs. Adams, Hester B. Greenway, Pearl Bonner, Edna Weldon, Myrtle Thompson and Susie Moore.

Clarkites and Friends

The Baltimore Clarkites and Friends will gather on tomorrow, Saturday from 6 to 10:30 p.m. for refreshments, conversation and fun at the Baltimore Hilton Hotel. They are calling their affair a "Spring Roundup."

Child Study Association

Reservations are now being taken for the annual luncheon meeting of the Child Study Association of Maryland, Inc. The luncheon which has as its theme "Children the Seeds, Parents the Roots" will be held on May 5, 1977, at 11 a.m. at Blue Crest North. The guest speaker, D. Louise Bates Ames, co-director of the Gesell Institute and co-author of "Youth-The Years From Ten to Sixteen," the Gesell Party Book," "Child Behavior," "School Readiness," will answer the question "Are Parents Changing"? Proceeding the luncheon will be a plant and craft bazaar.

For more information contact the Child Study office at 6623 Reisterstown Road, Baltimore, Md. 21215 or call 358-3555 for luncheon reservations or information about becoming a member.

Send your organization's press releases to: Local Club Notes, c-o AFRO-AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS, P.O. Box 1857, Baltimore, Md. 21203. Sorry, pictures cannot be returned.

By Pinnie L. Ross

In the mail bag recently came a note from Susan Cornick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delroy (Helen) Cornick. Mrs. Cornick is a D.C. school teacher. The note read:

"Dear Mrs. Ross,

"I would just like to thank you for sharing a part of your knowledge, your charm and poise with me.

"I would like to thank you for giving me something that only I can master and make better.

"I would like to thank you for the pleasure of the great experience I had working with you and learning from you. I admire you for who you are and for who you helped me to be."

Letters such as that one bring tears to my eyes, especially when it comes from a teenager.

Susan was one of the graduates of my charm studio last month and a very charming young lady. She will be participating in an upcoming show at Wilde Lake High School.

"Charm enhances the new you," new face, new figure and a total new personality, that's our slogan. We expect Susan and many other graduates to exemplify those standards for feminine poise which we try so hard to encourage.

Speaking of fashion shows, Modes Royale celebrated their 25th luncheon and spring fashion and hat show recently at the Sheraton Inn.

Clothes were provided from the 3902 Elgin Avenue shop. Lovely Ann Drayton is owner of the millinery shop. She is known to many as a Christian woman, one who is eager to render service wherever she can.

There were over 60 original hats shown in the show. Just a bend of the brim on a flip back off the face, shape any way, or wear it just as, and you had an original hat by Ann Drayton. The clusters, turbans and those sassy wide brims were just too much.

Wearing them with confidence were Darlene Bright, Ruth Miles, Fredericka Matthews and Marti Franklin, Columbia, also Pauline Jenkins.

Narrator for the show was Baltimore's socially graceful lady, Helen Mae Chamberlin.

The Women's Day Committee of St. John Baptist Church will present The St. John Baptist Choir in a concert entitled "Roots And Branches," May 5, at 8 p.m., at the Wilde Lake Interfaith Center, Columbia.

"Roots and Branches of Afro-American Scared Music" is a concert script based on characteristics of African and church music of black Americans.

The 90-minute program features the hymns and spirituals of the 18th and 19th centuries as well as readings from African and Afro-American slave narratives, Afro-American poetry and American autobiographies.

Leroy Giles, an English professor at Catonsville Community College, is the writer and director of "Roots and Branches."

"The concert is both educationally sound and emotionally stimulating," says Giles.

He further notes that the value of the concert is the value of the talent and the involvement of the audience.

The public is invited to attend — A free-will offering will be accepted.

For further information contact: Hazel Rayford, activity chairperson, 597-5036 or Sadie Woolford, Women's Day chairperson, 730-1839.

Woodlawn Highlights

. . . by Marjorie Green

Monday afternoon was too beautiful to spend the break period inside the West High Rise Building, so I drifted outside to enjoy the fresh spring breeze and exchange greetings with SSA' ers en route to the various Social Security buildings in the Woodlawn area.

It was during this short break that I met and talked with Upward Mobility student, Rosalyn Collins. Rosalyn has been in the program since 1974. She will have reached part of her goal when she graduates from the Community College of Baltimore in June. She is preparing herself for a career as a Social Insurance Claims Examiner.

Rosalyn started her federal career as a file clerk in the Faca Pratt building six years ago, and is currently working in the Bureau of Disability Insurance.

Rosalyn, along with John Fullard, another SSA employee, is a member of the John Fullard Gospel Singers. It was easy to see that singing plays an important part in her life, because she also sings with the choir at the Faith Tabernacle Full Gospel Church where Brother R. G. Hardy is pastor.

The choir has recorded two albums: "God Took Away My Yesterday," and "It's A Long, Long Road."

A 1967 graduate of Edmondson High School, she is married to Eugene Collins, Jr. They are the parents of three children; Darryl, age six; Dana, age three, and Michael, who is almost two.

Two of our best-known old-timers will be feted at retirement luncheons in the near future.

Mrs. Ethel Walker will be honored at the Westview Lounge on Friday, April 29. Reservations can be made by contacting Atlanta Scott or Cora Shannon.

Notices announcing Mrs. Ernestene Smith's exit, state that she is "Flying Out." A luncheon given in her honor is scheduled for June 10, at in the Altmeyer building Multi-purpose Room.

Contact persons for the Smith retirement luncheon are: Shirley Macklin, East Low Rise Building; Marguerite White, Operations Building; and Louise Jackson, Dickinson Building.

On April 25-28, the Federal Woman's Program will hold noon discussion sessions on the "Hispanic Woman," and the "Asian Woman." Discussions on the "Black Woman" and "Indian Woman" were recently held in the Baltimore Headquarters building.

Our girl, Jean Griffin and members of the Strip Alumni have announced that their April 23 buffet dance is a complete sellout.

SSA's Eddie Gough and his Quintet will furnish the music for dancing.

Committee members are: Theodore Dilsworth, Walter Slowe, Charles Finney, George Tayler, Sylvia Stafford, Evelyn Amerson, Louise Warren, and Shirley Branch. Frank Covert is president of the group.

We are happy to announce that Mrs. Helen Tucker, first vice president of AFGE LOCAL 1923, has checked out of the Good Samaritan Hospital where she recently underwent a series of tests.

It's nice to have friends who care. I received a note in the mail this week from my good friend, Mrs. Elnora White. She advised me to "slow down" and "take a rest." I just might have to do just that one day, but until that day, I think I'll just "Keep On, Keeping On." God will take care!—

Sympathy cards also to the family of Mrs. Prue Manning Wilkinson whose funeral services were held during the week in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Manning is survived by a daughter, Muriel "Sooky" Callaman (Melvin) of Baltimore; a son, John Wilkinson, IV and daughter, Prue Lyles of Washington, D.C.; eight grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and a brother, John Manning of Baltimore.

Sympathy cards also to the family of Bernice Turner (David), the retired principal of Monroe School No. 46, whose funeral services were held last week at St. James Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Turner was the granddaughter of the late Rev. Norris, one of the leaders of the AME Church. She is also survived by her son, David, Jr., and sister Neonta Corbin (Jack).

Continue to send thinking of you cards to the sick and shut-in and to the elderly.

Cards also to Helen Jones Gibson (Skippy) who is ailing.

YMCA trip to W. Africa

The YMCA of the Greater Baltimore area, in conjunction with the Middle Atlantic Region YMCA Youth Travel Program, will sponsor a trip to West Africa this summer.

The program is open to primarily high school youth although college students will be considered.

The trip will include 32 days' stay in West Africa at a cost of approximately $1,200, subject to change in airfare. The cost will cover roundtrip transportation from New York to Ghana and neighboring countries, accommodations, meals, comprehensive sightseeing and program activities.

This will be a first-hand educational, cultural and fun-filled adventure for all.

Registration with a $25 deposit will be accepted on a first come, first served, basis through April 30, 1977.

For further information, write Yvonne J. Butler, executive director, North Baltimore Branch YMCA, 3501 The Alameda, Baltimore, Md. 21218 or call (301) 467-2954.

will be graduated magna cum laude this Sunday from the University of Pittsburgh.

Karen has been accepted at the University of Maryland Medical School where she will enter in the fall.

The annual Women's Day will be held at Grace AME Church on Sunday, April 24. The 11 a.m. service will have Mrs. Gertrude James of First Baptist Church of Baltimore as the speaker. The Rev. Earline Houston, the associate pastor of the church, will be the 4 p.m. speaker. The Rev. Reginald Boston is the pastor.

Coming events in our Catonsville community: A chicken and ham supper, April 23, 1 to 6 p.m. at Dunbar Ave. The sponsor is Mrs. C. Harris of Morning Star Baptist Church.

Saturday, April 23, the Crusade Group from New Jersey is being sponsored by Mrs. Eva Brooks.

Congratulations to the Crescent Lodge No. 355 on their 52nd anniversary and to the Emma Williams Temple No. 358 on their 52nd anniversary. The two groups will have "Open House" for all of the visiting lodges from throughout the state of Maryland and for other social clubs which have supported their efforts.

The celebration will begin on Sunday, April 24 and will continue through April 30.

Thinking of you cards to Dr. Houston R. Jackson, the former assistant superintendent of the Baltimore City Schools. Many of us oldtimers remember Mr. Jackson as he was called then, who taught us civics at Booker T. Washington Junior High School No 130.

Send cards to his faithful sister in law our own Miss Hermoine Wharton and Mrs. Emily Johnson Wharton (the widow of the late Dr. Heber Wharton . I am sure that these people have meant so much to many of us during our lives.

Cook and Save with Campbell's Soups
Save this week with fish
There are at least two reasons to buy fish these days. There are some very good fish buys in the market, among them catfish, codfish, grouper or frozen fish fillets. And fish is an excellent source of protein, while being lower in calories, fat and cholesterol than meat.
A good way to stretch a fish meal is to cook fish dishes with Campbell's Soup. Try this delicious spicy fish stew made with Campbell's Tomato Soup. It will feed a family of six and leave 'em happy, too!
So many Campbell's Soups are ideal for cooking. And many soups have recipes right on the labels. Try this fish stew and see what Campbell's Tomato Soup can do for you.
FISH STEW
2 pounds fish (grouper or catfish), skinned and cleaned
Salt and pepper
Cayenne pepper
6 potatoes, peeled and cubed
1 onion, chopped
3 stalks celery, chopped
4 tablespoons bacon drippings
2 cans (10½ ounces each) Campbell's Tomato Soup
2 soup cans water
1 large bay leaf
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 can (16 ounces) cut green beans, drained
1. Cut fish into large pieces.
2. Sprinkle fish with salt, pepper, and cayenne. Cover. Let stand 30 minutes while preparing rest of recipe.
3. In large heavy pan, brown potatoes and cook onion and celery in drippings until onion is limp.
4. Stir in soup, water, bay, and Worcestershire.
5. Cook over low heat 25 minutes or until potatoes are done.
6. Stir in beans; lay fish on top.
7. Cover; cook 30 minutes more or until fish is done. Occasionally lift pan from heat and gently shake. Serve with hot corn bread and assorted relishes. Makes 6 servings.
Campbell's makes your cooking M'm! M'm! Good!
