Enon Baptist Open Door offers religious entertainment

In the past, churches have turned some people off, and have turned others away, especially young adults, simply because some churches have not devised, revised planned or implemented programs to meet the spiritual needs of youth.

Enon Baptist Church, Edmondson Ave and Schroeder St. continues to move in a positive direction to meet this challenge.

Recognizing the church as one of the oldest institutions of learning, Enon Baptist continues to, also, realize that its officers and members have an obligation and a responsibility to meet the spiritual, educational and social needs of young people. Therefore, members of Enon's Board of Christian Education work faithfully, diligently, and willingly in planning, designing and implementing programs that will "reach out" to people in order to help them meet their many needs.

Some new and some continued programs developed by the Board of Christian Education and various committees of the church include the Enon Institute, family night, a musical concert, featuring the Brown University Black Chorus, Martin Luther King Memorial Fair, the church newspaper entitled, "The Spirit of Enon", and the Citizens Advocate Program.

A very special program, in action, is the Gospel Coffee House, namely the Open Door. Some youth have been made to go to church without direction and with no purpose in mind. Other young adults have never been inside of a church. Therefore, Enon has initiated the Gospel Coffee House, an open door policy, which is one of the newest concepts in ministry, aimed to attract person that have been turned off by the church, persons who are not related to the church and those persons who do not see church as being relevant to their lives.

Because it is the mission of the church to confirm and deepen the faith of those who belong to church and to influence others who do not hold membership in the church in ways that will make them want to be a part of the church, and because it is also the mission of the church to seek and involve in its life those who are not a part of the fellowship including those who live within the immediate neighborhood of the church and those who live hundreds and thousands of miles away, this is a serious program in the Enon Baptist Church, which in a very personal way seeks to touch the lives of the unchurched.

The Enon Open Door offers a comfortable, relaxed, informal atmosphere, where people can be at peace with themselves and at ease with others. Projecting a theater in the round, one Friday night in each month, visitors will find the Arthur J. Payne Christian Center All Purpose Room attractively decorated, in a color scheme of red and white.

For perky conversation and getting to know one another, the setting includes tables covered with red and white cloths and lighted lo-boy lamps, on each table, and menus for ordering food such as chicken wings, hamburgers, hot dogs, and sodas

To emphasize the purpose and the concept the Enon Open Door symbol consists of a door, a key, and an eternal light; decorated doors are situated throughout the cozy room and the words love, faith, hope, joy, peace, and fellowship are suspended from the ceiling.

For formal entertainment, a movable stage in two parts is found in the center of the room for Gospel singing groups, poets, and actors, etc., to present their Gospel message for spiritual direction.

* * *

A very important aspect of the program is the training of the Open Door workers through a devotional program of spiritual discipline that will make them more effective communicators of the Gospel. Open Door workers are personable, warm and friendly. They are Christian men and women who are willing to engage in meaningful conversation with those who come to the Open Door, willing to listen to personal problems and concerns that individuals may wish to express, and willing and prepared to offer counseling when the situation calls for it.

One of the special features of the Open Door is entertainment for participants, such as the Johnny Lake Religious Ensemble and Dwight Jackson, soloist, but more important it is the wish and the hope of the Open Door personnel that persons stay long enough to communicate with one another after the special program has ended.

The pastor of Enon, Rev. Porter W. Phillips, Jr., and the Open Door personnel invite youto become a part of this rewarding and profitable experience on Friday, at the Arthur J. Payne Christian Center of Enon from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. No admission fee is required. Come and meet friendly people who care about you. Posters labeled "Watch for the Open Door" will be found in the church doorways to keep the public informed of future Open Door dates. Scheduled dates include May 27, June 24, July 22, and September 23, 1977.

Co-Chairpersons for the Open Door Planning Committee are Mr. Frank Porter and Miss Dorlene TallIver. Other members include M's Luella Armstrong, M's Brenda Avery, Mr. Donald Bailey, Mrs. Elizabeth Bourne, Mrs. Andrey Crawford, Mrs. Christine Fanderson, M's Elizabeth Fletcher, Mrs. Ellen Howard, M's Rosie Johnson, M's Pearlette Lansey, Mrs. Pearl Matthews, Miss Cherryl Murphy, M's Geraldine Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Shelton and Miss Sherri Todd.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CELEBRATES JUNE 5

1,700 members do the impossible, pay $750,000 for church in 5 years

By Elizabeth M. Oliver, City Editor

Some 1,700 members make financial contributions each month.

This is part of the secret to the accomplishment of the great task of paying in full in five years the cost of the new $750,000 Southern Baptist Church building at 1701 Chester St.

The mortgage burning and appropriate ceremonies celebrating the historic accomplishment are set for all day Sunday, June 5 at the beautiful church which dominates the Eastside scene.

The Rev. Nathaniel Higgs, 45, one of the youngest ministers in Baltimore, is pastor and head of the congregation which has at least 1,000 persons actively taking part in all church affairs each week.

The new building, contructed during the years 1970 to 1972, has some 250 ushers taking part in various services which begin at 7:45 a.m. each Sunday.

There are 400 men, women and children singing on the various choirs. A citywide bus ministry goes to the elderly and handicapped. An average of 175 new members have been added to the rolls each year.

* * *

Southern Baptist Church was organized Easter Sunday in April, 1931 home of Deacon Davis in the 1300 block Ashland Ave.

The church itself was located on Spring and Mulliken Streets. First services were called by the Rev. James R. Call

The Rev. Mr. Call had just left Fountain Baptist Church as its pastor and an overflowing crowd of members followed him to Southern.

As membership increased, larger quarters were sought and Southern moved to Eager and Bond Streets in an old theatre building.

Expenses were taken care of by rallies, plays and suppers. Later the church moved to a warehouse which could seat at least 300 at Aisquith and Orleans.

The Rev. James R. Grant succeeded the Rev. Mr. Call who died June 21, 1937.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Grant also increased membership and the building at Preston and Bond Streets was purchased and later as the congregation grew, built a church at Chester and Lanvale Streets.

The Rev. Mr. Grant died Oct. 4, 1965.

The present pastor, the Rev. Mr. Higgs, was elected in 1966 and installed in February, 1967.

Married and father of four sons and three daughters, the Rev. Mr. Higgs is a graduate of Virginia Seminary and is presently studying at Hampton Institute during the summer.

* * *

He is member and elected official of the United Baptist Missionary Convention of Maryland; a trustee of the Maryland Baptist Religious School, a subsidiary of the Virginia Seminary; member of the Ministers Conference of Baltimore and Vicinity and assistant Sunday School commentator of the Ministers Conference.

He is also member of the Pastors' Conference, its first vice president and was the 1977 chairman of the Baltimore Citywide Revival.

Eight members of Southern Baptist congregation are enrolled in theology and Christian education. Finances have grown under the Rev. Mr. Higgs over 175 percent since 1976 and some $20,000 has been contributed for Home and Foreign Missions.

The Sunday, June 5 services marking the mortgage burning are set for 7:45 a.m.; 10:45 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. with the general public invited.

Beware of hypertension

According to a national survey, 162,000 Maryland residents should be wary of uncontrolled hypertension that could lead to a stroke, heart disease or kidned failure.

The national survey, sponsored by tht CIBA Pharmaceutical Co., was base on measurements of blood pressures of more than one million persons in 1,170 communities in 42 states

The study was made in conjunction with the federally funded National High Blood Pressure Education Program.

Dr. Marvin Moser, senior medical consultant to the program, said hypertension cannot be cured, but it can be controlled with diet and drugs to reduce death and disability from complications. (UPI)
