The top student who wouldn't shut up

DONNA STEWART

Did Donna's graduation speech pull cover off secrets at city's biggest school?

Black rage at Lake Clifton

By Clarence W. Hunter
AFRO Staff Writer

THE STEWART VIEW

Don't look for Ms. Donna Stewart at any of the reunions of the Lake Clifton Class of 1977.

THE MOSLEY VIEW

"I can afford to be arrogant," said Boyse F. Mosley, principal of Lake Clifton High School from his plush office, "because I back rhetoric with deeds." (Continued on Page 2)

City workers threaten mass walk-out

Will Schaefer defy judge, risk jail?

Mayor Schaefer is between the devil and the deep.

He did not go along with Judge Martin B. Greenfeld's Baltimore City Court order to give city employees their increments.

Instead he filed an appeal and asked the state court to throw out the Greenfeld decision.

Next he hurled the threat that he will lay off another 600 city employes and/or raise taxes another 15 to 20 cents "if he has to" to balance the budget.

In essence, if he continues this route Schaefer will be defying the court's and the union's demands for the increments.

Further, he is denying the union's charges that he could avoid any layoffs and balance the budget easily if he would turn loose the millions of dollars of taxpayers' money he has hidden and splurged on ships and rugs.

HOW FAR WILL HE GO?

The question then arises, "How far is Schaefer willing to go to ram his budget through?"

If his appeal to the state's highest court fails, will he risk contempt of court or jail?

With only a few days until the July 1 deadline for the 1978 budget, there is hardly a possibility of the U.S. Supreme Court's hearing the case. However, the mayor's press aide, Paul Samuels, says he does not know what step will come next if the state court appeal fails.

Thursday Samuels quoted the mayor as saying he feels the union has a right to picket, but he says a strike would be "il- (Continued on Page 2)

$ 'Mr. Fro' gives it up again $

MR. FRO WITH DOUGH delivered $10.00 to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas (Helen) Beverly of the 3100 block of Tioga Parkway. They had the AFRO in their home when Mr. Fro called them by telephone and were able to answer his question about an article on that issue's front page.

Mr. Fro with Dough gave away his second $100 check to an east Baltimore student who aimed at the lucky number board and hit her number with all the skill she needed.

Marcella Valentine, 37, of 4821 Gilray Drive cashed in on $110 dollars as she hit number 205 with a dart and jumped for joy with shouts of "I can't believe it! I won!"

The Special Education Senior at Coppin State College said she could use the money to pay her tuition, and was surprised because she had never won anything before.

Her daughter, Christy, 8, tracked down the Fromobile and said, "Hey, mister, My mother has the AFRO in our home."

Four other lucky winners received $10 during Mr. Fro's AFRO in the home lucky winner contest.

Top cops hold summit

By Elizabeth M. Oliver

The June 21-25 first annual conference of Black Law Enforcement Executives will assemble in Atlanta, Ga. with 150 highest ranking police officers arriving from every state in the nation.

Among them will be Baltimore's finest, Col. Bishop L. Robinson, only US chief of patrol who heads the (Continued on Page 2)

VIVIAN REED is singing and dancing her way to super stardom in the Broadway hit "Bubbling Brown Sugar." The musical begins June 21 at the Mechanic Theatre.

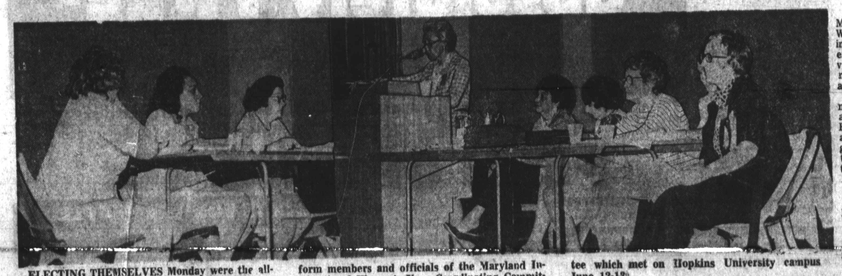
Avon just had to bubble with 'brown sugar' at home

Avon Long, Baltimore's favorite son, will co-star with Vivian Reed in "Bubbling Brown Sugar," the Broadway smash musical revue, opening at the Morris Mechanic Theatre on Tuesday, June 21.

Both Avon Long and Miss Reed have triumphed in "Sugar" since 1975. When Avon Long learned that the production was headed for Baltimore, he requested a sabbatical leave from the New York company to appear locally, which was instantly granted by the show's producers.

"Bubbling Brown Sugar" celebrates some of the more famous people, places, music and night spots of Harlem 1910-1940, bubbling with the memorable music of Duke Ellington, Eubie Blake, Billie Holiday, Andy Razaf, Cab (Continued on Page 2)

Md. International Women's unit remains white, uppity



ELECTING THEMSELVES Monday were the all-white but one (Mrs. Sylvia Law, second left) platform members and officials of the Maryland International Women's Year Coordinating Committee which met on Hopkins University campus June 12-13.

Under direction of the Maryland International Women's Year Coordinating Committee, the conference here on Hopkins University campus June 12-13 remained white-dominated and uppity.

Protestors have set a meeting for June 25, 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Waverly Elementary School, E. 34th and Friesby Sts., and invite groups and individuals interested in a new organization to call 323-2628 or 889-1223 for information.
