3,000 international delegates due here for church confab

The 12th Annual Convocation of the United Church of Jesus Christ Apostolic convenes June 19 at the newly acquired property, the old Samuel Ready School.

The 5150 Baltimore National Pike estate now bears the name of the church's presiding prelate and founder, Bishop Monroe R. Saunders and is called the Monroe Saunders Center for Creative Learning.

Some 3,000 persons are expected to attend the meeting which extends through Sunday June 25. Delegates are attending from the 50 states, Canada, England and Jamaica, West Indies.

Highlights of the week-long programs include the workshops on health, the family, pastoral administration, hymnology and church history. Bishop Saunders will hold teaching sessions each day from 2 to 4 p.m.

The 7:30 p.m. evening general worship services are set for each day with various districts presiding. The June 22 National Women's Department event will begin with a prayer and praise breakfast at 8 a.m.

The National Youth Department will have charge of activities Saturday, June 21 and will hold special service in the evening featuring the Mass Youth Choir.

The Board of Bishops includes Presiding Bishop Saunders; Bishops Sydney Dunn, Birmingham, England, vice-bishop; Wilfred Penman, Kingston, Jamaica, W.I.; Frank Saunders, Florence S.C.; Samuel Robinson, Darliston, Jamaica, W. I.; George Owens, Goldsboro, N.C.

For information call Monroe R. Saunders Jr., 542-5800.

Mrs. Mary Jones 64, active in Lewin Church

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Isabelle Jones, 64, were held June 14, at Lewin United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Jones, of the 4900 blk. Beaufort Ave., was an active and longtime member of the church.

The Rev. St. George Crosse, pastor, officiated at the services.

Mrs. Jones sang on the choir and was noted for her dedicated service as a den mother to the church Boy Scout troop.

Born in Baltimore, Mrs. Jones was the daughter of the late William and Bertha Anderson Jones. The family lived for many years on East 23rd St., in the Govans section of Baltimore.

The deceased was a graduate of Douglass High School and the Cortez Peters Business School. For many years, she was employed as head of the pantry at the Woodholme and Baltimore country clubs. She also provided catering services for private groups. She was famous for her decorative gelatin molds.

She had been active until October 1977, when she was stricken with cancer. She had been hospitalized, first at Sinai, and later at the Mt. Sinai Nursing Home. She died at the hospital.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Myrna Christopher Brown, Fredericksburg, Va.; grandchildren, William and Andrewnetta Harris, both of Fredericksburg; and Jessie, who lives in Germany with her husband, Sgt. James Medina, and their son, James Jr.

Burial was in Westview Memorial Park. The Rice Funeral Home was in charge.

—St.Bernardine

There are many planned activities for members of St. Bernardine's as part of their anniversary celebration. Among activities scheduled are a cocktail sip, crab feast, roller skating party, back to school soul disco and several trips.

"When Jesus ran out of wine, he made some more. He enjoyed being with his people and he partied with his people."

"Instead of telling them a lot of things not to do, teach them to use what they have," said Father Miller.

Teenagers who formerly were seen hanging on street corners in Edmondson Village are now involved in activities at St. Bernardine's Church.

Father Blackwell stated teenagers will stop at the church just to talk or ask for advice. The church has distributed colorful T - shirts, buttons with the church dome on it and several other items as part of the anniversary celebration.

Jehovah's Witnesses to hold conventions

Anyone visiting RFK Memorial Stadium in Washington, D.C. June 11 would have been greeted with the sight of 8,000 people comprised of families in the Baltimore - Washington area combing the entire stadium, cleaning seats, floors, equipment, walls, practically everything in sight.

These were families of Jehovah's Witnesses volunteering their labor and skills to get everything in good order for one of the 20 international conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses to take place in 17 different cities throughout the United States during the summer of 1978.

Paul W. Jones, spokesman for the Baltimore congregations said 48,000 persons from the Baltimore - Washington area are expected at RFK Stadium in Washington from June 14 to 18 to attend the sessions which begin at 10 a.m. June 14 to 16 and 9 a.m. June 17 to 18.

Jones added that 760,000 persons are expected to attend the 20 conventions held in three languages: English, Spanish and French.

The theme of the conventions is "Victorious Faith."

"One of the greatest concerns we have as individuals," Jones said, "is where does one go to find real solutions to the problems we face in daily life and satisfying answers to the troubling questions we have about the present and the future.

"The convention program will show why we can put faith in the Bible as the Creator's source for providing those answers and solutions," he said.

Last rite held for Bruce Smith

Funeral services were held at Sharp Street Memorial United Methodist Church Saturday June 10 for Bruce Stephen Smith.

Mr. Smith died June 7 at Veteran's Hospital after a long illness. He was 79.

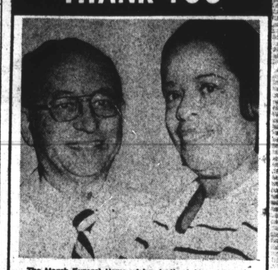
The son of the late William Henry and Mrs. Harriet Green Smith, Mr. Smith was born Sept. 23, 1898 in Richmond, Va. He attended the public schools in Richmond and after graduation attended Virginia Union University in Richmond.

An employee of the Postal Service for more than 41 years, Mr. Smith joined Sharp Street under the pastorate of the late M. J. Naylor.

Bruce Stephen Smith

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Smith; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Smith Faulcon and Mrs. Laura Smith Small and a host of nieces and nephews.

THANK YOU



The March Funeral Home wishes to thank its neighbors, business associates and many friends and well - wishers who joined us last week for the 3 - day dedication exercises of our new funeral home at 1101 East North Ave.
Through the help of God, we at March Funeral Home have been able to reach this milestone so that we can provide helpful, modern service in time of sorrow.
We shall ever be grateful to God and the community for its support. We pledge to continue to live up to the high standards we have set for professional funeral service.

288 Carver grads hear Rep. Mitchell

By Elizabeth M. Oliver

For 10 straight years, Carver Vocational High School has the enviable distinction of having Rep. Parren J. Mitchell as guest for commencement.

This June 1978 graduating class considered itself fortunate in yet another way. For the first time, the commencement was held on its own campus with honored guests, administration and supervisory personnel seated on a specially constructed platform designed and assembled by the school's carpentry students and Leon Williams.

The awning in the school's blue and white colors had scalloped fringes with a large white "C" in spaces.

Rep. Mitchell's talk was centered around the 1978 class song, "The Greatest" and Stevie's "I Write A Song."

Rep. Mitchell, Maryland's first black congressman urged the class to "make your mark in the world: write a song . . . a song of brotherhood, compassion, understanding, helping your fellow man, reaching out, becoming the best."

Some 288 seniors received high school diplomas or trade certificates awarded by School Commissioner Dr. Eugene Scott. John W. Belcher, principal, in awarding four memorial scholarships, made them in the name of Thomas Curtis, chief engineer, who loved Carver and its students. Carver was never closed due to a mechanical failure," he said in tribute to the man who died in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Barnes of the Carver staff presented Irone Cotton with two scholarships to the Community College of Baltimore in honor of Mrs. Barnes' parents, Linwood and Anna Dabney.

Leading graduates are Donna McNeil with a average of 97.95; Jacqueline Richardson with a three - year average of 94.28 and Wilbert Lewis with a three - year average of 92.28.
