

of Piety and Virtue.

At end: [To be concluded in the second number.]

DLC.

[726]

Du Pre, L.

The Morning Twilight: No. II. Being a series of Essays, progressively displaying The Harbinger of Peace and Rest. [short thick-thin rule] By L. Du Pre.

[short thin-thick rule] [8 lines, quotations] [thick-thin rule] Baltimore: Printed for the Author, by J. Robinson. 1809.

1 leaf, 37-70 p. 17.5 cm. D-F⁶.

The text begins and ends with incomplete sentences.

At end: [To be concluded in No. 3.]

Half-title (p. [61]): Essay the Third, The Eternity and Infinity of Light. See statement at end of Du Pre's Principles of a new Covenant (item 727).

RP.

[726A]

Du Pre, L.

The Principles of a new Covenant, or Social Compact; for the Animal Creation. [row of dots] By L. Du Pre.

[row of dots] [° lines, quotations] [filet] Baltimore: Printed for the Author. 1809.

92, [1] p. 16.5 cm. A-H⁶(H6 blank).

At end: Printed by J. Robinson, No. 1 N. Calvert street.

"It is proposed to continue this subject in a successional number of pamphlets ... Four successive numbers are now ready for the press, but subscribers are at liberty to subscribe for one or more of these numbers ... Baltimore, 15th May, 1809."—Advertisement, sig. H5.

DLC.

[727]

Fell's Point Circulating Library.

[Catalogue. Baltimore, S. Barnes? 1809?]

Referred to in a notice in the Baltimore Evening Post, Apr. 13, 1809, as "Those who hold Books, belonging to the above Library, are respectfully requested to return them punctually, according to the rules in the Catalogues ... Samuel Barnes."

No copy known.

[728]

The Female Friend; or the Duties of Christian Virgins; to which is added, Advice to a young married Lady. [filet] By F..... L..... Esq. [thick-thin rule] [3