Blocks on the Move

By Arnetta Lottier

Time is moving rapidly and Clean Blockers are busy all over town cleaning and beautifying their blocks. They are also most concerned about problems in their neighborhoods.

2900 Walbrook Ave., ias having a problem with a neighbor at 1923 N. Longwood about throwing his dog feces into the alley. Clean Blockers are tired of cleaning it up and it smells so terrible they can't sit on their porch.

Talked to a representative from Housing who said he will personally look into the matter, however, if any other Clean Blockers have a similar problem, call the Housing Inspector in your neighborhood.

They are also concerned about the 1921 Longwood St. neighbor who cut down his tree and put the cuttings in the alley.

Removing this debris is the responsibility of the person who had it cut down. City facilities are not used for this type of thing. The neighbor can get fined for not haying this debris moved.

2900 Walbrook St. is empty. Someone started fixing the proch last winter but never finished. They left the junk on the lawn and that along with tall grass is an eyesore to the block and neighbors want this problem corrected. Call Ms. Mereida Goodman Housing and Community Development - 396 - 1153.

1818 N. Montford Ave. is complaining about rat holes in some of the yards. We talked to Claude Patterson, Rat Eradication and he says before they can bait for rats, neighbors must make sure everything is clean first, otherwise it doesn't make sense to bait because the rats will come right back. Since you say your alleys are clean, call Mr. Patterson, 396 -7710.

1700 N. Montford Ave. needs the alley on the even side of their street cemented.

2300 Druid Hill Ave. Clean Blockers, (new block) were upset at the lady who owns two houses in the block but lives in the county.

Her tenants had beautiful tire urns beside each house filled with flowers but when the owner came and saw them she made the tenants have them removed because she personally does not like tire urns.

Neighbors felt the tenants should be able to keep them in the front to make the block look uniform.

It's too bad when people impose their will on others even though they own where a person lives. Since this was a harmless matter and it makes others happy, it seems like a small thing to ask.

We'll make sure the judges know this when they come through this block so they won't take off points because of this.

The sewers in this block also need cleaning out. Call George Parrish, Consumer Services, 396 - 3166.

1400 Holbrook St. is still having a problem with the alley on the southwest corner constantly being littered by unknown persons. Neighbors should start being block watchers to find out who the culprit is. Call Dickie Burke, Police Department, Community Relations, 396 - 2433. He might also be able to help you with the problem of hoodlums in the area.

900 N. Chapel St. Clean Blockers want the neighbor at 930 to stop throwing garbage out the window. It's causing rats. Hope your neighbor will cooperate but if she doesn't, call Housing and Community Development office, 413 N. Caroline St., Maurice Woodrum - 396 - 8198.

1800 Presbury St. Clean Blockers want the Dodge Station wagon with Virginia license plates removed. Car has been there a year.

2300 Madison Ave. neighbors want to get rid of the stray dogs and cats in the neighborhood. Call Lloyd Ross, Animal Shelter (if you can reach him)

500 N. Fulton Ave. has two houses 541, 543, that need to be boarded up. They have been vacant for two years. Call Ms. Mereida Goodman, Housing and Community Development, 396 - 1153.

Send Cheer

Two Clean Blockers are in the hospital at the present time. Both need your prayers and notes or cards of cheer.

Mrs. Mary James, 2000 Sinclair Lane Clean Block Advisor, is back in Johns Hopkins Hospital. She is in Osler 6, room 658.

Miss Anna Harris, daughter of Clean Block Captain, Mrs. Lucille Harris, 781 W. Saratoga St., Lexington - Poe Homes is seriously ill in University Hospital.

These community leaders of the Greater Model Community Center stand in front of a block long vegetable garden they started on a lot where houses had been torn down. It is one of five they have started in the area. Shown here from left are: Mrs. Ruth Kirk, co-captain, 300 N. Carey St. and director, Greater Model Community Center; Michael Robinson, volunteer work-site supervisor and Mrs. Ora Weathers, Clean Block captain, 300 N. Carey St. and assistant director to Mrs. Kirk.

Carey Street Clean Blockers turn lots into vegetable gardens

By Sheila D. Scott

AFRO Clean Blockers in the 300 block N. Carey Street are making an effort to revitalize their community by taking over vacant lots and turning them into vegetable and flower gardens.

They were concerned about the number of vacant lots in their community filled with trash, high grass and other refuse.

They expressed their concerns to their elected delegates chosen from their neighborhood to represent them at the Urban Service board meeting.

Several neighbors contacted the owners of the vacant lots and received contracts for the land.

Mrs. Ruth Kirk, a Clean Persons in the community can come in and pick vegetables from the garden as they need it." Blocker, 300 N. Carey St. and chairperson of the Greater Model Community Council says, "This is the first time this has ever been done before.

There are 28 young people who are involved in this project, and they take care of the gardens.

Greater Model Community Center Adopt - A - Lot, has five vegetable gardens and one flower garden.

The first garden was begun last June at Fairmount and Shroeder Streets, and from this humble beginning, others began sprouting.

The neighbors submited a proposal to the Youth Department of Urban Services and tools and seeds were provided this year.

Mrs. Ora Weathers, AFRO Clean Blocker, is vice-chairman of the Greater Model Community Council. Of the community effort, Mrs. Weathers says, "we care and because of the interest we've shown, others have been encouraged to join this effort."

Mrs. Kirk and Mrs. Weathers are among several of the adult volunteers who receive no pay, but willingly give of their time.

The 28 young people are working in the gardens for the summer and are paid through Baltimore Summer Corp and The Youth Entitlement Program. These young people ranging in age from 15 to 17, work diligently, planting seeds, raking, digging and weeding. Several young adults are on hand to serve as work site supervisors.

Mrs. Kirk says, "we believe we are doing the Lord's will, for He told Peter, 'if you have affection for me, feed my little sheep.'"

Mrs. Ethel White, a neighbor says, "I never thought, I'd live to see this. I was so happy when they started the gardens." Before the neighbors cleaned the lot and planted a garden, there was glass and trash.

Mrs. Clarice Pitts, secretary of Urban Services and a member of the advisory council of Greater Model Community Center, says several events have been planned for August. Among these are a splash party, dedication of swimming pool, and a bazaar.

The members of the Greater Model Community Council include Mrs. Ruth Kirk, chairperson, Mrs. Ora Weathers, vice chairperson, and the following members Mesdames Annie Green, Ruth Sye, Martha Jackson, Alice Jews, albert Harris, and Flora Williams.

The Greater Model Community Center has made a start in revitalizing their community. It would be well for other neighborhoods to follow suit, for it reveals that the harvest truly is plentiful if the laborers are.
