AIDS TO RESEARCH

Every honest archivist must be deterred in his collecting activities by the prohibitive cost of making records available. Simply to store them in the vault area serves only to remove them from the use of all but the most expert. It is, of course, not always possible to provide finding aids at once for all types of records, but microfilm has offered a solution in the case of county records where an index has been maintained in the office of origin. All the indexes listed below are on microfilm except that for the Queen Anne's County Land Records. In that case we were given an older original index which was discarded some years ago by the Clerk of the Court in favor of a new and more convenient work.
