Dr. Hilbert D. Stanley

Cheers! Cheers!

To Ernest and Gail Kromah, who on Sunday August sixth opened the Kromah Art Gallery at 1203 Druid Hill Avenue. This gallery features portrait photography, fine arts and plants and is certainly a delight to visit.

The works of Mr. Kromah and fifteen other black artists deck the walls and floors of the three room area which opens onto a courtyard which also sometimes serves as a display area for both the works of art and the plants.

Works are done in oils, prints, water colors, colored pencil drawings, collage, ceramics, wood, carvings and photography, both current and restored. There are beautiful wall hangings and intricate handcrafted jewelry of various types.

Welch-Nicholson nuptials united prominent families

By Mabs Kemp

Miss Lynn Patrice Welch recently became the bride of Myron Vernon Nicholson. The marriage was solemnized at Plymouth Congregational Church by the Rev. Theodore S. Ledbetter who was assisted by the Rev. Forrest C. Stith of Baltimore.

Approximately 600 guests witnessed the rainbow, candlelight wedding which was one of the most beautiful and impressive of the current wedding season.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of silk satapeau by Maurer which featured an illusionary neckline with a stand-up collar, long bishop sleeves appliqued and edged in reembroidered Alencon lace. The back was accented with 40 buttons from collar to waist.

Medallions of lace studded with seed pearls and crystals were appliqued to the center of the skirt, edging and Chapel train which converted into a bustle. The triple-tiered walking veil, edged with a double row of seed pearls was attached to a matching headpiece highlighted with lace, crystals and pearls.

The wedding party included Adrienne E. Daniels of Baltimore, maid of honor; Toni E. Gray, District Heights, Md.; Deborah Nicholson, Columbia, Md.; Shelia Reid, Largo, Md., Deborah Robinson, Landover; Stephanie Smith, Laurel; Debra D. Casey, Mt. Holly, N.J.; Bonnie Robinson, Denver, Colo.; Carol Ann Burwell, D.C., bridesmaids.

Karin L. Welch, sister of the bride and Donna M. Daniels served as junior bridesmaids. Kiya S. Perrin was the flower girl, Master Stephen E. Hill ring bearer and Master Gregory A. Walls was acolyte.

Nicholson was attired in a white Seville cutaway edged in black. Groomsmen attired in complimentary dress and completing wedding party were, Herbert J. Clinton of Baltimore who stood in for the best man, Ensign Alpha O. Nicholson III, brother of the bridegroom, stationed in Yokosuka, Japan; Joseph Harley, William H. Welch, Aaron Gibson, Phillip Weatherford, Gary Faucette, Curtis Gibson, Curtis Gibson, Arthur Dorsey, and Mike Wise.

The rainbow color scheme was carried out in the bridemaids' bouquets and their gowns of voile which featured a halter neckline, full skirt with a deep flounce at the hem, and with an insertion of ivory lace, and a triangular scarf shoulder wrap. Matching wide - brim hats complimented the gowns. Shirts and boutonniers of the groomsmen were coordinated with the colors of the gowns of the maids.

A buffet reception was held at the Rayburn House Office Building.

The wedding cake which was a conversation piece, was an array of 10 pudding cakes with connecting stairways on which stood replicas of the members of the wedding party. Decorated in rainbow colors, the four main cakes were supported by a three - tiered electric fountain. Two white doves, holding a wedding band, stood atop a small cake above the miniature bride and bridegroom.

MR. AND MRS. MYRON V. NICHOLSON

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving L. Welch Jr., of Landover, Md., is a 1975 graduate of Towson State University and presently a teacher with the National Child Care Association of Maryland School of Medicine.

The bride's paternal grandparents are Irving L. Welch Sr., of D.C. and the late Mrs. Selena E. Welch. Her maternal grandmother is the late Mrs. Rose V. Edwards, also of D.C.

After a brief honeymoon in Santo Domingo and Haiti, the couple will reside in Laurel, Md.

Renown designer, Ludenda Daniel, coordinated the fashionable wedding.

Travis and Company tour Paris

Baltimore's Paris is now in Paris!

A group of Baltimore's most exciting models jetted to Paris, France on Tuesday afternoon for a 10 - day modeling tour.

Eleven of this city's high - style fashion models, headed by Travis Winkey, owner and director of the Travis Winkey Modeling Studio will be performing for Paris audiences both as a group and as individuals.

The group is very hopeful that some of the group will be contracted on both temporary and permanent basis by some of the most popular fashion agencies in the world.

"Since I opened the studio, I always told myself and my models that someday we were going to tour New York City. About two years ago we reached that goal," said Mr. Winkey.

"We then wanted to go further and we knew we could do it and now we're off to glorious Paris!"

While in Paris the models will put on a fashion extravaganza at the Paris Hilton Hotel, perform on one of the main streets of the city, in addition to doing some independent modeling for Elite Modeling Agency.

One member of the group, Dyane Dennis has already been contracted by Elite for two months of continuous work. He is scheduled to tour not only Paris, but Italy, Rome, Germany, London, and Milan. Mr. Dennis is also assistant director of the Travis Winkey Studio.

Other models on the tour include Lynelle (Charlie) Gray, Hubert Feaster, Jennifer Faulk, Bruce Thornton, Crystal Clear, Gwyn Stevenson, 1978 Baltimore Female Model of the Year; Alfreda Robinson, Carmelita Coombs, Samra Lomax, and Aaron Thomas.

tattle-tales

YOU all know this so what's the use of telling it to you? You say you wanna hear it again in order to get it straight? Is that what you're saying, Dear Ones?

Of course, it ain't no big thing when you're simply filthy rich and have everything.

That's the way it is, you understand, with a good-looking young guy who is one of the big shots in the underworld. That child is the first of the Big Spenders.

Anyway, he plans a night spot for politicians.

Won't it be fun to hang out with the underworld knowing the joint won't be radided?

Newest playboy on the Charm City Scene is a carefree mortician who has done everything but go on TV to announce he loves pretty chicks.

Lately he's latched on to one he wishes he could tell the world about from Memorial Stadium center field. If he'd offer free beer, we'd help him pack the place and join the crowd just to see that affair.

Which one of you, our Dearest Fans and Loyal Ones, told us that one of the town's wealthiest is supporting each and everyone in the political race for governor and state's attorney so he can be with the winner come November?

Are you sure?

We even heard Mr. Big Bucks is backing one candidate to the hilt and threw him in the race, in order to split the vote. And guess who will slide through? The man they call the Devil Himself.

That new discotheque Giovanchy's is wild, sugars. You enter by sliding down a sliding board into a simply gorgeous room where its dance, dancd, dance.

And don't yall get the distinct feeling Lydell Mitchell wouldn't much care if he never donned a Colts uniform again? Can't say as we blame him, that team has become plain old dull.

And we don't weep for coach George Allen, not after all the brothers he burned out on the field with bad knees, backs and scrambled thoughts. Redskins Larry Brown shouldn't be weeping about his former coach who the Rams just fired either.

Who was it called George the Richard Nixon of football?

A TATTLER TALE FAN WRITERS:

Some time ago you wrote an article which indicated not to invite J. Randall Carroll Clerk of Common Pleas Court and Teresa Tutman — his bookkeeper to the same party. Sparks would fly!

Well, I just left a party that Mr. Carroll had at the Downtown Racquet Club and guess who came? Mrs. Tutman. No sparks, just interest and concern in his forthcoming election.

This does show that when the interest of our community is at stake we can put aside our personal problems in the best interest of all.

Well, dear's, that's what the reader saw.

Bye!
